BILL TO REDUCE TAX RATES WHEN

Measure for Reorgani-

— Praises Legislative Action.By BOYD F. CARROLL

JEFFERSON CITY, July 14—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today signed a bill requiring local authorities to reduce tax rates whenever real estate or personal property assessments are increased 10 per cent or more over the previous year's level. The bill carried an emergency clause which made it effective on signing.

The Governor also signed a bill providing for a reorganization of the State Department of Corrections which is designed to correct many of the conditions that led to last year's destructive riot at the State Penitentiary here.

The tax rate law requires a reduction in levies sufficient to produce the same amount of revenue as would have been produced under the old assessments. It applies regardless of whether the increased assessments arise through action of the State Tax Commission in ordering such increases or whether the assessment rise is the result of local action.

Time Factor.

If the increase in assessments has been made after the tax rate has been determined or is in the process of being levied, then the local taxing authorities shall "immediately revise and lower the rates of levy to the extent necessary to produce from all taxable property substantially the same amount of taxes as previously estimated to be produced by the original levy."

(At Clayton County Supervisor Luman F. Matthews expressed satisfaction with Gov. Donnelly's action in signing the bill. He said it would assure taxpayers there would be no unjust rise adding that county authorities had intended to reduce the rates on their own initiative to compensate for the higher assessments.)

(He pointed out, however, that since the assessments on personal property, merchandise, and other bodies legally authorized to make levies. This would include special road districts, fire protection districts, sewer districts, library districts and others.)

Taxing Authorities Listed.

Local taxing authorities are defined by the act as county courts, city councils, school boards, township boards and other bodies legally authorized to make levies. This would include special road districts, fire protection districts, sewer districts, library districts and others.

A safeguard to prevent school districts from suffering from a reduction in state aid as a result of increasing the assessment was written into the act. Generally, the districts with the lowest valuations receive the greatest proportionate amount of state aid.

The act provides that the revenue to be produced by the reduced rate shall be substantially the same as previously "plus such additional amounts as may be necessary to offset the district's reduction in apportionment of state school monies due to the increased valuation."

Another safeguard provides that no levies for public schools or libraries shall be reduced below a point that would entitle them to participate in state funds.

In stating that each taxing authority shall certify the reduced

FINAL REPORT ON PERESS
BLASTS ARMY FOR ERRORSSenate Investigators Accuse Pentagon of Bungling, Hiding Facts, Red Tape, Delay.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (UP)—The Senate investigating subcommittee today officially closed the case of former Maj. Irving Peress with a scathing report, filed in the Senate today, which accused the Army of bungling it and hiding the facts.

The subcommittee's report, filed in the Senate today, gave this answer to the question which Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep., Wis.), asked last year, "Who promoted Peress?"

"Individual errors in judgment, lack of proper coordination, ineffective administrative procedures, inconsistent application of existing regulations, and excessive delays."

Senator John L. McClellan (Dem., Ark.), subcommittee chairman, said the report was approved by himself and Senators Henry M. Jackson (Dem., Wash.), Stuart Symington (Dem., Miss.), Sam Ervin (Dem., N.C.), North Carolina's McClellan, and Karl E. Mundt (Rep., N.J.).

The Associated Press said the subcommittee report blamed 48 errors and Army red tape for the discharge of Peress.

(The report ticked off names, dates, and incidents in a list of the 48 errors it reported in handling the case. It said the Army has made some "procedural changes" in handling such cases but should make more of them, and added: "Failure of the responsible Army officials to effect most of these changes before the Peress case became an incident of national interest is inexcusable."

(The report said that Maj. Gen. Miller B. White, then president of the Army personnel board, had recommended that Peress be kicked out of the Army, but in doing so had cited "a nonexistent regulation" and another regulation "under which the action recommended could not be taken."

(Among others guilty of errors in the case, the report said, were Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, deputy Army chief of staff, who testified he wished he had held up the discharge; Gen. Charles Bolte, then vice chief of staff; Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwickler, who was Peress's commanding officer; Lt. Gen. W. A. Burress, then First Army commander, and others.)

Senator George H. Bender (Dem., N.J.), subcommittee member, said the report was "a masterpiece of understatement."

GOVERNOR SIGNS
BILL FOR LATER
CLOSING OF BARS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 14—A bill authorizing St. Louis and Kansas City to permit later closing of bars Saturday nights was signed by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today.

If the local governing bodies change the hours, closing time may be as late as 1:30 a.m. Sunday, standard time. With daylight saving time in St. Louis, it could be 2:30 a.m.

The principal sponsors of the bill were from Kansas City. They said many traffic accidents occurred in a midnight rush from downtown to taverns still open outside the city.

Some bars have been opening at midnight Sunday for an hour and a half. That can be prohibited under the new law.

WRIGHT SUGGESTS PUPILS PICK AIR
ACADEMY DESIGN

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 14 (AP)—Architect Frank Lloyd Wright has proposed that America's high school students select a new design for the Air Academy, the Colorado Springs Free Press said today.

In a copyrighted story, the newspaper quoted Wright as suggesting in a letter that a "fresh start" be made on the new service academy. He proposed: 1. That a "nominally paid" competition be held among several architects selected for past experience in creative achievement.

2. That designs or "schemes" be submitted to a vote of the nation's high school students. Existing designs prepared by Skidmore, Owings and Merrill of Chicago have come under fire by critics whose chief target has been the proposed Air Academy chapel.

The House Appropriations Committee Tuesday recommended that no additional funds be spent for academy construction near Colorado Springs. Wright's design is "more firmly established."

Wright suggested payment of $100,000 to the architect selected.

BLAST TO WIDEN ROAD
SEPARATES TWO TOWNS

NAPLES, Italy, July 14 (AP)—Workers widening a narrow section of one of Europe's most beautiful scenic attractions—the winding seaside Amalfi drive south of Naples used a "little too much dynamite yesterday."

The blast knocked down a cliff, splitting Positano from Sorrento. Engineers estimated it would take two weeks to clear the road.

6 Days for Special Delivery Letter
To Travel 20 Blocks Irks Karsten

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 14—House Republicans, including Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, were ruffled yesterday by a Democratic charge that the Post Office Department under the G.O.P. administration is almost as slow as the pony express.

Representative Frank M. Karsten (Dem., St. Louis), took the floor for a brief speech assailing Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's department, which, he said, had failed to live up to 1952 G.O.P. promises for "more efficient and frequent mail delivery."

Karsten displayed two letters mailed with special delivery and three-cent stamps from his office to an address at 1023 Connecticut Avenue in Washington, about 20 blocks away. One took six days to arrive, the other four, he said. The pony express in 1890 took seven days to go from Missouri to California, he added.

But 95 years later "without horses" it takes Postmaster General Summerfield "from four to six days to deliver a special delivery letter approximately 20 blocks in the city of Washington," Karsten added.

Martin and two other Republicans jumped to their feet. The minority leader, obviously angry, demanded that Karsten yield the floor for rebuttal. Karsten went on, however, to finish his one-minute speech, and the presiding officer quieted things with his gavel.

LARSON SAYS HE HANDLED COSTLY
ZINC CONTRACTS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 14—Jesse Larson, former head of the Government's wartime stockpiling program, said today he would take full responsibility for approving zinc production contracts on which the Government lost money.

Larson and Howard I. Young of St. Louis, former deputy administrator of the stockpiling program, testified at a closed meeting of the Joint Committee on Defense Production. Young is president of American Zinc, Lead &amp; Smelting Co., a job he continued to hold while serving as an unpaid federal official from 1951 to 1953.

The joint committee is investigating charges by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell that there were apparent "conflicts of interest" and "laxity" in the stockpiling program under Young.

Larson told reporters after the closed session that he had "understanding" with Young that Government contracts with companies in which Young was interested would be handled by Larson.

In accordance with this arrangement, Larson said he directed negotiations with three mining companies which had dealings with American Zinc, Lead &amp; Smelting. The three companies obtained subsidy contracts from the Government.

"It was my decision to approve these cases," Larson said. "I was administrator of the new-defense Materials Procurement Agency and head of the General Services Administration, parent agency of the DMPA. Young was deputy administrator of the DMPA, which supervised stockpiling of strategic materials."

Sent to Nearest Mill. It was DMPA's custom "from an economic standpoint" to send zinc concentrates to the nearest mill for processing, Larson said.

For this reason, zinc purchased from the three mining companies in question was sent to Young's firm for smelting, he continued. Larson said American Zinc, Lead &amp; Smelting was considered to be the nearest reputable firm. Two of the mining firms were located in Kansas and one in Missouri.

Larson told reporters he continued to work for the company after he was named administrator of the DMPA. "I was not a consultant," he said. "I was an administrator."

FUGITIVE SEIZED
WHEN HE STOPS TO PRESS PANTS

HOUSTON, Tex., July 14 (AP)—Because he stopped to press his pants, an escaped murderer from the North Carolina State Penitentiary was arrested yesterday.

Baxter Parks Hunsacker, 38 years old, who has served 18 years of a 25-to-30-year sentence for the murder of a woman, was arrested as he was ironing his trousers in a rooming house.

"All I lacked was getting that other pants leg pressed," he told officers. "Then I would have been long gone."

The arrest ended Hunsacker's third and longest bid for freedom. He broke out in 1936 and in 1950 and was free a month each time.

A prison cook, Hunsacker said this time he fed the guards breakfast March 5 and walked away.

"I know it's silly to keep breaking out like this," Hunsacker said, adding that he was "bigger" because he has served more continuous time than any of the 1,000 inmates in the North Carolina prison system.

Hunsacker said he shot a man over a poker game in 1935 in Charlotte, N.C.

AEC MAN CALLS
DIXON-YATES PACT
BINDING ON U.S., STIRS DISPUTEDemocrats Charge Lawyer Has 'Given Up'
Before Negotiations
Open on Cancellation
Payment to Combine.By RICHARD DUDMAN
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 14—The general counsel of the Atomic Energy Commission, reversing an earlier position, now holds that the Dixon-Yates contract is "a valid and binding obligation of the Government."

Disclosure of the new legal opinion stirred up a new squall yesterday in the stormy Dixon-Yates controversy, which has lost none of its bitterness since President Eisenhower's order last Monday to cancel the power contract.

Some Democrats immediately charged that the AEC's chief lawyer, William Mitchell, was giving up before the start of negotiations to determine how much the Government must pay Dixon-Yates in cancellation charges.

"Playing Dead." Chairman Clinton P. Anderson of the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee on Atomic Energy told Mitchell he had "given up" before the other side presented its case—"had lain down and rolled over and was playing dead."

Senator John O. Pastore (Dem., Rhode Island) asked Mitchell: "Your opinion leads to complete liability and closes the door to any dispute, does it not?"

"Yes, sir," Mitchell replied. "I would expect your kind of statement from the attorney for the other side," Pastore went on. "On the basis of your opinion, the other side doesn't have to hire a lawyer."

Senator John O. Pastore (Dem., N.C.), North Carolina, asked Mitchell's view at the start of a meeting of the joint committee. Senator Anderson had summoned the full AEC to appear and tell what steps it was taking to cancel the contract.

Mitchell suggested he merely summarize his opinion and file executive session. There was general agreement that further public discussion might prejudice the Government's position in cancellation talks.

Pertinent Section. Mitchell told the committee: "I have concluded that the contract became effective Dec. 17, 1954, that it is a valid obligation of the Government and that section 8.15 does not limit its effectiveness."

Section 8.15 says "the obligations of the parties hereunder shall be subject to . . . the receipt of all regulatory approvals in form and substance satisfactory to the company, necessary to permit the company to perform all the duties and obligations to be performed by it hereunder or necessary to permit it to issue shares of its capital stock to the sponsoring company and to issue the indebtedness referred to herein."

Mitchell added: "The parties are obligated under the contract, and it is now a valid and binding obligation of the Government."

The AEC general counsel acknowledged that the contract conditions had not been met fully, since the Securities and Exchange Commission has not yet approved the Dixon-Yates plans to borrow $120,000,000. However, he termed the requirement a "condition subsequent" rather than a "condition precedent."

If the company were not able to borrow the money, he said, it would make some difference to history.

The party leader replied: "What matters to history is whether we do some good work in Geneva."

Khrushchev then tried to get away from reporters by saying: "Look, if I stand around talking to you boys, I'll miss one of these," and waved his champagne glass.

A reporter said he understood the Big Four leaders were going to Geneva on Saturday.

PERSONAL INCOME
RATE 301 BILLIONS
A YEAR IN MAY

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The Commerce Department said yesterday that a big boost in industrial payrolls pushed personal income to an annual rate of 301 billion dollars in May.

This is the first time the nation's personal income has gone over the 300-billion-dollar-a-year mark. The May figure was two billion dollars higher than in April.

The annual rate was arrived at by taking the figure for May, making allowances for seasonal factors and multiplying by 12. While industrial payrolls spurred, farm income dropped from about 15% to about 14% of the total.

MOSCOW, July 14 (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin told reporters tonight at a French embassy Bastille day party that the make-up of the Soviet delegation for Geneva—which includes Nikita Khrushchev and Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov as well as himself—means "that this will be a parley at the very summit."

Answering questions from Associated Press reporter Richard Kasichke, the United States Charge d'Affaires Walter Walsley, the Soviet Premier said: "The composition of our delegation is the very summit."

The Premier added: "For instance, how could we discuss disarmament at Geneva unless Defense Minister Zhukov came along?"

Asked to make a general statement on the Geneva conference, Bulganin replied: "We will do so tomorrow (9 a.m. St. Louis time) at a press conference in the Kremlin to which I invite you."

Believed to Be Unprecedented. (The United Press reported that Moscow observers said they believed it was the first press conference by a Soviet Premier since the Communists came to power 38 years ago in Russia.)

Asked whether he thought Zhukov and his old wartime colleague, President Eisenhower, would take up their personal relations at Geneva, Bulganin said: "The relations between President Eisenhower and Marshal Zhukov are personal relations. They will not particularly concern the Soviet government delegation."

Zhukov and Mr. Eisenhower have been in personal correspondence within the past year to help improve Soviet-American relations.

In Washington, Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder told newsmen he informed Mr. Eisenhower about inclusion of Zhukov in the Soviet delegation, but that the President had no comment.

Khrushchev said the Soviet delegation would leave for Geneva on Saturday.

He was asked: "Mr. Khrushchev, when was it decided that you would be part of the Soviet delegation?"

Difference to History. An Italian correspondent injected: "Mr. Khrushchev, it would make some difference to history."

The party leader replied: "What matters to history is whether we do some good work in Geneva."

Khrushchev then tried to get away from reporters by saying: "Look, if I stand around talking to you boys, I'll miss one of these," and waved his champagne glass.

Dulles Greeted in Paris

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew into Paris today to help put the finishing touches on Western strategy for the Big Four summit conference.

He was to confer today and tomorrow with French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan to complete coordination of Western policy for the Geneva talks.

They will meet Saturday with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council to outline the Western policy to their NATO partners' foreign ministers.

Informed that Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov were accompanying Premier Bulganin to Geneva, Dulles commented "that's normal."

"Great Hopes in the Air." In an airport statement, Dulles declared that "great hopes are in the air" that steps will be taken at Geneva toward a peace settlement "rich in human values."

The statement, taking cognizance that today is Bastille day, France's chief national holiday, said: "This is a day when the heart of the whole world beats with that of France and when liberty, equality and fraternity take on a new meaning."

"Our entire liberty seems the more precious as we sacrifice to make it secure and as we see those who, having had liberty, have lost it and now aspire to regain it."

Equality of nations is dramatized by the declaration that the North Atlantic Council of 15 nations, large and small, which meet here on Saturday to discuss, as sovereign equals, matters of common concern. Fraternity is represented by the spirit of collective security which finds high expression in the Atlantic community pledge of one for all and all for one.

"Great hopes are in the air. The last time I was here, just two months ago, it was to join in a common effort to bring the Republic of Germany into the Atlantic community and to go on to Vienna to sign the treaty which liberated Austria."

Now, as we prepare for Geneva, it is with conviction that the spirit of liberty, equality and fraternity will enable us to take new steps toward a peace which is rich in human values."

After reading his statement to reporters, Dulles went directly to the United States Embassy residence.

Allies 'See Eye to Eye.' Dulles declared that he left Washington last night "that agreement with Macmillan and Pinay would be easy to achieve. The Western Allies, he said, 'see eye to eye' on matters likely to come up when President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure sit down in Geneva with Soviet Premier Bulganin."

"This initial unity is a good beginning of our efforts to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on the stated purposes of the Geneva conference," Dulles said. Dulles said again that he expects the Geneva talks to lay the ground work for future harmony efforts rather than reach major decisions.

It is not to be expected that great decisions will be made there," the Secretary said. "What is to be hoped is that the Geneva conference will implement our unceasing quest for a secure and just peace and breathe a new spirit into the future efforts needed to achieve that result."

Faure Lists Main Topics. French Premier Faure at a news conference yesterday listed security, disarmament and German reunification as the three main problems for the summit meeting. Disarmament, he said, would promote security, which in turn would facilitate the ending of Germany's division.

With his cabinet's endorsement, Faure proposed that funds the major powers might save by disarmament be diverted to improvement of living conditions in underdeveloped areas. He suggested that each of the four great powers slice off a percentage of sums now spent on munitions and use this money as a joint fund for aid.

Nations contributing arms money to international development projects could not easily find funds to bring their arms programs back to the earlier level, he added. Faure emphasized that the Big Four will be in a "rational blackout on beds."

33 STILL MISSING
IN SINKING OFF
MEXICAN COAST

VERACRUZ, Mexico, July 14 (AP)—Rescue vessels searched the rough waters of the Gulf of Campeche today for 33 persons missing following the sinking of a crowded coastal passenger boat.

The 145-ton Flecha sank Tuesday night 40 minutes after sailing from Veracruz, but the disaster did not become known until yesterday when fishing boats picked up 31 survivors and the bodies of two children.

All those aboard the vessel were believed to be Mexicans. The Flecha sinking was the second marine disaster of the day in the Caribbean area. Early yesterday a Liberian oil carrier, the Sun Princess, rammed and sank the 615-ton British freighter Geologist off Trinidad. Nineteen crewmen of the Geologist were missing and the body of another was recovered.

Carrying 66 Persons. The Flecha went down about four miles off Veracruz. It was bound for the port of Progreso on the Yucatan peninsula. Coast Guard vessels and fishing boats searched throughout the night for survivors.

A rescued crewman said the Flecha was carrying at least 66 persons. Its sailing list showed 32 passengers and a crew of 14 aboard, but many of those rescued were not on the list.

The cause of the sinking has not been determined. Heavy storms had swept the Gulf area and survivors told of struggling against towering waves before being rescued. They said the ship went down so rapidly there was little time for launching lifeboats.

Hope of finding additional survivors from the sinking off Trinidad faded last night after a day-long air and sea search. Twenty-two survivors from the Geologist were picked up by the Sun Princess.

Five Britons Missing. Fourteen of the missing crewmen and the man whose body was recovered were West Indians signed on at Barbados Tuesday. The other five missing were Britons.

The Geologist went down within five minutes after the Sun Princess tore a hole in its side. Crew members picked up in the shark-infested waters included the skipper, Albert Jackson of Liverpool.

The Geologist was en route to Maracaibo, Venezuela, with a general cargo, including more than 1200 cases of whisky and nearly 100 British automobiles. The 5221-ton Sun Princess, loaded with bauxite for Canada, suffered little damage.

EISENHOWER WILL DISREGARD PART OF DEFENSE FUND BILL HE SIGNED

Asserts Rider to Let Congress Veto Plans for Closing Facilities Such as Arsenals Is Invalid.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed the $31,882,000,000 defense appropriations bill yesterday, although he said he would disregard one section of it as unconstitutional until the courts rule otherwise.

The President objected to a "rider" giving congressional committees the power to block any defense Department plans to shut down government shipyards, arsenals and the like.

Mr. Eisenhower said it violated the constitutional injunction that the branches of Government shall be independent.

If the money was not urgently needed by the Defense Department for its operations in the new fiscal year, Mr. Eisenhower said in a message to Congress, "I would have withheld my approval of the bill."

The President's avowed intent to disregard the provision until the courts tell him to abide by it brought Republican praise and Democratic denunciation in Congress today.

Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts told the House the President's statement was "an act of nullification."

Representative Clarence Brown (Rep., Ohio), called the provision "terrible" and "the worst kind of demagoguery" and said it ought to be repealed.

Senator Ellender (Dem., Louisiana), said the Eisenhower message could bring "relations on other things from Congress," and he added: "He can't exist without us. We can exist without him."

Senator Mundt (Rep., South Dakota), said the President showed "courage and integrity" in his refusal to sign the bill.

Representative Sikes (Dem., Florida), protested "this country is not under martial law."

The White House today made public the text of a legal opinion by Attorney General Brownell which the President based his decision on.

Brownell traced the controversy over separation of executive and legislative powers back to the days of President Washington. He concluded with advice to Mr. Eisenhower that the disputed provision "serves to usurp power conferred to the executive branch" and therefore "is violative of the fundamental constitutional principle of separation of powers."

Brownell held that "if the practice of attaching invalid conditions to legislative enactments were permissible it is evident that the constitutional system of separability of the branches of government would be placed in the gravest jeopardy."

He said that in his opinion a decision to ignore the disputed section "does not affect the validity of the remaining provisions."

The President made no protest against the relatively minor cuts Congress made before sending him the appropriations bill to run the defense establishment in the fiscal year which started July 1.

The rider to which he objected, attached originally by a House subcommittee, says the Defense Department must give Congress 90 days' advance notice if it intends to transfer to civilian enterprise any of the activities it has been performing with civilian personnel.

These activities range from shipbuilding and ammunition making to the manufacture of paint, rope and many other items.

The provision goes on to provide that when such notice is given of an intent to abandon such a business activity, the appropriations committee of either branch of Congress may exercise veto power.

Believed to Fear Shutdowns. While no one said so directly, it was evident that support for the provision came from Congress members anxious lest some Federal activity of the sort in their districts be closed down.

The Administration, on the other hand, has placed emphasis on what it calls a need to get the Government out of businesses which could be handled by private enterprise.

Mr. Eisenhower urged repeal of the section. Since Congress is driving for adjournment within a few weeks, action this year was regarded as unlikely.

Eisenhower also criticized another rider in the bill. He said the second one "virtually precludes the service from considering the purchase of foreign-made spun silk for cartridge cloth."

Calling for early repeal of this he said: "By making it virtually impossible for our friends abroad to sell us goods when such goods are materially less expensive to our taxpayers than those that can be procured domestically, such provisions could effect a deadly attrition to our whole international trade policy and bring about impairment of our relations with other nations."

Sounds in the Night. INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Arthur C. Volpp, 42, owner of a supermarket here, was awakened one night by a strange noise in his market many blocks away. He called police, who arrested a would-be burglar at the rear of the market. Volpp has an intercommunication system from his market to his bedroom.

PRESIDENT SAID TO SEEK CABINET SALARY BOOSTS

Concern Reported Over Resignations Because Of Heavy Expenses In Capital.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The Eisenhower Administration was reported today prepared to ask Congress to increase salaries of cabinet officers and a few other top Government executives.

Chairman Bridges (Rep., New Hampshire), of the Senate G.O.P. Policy Committee said the measure would be sent to Congress only if congressional leaders decide passage would be possible without delaying congressional adjournment scheduled around the end of this month.

He said President Eisenhower is concerned over resignations of some ranking officials who plead financial inability to live in Washington and still maintain a residence at home.

Bridges and other G.O.P. leaders have been asked to sound out both Democratic and Republican sentiment and report to the White House within a day or two. Bridges said the policy committee has come to no decision.

Already this year Congress has voted pay increases to career military personnel, to postal employees and other rank-and-file civil service workers and to its own members. The Congress boost was from $15,000 a year to $22,500.

The proposed Eisenhower measure, Bridges said, would increase for top-ranking federal officials came five years ago.

Bridges said the proposed pay increase probably could win quick Senate passage if it affected only Government officials whose salaries are set by specific law, such as cabinet members and members of quasi-judicial agencies such as the Federal Trade Commission.

The measure, written by the White House, however, would extend into the top-grade classified pay area, Bridges said, thus confronting Congress with the problem of gearing it to the civil service pay increase voted earlier this year.

PILOT KILLED IN JET CRASH WAS LT. JAMES WURTZEL

LANDSTUHL, Germany, July 14 (UP)—The United States Air Force has identified a pilot killed in a collision between two jets as Lt. James Wurtzel, of Sunbury, Pa.

Wurtzel was killed Monday when his aircraft collided 25,000 feet above the Rhine-Main airport outside Frankfurt with a jet piloted by Lt. James R. Matthews of Springfield, Colo., who parachuted to safety.

Wurtzel's body was found in a woods after the crash. He apparently had parachuted successfully but was critically injured either in the ejection or in the landing. The Air Force said his body was found "free of the parachute harness" and attributed death to "shock and loss of blood."

COMPLETES GRADE SCHOOL 80 YEARS AFTER BEGINNING

LA SPEZIA, Italy, July 14 (AP)—Gaetano Barrili today had the grade-school diploma for which he began studying 80 years ago.

He quit school after completing the third grade. Last year he took up his studies again. Rain, shine or snow, he never missed a session of the night school at nearby Castiglione Varo.

Now 86 years old, Barrili received his diploma and a letter of congratulations yesterday from the Ministry of Public Education.

REDS FAVOR CUT IN U.N. TEAMS AT KOREAN PORTS

Number and Personnel Of Inspection Units Would Be Reduced By Commission Plan.

PANMUNJOM, Korea, July 14 (AP)—The Communists agreed today to a reduction of number and personnel of neutral nations' inspection teams stationed at ports of entry in Korea.

The United Nations Command, however, reserved judgment on the proposal and said it would bring the matter up again Saturday.

The reduction was proposed by the Swiss and Swedish delegations of the four-power neutral commission. Other members are Communist satellites Czechoslovakia and Poland.

The new plan cuts the number of teams from 10 to six and halves the personnel on each team. At present the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission has five teams in North and five in South Korea. Each team now has 10 to 12 members.

A copy of a statement of acceptance by Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, senior Communist delegate to the Military Armistice Commission, was handed by the Communists to Allied newsmen.

After the meeting, Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, representing the U.N. command, told newsmen he had repeated his demand of last week that the Communists provide "accurate accounting of combat materials, including hundreds of aircraft illegally introduced" into North Korea. He also demanded that they immediately stop bringing in more planes.

Parks said Lee replied that "nobody in the world" would accept the demands.

Today's Armistice Commission meeting was called by the Communists to discuss a May 9 letter from the N.N.S.C., proposing the reduction.

Two teams would be withdrawn from South Korea, at the ports of Kangnung and Kusan, and two from North Korea, at Chongjin and Hungnam.

Lee said the Communist and Allied sides are not using the four ports "for the purpose of rotation and replacement" of troops and supplies—the purpose for which they were originally designated—in the armistice agreement.

SENATE VOTES 89-0 ON FREEING OF SATELLITES

Resolution Voices Hope Self-Government Will Be Restored to Peoples.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The Senate today gave a smashing 89-0 approval to a resolution expressing the hope that captive satellite peoples will regain the "sovereign rights of self-government."

The resolution, which had the backing of Senate leaders of both parties, does not name the Soviet Union or Communism and does not mention the Big Four summit talks opening Monday in Geneva.

However, Senator Knowland (Rep., California), a sponsor of the resolution, said in a brief speech there is "only one tyrannical power loose in the world today and that is the Soviet Union."

Basic United States foreign policy, he said, should rest on "human freedom" as described and set forth in the United States Declaration of Independence.

Senate adoption of the resolution came on the heels of unanimous Foreign Relations Committee rejection of a resolution by Senator McCarthy (Rep., Wisconsin), calling on the Eisenhower administration to withdraw United States recognition from the Soviet satellite states of east Europe.

McCarthy announced he would support the Knowland resolution which was sponsored also by Senator Clements (Dem., Kentucky), the acting Senate majority leader, and Senators George (Dem., Georgia), and Wiley (Rep., Wisconsin), chairman and senior Republican respectively on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have repeatedly indicated they will press Russia to ease up its grip on the European satellites.

The Senate resolution on that subject, approved unanimously yesterday by the Foreign Relations Committee, voices Senate hope that "the peoples who have been subjected to the captivity of alien despots shall again enjoy the right of self-determination within a framework which will sustain peace."

The resolution does not require House action and is not binding on anyone.

A second resolution scheduled for certain passage would put Congress on record as favoring a United States foreign policy which would "support other peoples in their efforts to achieve self-government or independence under circumstances which will enable them to assume an equal station among the free nations of the world."

This document, introduced by Representative McCormack (Dem., Massachusetts), has passed the House. A slight Senate change in the text will necessitate its returning to that body for final action.

Son to Accompany Eisenhower To Geneva as His Personal Aide

Major Now on Transfer Leave — Others Assigned to Trip From White House Staff.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (UP)—President Eisenhower will take his son, Maj. John S. Eisenhower, to the Big Four meeting in Geneva as a personal aide, the White House announced today.

Mr. Eisenhower's son recently completed a year at the Army Staff and Command School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and has been assigned as an infantry training officer to Fort Belvoir, Va., just outside Washington.

The White House said Maj. Eisenhower still is on transfer leave. Mrs. Eisenhower also is accompanying the President.

The White House also announced the make-up of the working party the Chief Executive will take with him to Geneva in addition to the American delegation.

From the White House staff there will be Mrs. Ann Whitman, the President's personal secretary; Dillon Anderson, special assistant to the President for national security affairs; Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder; Col. Andrew J. Goodpaster, staff secretary and Defense Department liaison; William Hopkins, White House executive clerk; and Dewey E. Long, White House transportation chief. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, already in Geneva.

The White House also included with Maj. Eisenhower a group of "personal aides and assistants." These were: Maj. Gen. Howard Mc. Snyder, White House physician; Col. Robert L. Schulz, military aide; Lt. Col. William G. Draper, Air Force aide and pilot of the Presidential plane; Lt. Col. Vernon Walters, Army interpreter for the party; Maj. Walter Tkach, assistant to Dr. Snyder; and Mrs. Mary Jane McCallister, secretary to Mrs. Eisenhower.

SHRUBS PROPOSED AS WAY TO AVERT HIGHWAY DEATHS

TORONTO, July 14 (AP)—A new wrinkle in highway fatality prevention was unrolled yesterday—a carpet of shrubs. The American Association of Nurserymen said shrubs, ribboned in millions along the continent's highways, could cushion ditches so any automobile could topple in unharmed.

"There's nothing like a live bush for a soft landing," said Vallee C. Curtis, chairman of the highway planting committee, at the association's convention.

Curtis said thick belts of shrubs could save lives by: Cutting down headlight glare; shielding light cars from dangerous winds; preventing washouts and snowdrifts; relieving the monotony of superhighways.

In experiments in New Hampshire, cars traveling at 55 miles an hour were deliberately crashed into bushes and emerged undented, Curtis said.

Food Taster Report Denied. WASHINGTON, July 14 (UP)—The White House, in response to inquiries, yesterday termed "pure bunk" a report that President Eisenhower will be protected at the Geneva Big Four meeting by a food taster.

HITS AT MILITARY 'ENCROACHMENT' ON CIVILIAN FIELD

Representative Mollohan Cites 32 Retired Officers in High Government Jobs.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (UP)—Representative Robert H. Mollohan (Dem., West Virginia), today warned that military men are "encroaching" on traditionally civilian pursuits in Government, business, industry, and science.

In a speech for House delivery, he listed 32 retired generals and admirals who have been appointed to what he called "top policy-making and administrative positions" in the Government in the Eisenhower Administration.

They include Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission; Maj. Gen. Milton P. Persons, deputy assistant to the President; and Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing, commissioner of immigration and naturalization.

Mollohan, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, said the concept of "civil supremacy over the military" has been one of the guiding principles of the United States form of government.

"But today we see generals of the Army retire from active service on one day only to become the heads of such civilian agencies as the TVA and the Immigration and Naturalization Service on the day following," Mollohan said.

Mollohan has blocked House action on Senate-passed bills to place two more retired generals as assistant commissioners of immigration.

Mollohan also listed 33 retired generals and admirals serving in top jobs in many of what he termed the "100 principal doing business with the Department of Defense."

"Without in any way reflecting upon the high qualifications and undoubted integrity of these officers," he said, "I nevertheless find it a too-startling coincidence that so many of those firms could not find qualified civilian personnel in their organizations, or in industry generally, to fill these positions."

COUNTY'S BOND VOTE BILL TO BE OFFERED AGAIN AFTER 3-2 DEFEAT

Councilman Davis to Resubmit Expressway and Building Plan — Setback Laid to Limited Scope.

A bill calling for a bond issue election for expressways and children's buildings Oct. 4 in St. Louis county will be reintroduced next week following its defeat by the County Council yesterday. Councilman L. Gordon Davis told the Post-Dispatch today.

Davis, author of the amendment which was turned down by a vote of 3 to 2, said he was encouraged by statements of other council members indicating that they favored holding a bond issue election but were opposed to the bill because it was too limited in its scope.

Davis said he also would bring up at next week's meeting a proposed agreement between the county and the State Highway Commission under which the county would agree to pay one-half the costs of right-of-way acquisition for the Daniel Boone Expressway in the county. The Council rejected this agreement at last week's meeting.

Full List Sought.

Defeat of the bond issue election bill was attributed by Davis to a desire by other members to have a full list of all possible projects before them before setting a date for a vote, although he pointed out that other projects could be added later if approved.

"I hope the final report of the citizens bond issue screening committee will help to clear the way," Davis said. "We will then have a definite picture of the projects recommended by the committee."

Councilman Frank L. Martini, who has opposed the proposed route of the Daniel Boone Expressway through Richmond Heights, said he was not opposed to setting a date for the $8,500,000 bond issue election to provide the county's share of the rights-of-way for expressways.

"I do oppose including only these proposals and the $800,000 for children's buildings," he said. "If this bill is amended to include any other proposals that might be submitted through the required number of petitioners I will be for it."

Aug. 1 Goal Set.

The citizens group is considering other projects such as additional voting machines, office buildings and other road and highway needs. The group was asked by the Council to attempt a final report by Aug. 1 rather than the announced goal of Aug. 15 so that there would be time to consider the recommended projects and then circulate petitions to put them on the ballot. The petitions must be certified to the council at least five weeks before the election.

The Council received and filed a motion adopted last Tuesday at a mass meeting of citizens of Richmond Heights living along the proposed right of way. The motion asked the Council to consider its rejection of the right of way acquisition agreement with the highway commission, and end the uncertainty under which residents have been living since the route was designated by the commission. No action was taken on the motion. Fear that any further delay in carrying out the order of the State Tax Commission to raise real estate assessments in the county might seriously impair operation of the county's public schools was expressed by Councilman Erwin Tainberg, attorney for the legislative committee of the Co-operating School Districts of St. Louis county.

Points to Rejection.

Tainberg said many school authorities had been ready to support the Council's request for a year's delay in the order raising urban assessments by 60 per cent and rural lands by 85 per cent.

Long Wait for Freedom Finally Ends For 66 Refugees Welcomed Here

MR. and MRS. ALOIS STOLAR (center), wearing tags of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, greet their daughter, MRS. GUSTAV BRATSKHO, 3181 Portis avenue, on their arrival yesterday at Union Station from Austria. Also arriving yesterday was Stolar's mother, MRS. THERESA STOLAR, (right). Others in picture are the two Bratschko children, HILDEGARDE (left), and 3-month-old GUSTAV.

Many Fight in Vain to Hold Back Tears as Europeans Begin Life Anew.

The vast train shed of Union Station yesterday for 66 men, women and children from Europe—displaced persons who arrived for a new start in life after seemingly hopeless misery brought on by war.

It was the end of a long wait for freedom and opportunity, made possible at last through the efforts of many persons, including the sponsors who guaranteed that the immigrants will take jobs and never become a burden to the public.

Most of the persons stepping from the coaches of a train that brought them from New York lived in Yugoslavia and Romania before their lives were disrupted by World War II. Most of the St. Louisans there to meet them were relatives.

The gate to Track 16 was a scene of considerable clamor and emotion as the new arrivals, carrying their own luggage—everything they own—searched the anxious group in the dim concourse for familiar faces.

No one had very much to say. Feelings were expressed in embraces, and many were fighting to hold back the tears, but could not.

The new arrivals are ethnic Germans, by culture and language, and therefore were not acceptable to the Russian-dominated regimes in the lands where they happened to be at the end of the war. Since then they have had to go from one displaced person camp to another.

If the happiness of long-delayed reunion could be measured, perhaps the happiest was that of Mrs. Tillie Bruder, 3901 Keokuk street, and Anton Schussler, who were childhood sweethearts in Yugoslavia 34 years ago. Each has been married, had children, and divorced, and now they are planning a wedding.

Welcomer-in-chief was the Rev. Victor T. Suren, head of the St. Louis office of the Catholic Refugee Office, 3335 Westminster place, an arm of the per cent, but he pointed out the request had been flatly rejected by the tax commission.

Noting that school districts must have normal tax collections if they are to operate in the forthcoming school year, Tainberg wrote: "We would hope, therefore, that your body would take action that might result in delays to the point where taxes could not be collected at the usual time."

Four recommendations for expanding the county health department's mental health service program were presented to the council by Dr. Herbert R. Donke, county health commissioner. The expansion program was referred by the Council to its committee on the health department for study and recommendation.

Singer Quits as Chairman. James A. Singer unexpectedly tendered his resignation as chairman of the Council but offered no explanation for the action. He was the Council's first chairman when it began functioning Jan. 1, 1951, and had been elected to his second term last Jan. 1.

The resignation will be considered at next week's meeting. If it is accepted, a new chairman will be named to serve for the remainder of Singer's term, which ends Dec. 31.

A proposal to name County Purchasing Agent Harry S. Koznetsky as head of the newly created county purchasing division was submitted to the Council.

National Catholic Welfare Conference, which helped with arrangements for 63 of the group. The other three were helped by the Lutheran Refugee Service, whose director here is Mrs. L. C. Wuerffel.

1800 Given Help. Father Suren said his organization has helped 1800 persons get to this country since 1948, and has applications pending from Americans for about 500 families.

"This work is unprecedented," Father Suren said, "the people of a conquered country have been taken into the hearts of the conquerors. The cementing of the peoples of the world together must be a basis of peace. And what a fine introduction to America."

The children especially were wide-eyed in the strange environment, and they stuck close by their parents. The entire group, known little or no English, moved with extreme caution and reserve, and out of long practice appeared to be waiting to be told what to do. All were tense, but clearly proud at the final arrival of a turning point in their fortunes.

Next on the program are lessons in English, every Monday night.

BROTHERS SEIZED, O'FALLON BANK HOLDUP SUSPECTS

FBI Roadblock in Texas Traps Armed Pair Accused of Missouri Robbery.

Trent and Robert D. Boyes, brothers charged with robbing the Bank of O'Fallon, Mo., of $11,507, were arrested late yesterday in Texas.

J. Earl Milnes, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office here, said the men were stopped by FBI agents at a road block on U.S. Highway 80 near El Paso.

Although the brothers had four pistols and a rifle in their 1951 sedan and were considered dangerous, they surrendered "without incident," Milnes reported. They had $11,000 with them, he said.

Besides the O'Fallon robbery, which occurred last March 29, the brothers are charged with the $4680 holdup of a Creston (O.) bank May 24, Milnes said, and they were being questioned about the $11,034 robbery of a Moore (Okla.) bank Tuesday.

Robert L. Murphy, special agent in charge of the FBI office in El Paso, said the roadblock was set up after he had received telephone calls from officers in New Mexico, the Associated Press reported.

He said the pistols and the rifle all were loaded. The pistols were hidden under the front seat and the rifle was on the floorboard of the back seat. The money was in paper sacks, small boxes and the pockets of the men, Murphy related.

A search for the brothers began shortly after the O'Fallon robbery when articles thought to belong to them were found in an apartment here, near where an automobile used to escape from the scene had been found abandoned. The car was recovered in the 5200 block of Minerva avenue.

Milnes said today that the trail led in and out of St. Louis several times during the search. The O'Fallon bank was robbed by two men armed with pistols, who forced four employees and a customer to lie on the floor. The robbers carried their loot from the bank in a black box. O'Fallon is in St. Charles county, about 40 miles west of St. Louis.

Several bank officials and O'Fallon residents identified photographs of the Boyes brothers as the robbers, the Post-Dispatch was told. The brothers were charged in warrants issued April 4 by United States Commissioner Edwin J. Bean.

Trent Boyes is 26 years old; Robert is 31. Both have been arrested many times, the FBI said. Their homes have been variously listed as Portsmouth, O., and Huntington and Fort Gay, W. Va.

PREDICTS STATE G.O.P. VICTORY IF PARTY IS UNITED

Touring National Committee Member Tells of Interest in Ending Strife.

Missouri Republicans can win the state's electoral votes and recapture at least three additional seats in Congress in the 1956 elections if unity is restored within the state party ranks, Albert B. Hermann of Washington, a representative of the G.O.P. national committee, said today.

Hermann heads a three-man Republican group which is making a one-week trip through Missouri to determine what can be done to eliminate internal strife within the state party and to set up an effective G.O.P. campaign organization in Missouri for next year's elections.

Other members of the group, which was sent to Missouri by Republican national headquarters, are John Brown of Washington, representing the G.O.P. Congressional Campaign Committee, and Peter Clayton of New York, representing the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.

Meeting With Party Leaders. The group is conferring with state and local party leaders.

While in St. Louis on Monday and Tuesday, the members talked with Charles P. McBride, chairman of the Republican City Committee, Norman Parker, chairman of the St. Louis County G.O.P. Committee, and other party leaders.

The group met yesterday with central Missouri Republicans at Jefferson City, and is in Kansas City today to talk to western Missouri party officials. Hermann and the others expect to wind up their trip tomorrow at Springfield.

Hermann said the group has found a "tremendous interest among the rank-and-file to bring about unity in Missouri." If this is done, he added, party leaders are confident the Republicans can win at least three more seats in the national House and regain control of the State Legislature.

2 Districts Lost Last Year. The three congressional districts are the Fourth and Sixth in western Missouri, which were lost to the Democrats last year, and the Eleventh in central Missouri. Republicans hold only two of the state's 11 House seats in the present Congress.

Hermann said the group will report its findings and suggestions to national party leaders when the trip is completed. The reports will be submitted to G.O.P. National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, and United

SERVED 19 TERMS, HE FINALLY WINS ROUND WITH LAW

Charles Shields, who has served 19 terms in jails and penitentiaries since 1927, finally won a round with the law today. Shields, 45 years old and a man with no established home, was last sentenced to prison from the United States District Court at East St. Louis in 1951 on a charge of stealing checks in interstate shipment.

He completed the sentence in May, and was arraigned today before Provisional Judge Mark M. Hennelly of the Court of Criminal Correction on an old charge of issuing a $110 bogus check in September 1951. Hennelly dismissed the charge after learning the original information had been returned and another filed in the same case in January 1952, holding prosecution was barred by the three-year statute of limitations.

U.S. ENVOY PRESENTS NORWAY WITH AEC TECHNICAL LIBRARY

OSLO, July 14 (AP)—United States Ambassador L. Corrin Strong today handed over to Norway a complete Atomic Energy Commission technical library.

Strong said Norway's co-operation with The Netherlands and other free countries of the world "has a splendid example for the international exchange of scientific knowledge for the promotion of peaceful uses of atomic energy." Norway and The Netherlands jointly operate a small atomic reactor near Oslo.

British Charge to Red China. TOKYO, July 14 (UPI)—Douglas Walter O'Neill, new British charge d'affaires to Red China, handed his letter of appointment today to Premier Chou En-lai, Peiping Radio reported.

O'Neill is the only official Western representative in the Chinese capital.

States Representative Richard Simpson of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican congressional Campaign Committee. Internal strife within the state organization resulted from a feud over patronage between factions headed on one side by Barak T. Mattingly and State Chairman Perry Compton, and by A. D. (Bud) Welsh, Missouri's Republican national committeeman, and Mrs. Estelle Tanner, national committeewoman, on the other.

MOTHER, 2 GIRLS KILLED IN CRASH OF AUTO, TRUCK

Husband and Son, 3, Hurt Near Litchfield, Ill. — Mehlville Woman Is Fatally Hurt.

A mother and her two small daughters were killed yesterday on U.S. Highway 66 when their automobile collided with the rear of a tractor-trailer truck about three-fourths of a mile south of Litchfield, Ill.

Dead are Mrs. Raymond Duncan, 29 years old, of Centerville Station, south of East St. Louis, and her children, Susan, 8, and Sharon, 4. A son, Dennis, 3 years old, was injured seriously and is in St. Francis Hospital, Litchfield.

State police reported the automobile was driven by Raymond Duncan, husband and father of the victims, and ran under the rear of the trailer. Both vehicles were southbound, the tractor-trailer being driven by Donald Kates, of Litchfield. Duncan, a pipefitter for the Illinois Power Co., suffered severe lacerations and shock. His wife and daughters were in the front seat with him, police said. The girls died in the crash, and Mrs. Duncan died last night at St. Francis Hospital.

Mrs. Anna Feyer, who lived on Erb road in Mehlville, was killed today when an automobile in which she was riding skidded and plunged down a 50-foot embankment on a telephone road near Forder road.

The car was driven by her son, Allen, 17. He was treated at St. Louis County Hospital for minor injuries.

Fred Geisler, an operating engineer for Union Electric Co., died last night at St. Louis County Hospital of internal injuries suffered early last Saturday when his automobile struck a Union Electric pole in the 3600 block of Big Bend boulevard, Maplewood.

Geisler, 48 years old, lived at 2421 Florent avenue, Maplewood. Four persons were injured early today in an automobile which crashed into a florist's shop at 1433 Tower Grove avenue after sideswiping another machine.

Treated at City Hospital were: James Tobin, 20-year-old soldier of Fort Leonard Wood, the driver, lacerated elbow; Daniel Sheridan, a soldier, Fort Leonard Wood, lacerated scalp; Miss Virginia Vollmer, a student, 27 South Euclid avenue, fractured right ankle, and Miss Jeanne Ochsenknecht, 5722 Amelia avenue, injured knee and back.

PAUL E. KENTON CONVICTED, GETS LIFE IN PRISON

Jury Finds Him Guilty of Murder of Fellow Convict on Second Ballot.

By WILLIAM K. WYANT JR. Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

UNION, Mo., July 14—Paul E. Kenton, Missouri Penitentiary inmate, was found guilty last night of the murder of Walter Lee Donnell, another inmate, at the outset of the disastrous prison riot last Sept. 22.

An all-male jury fixed Kenton's punishment at life imprisonment. The jury deliberated for 66 minutes and required only three ballots to agree that the defendant was guilty and fix the penalty.

Kenton, already serving a 16-year sentence for grand larceny and other charges, imposed in Henry county, swallowed when Circuit Clerk Edgar Barlage read the jury's verdict handed to him by Judge Joseph T. Tate.

Convicted

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer. PAUL E. KENTON

Otherwise, he showed no emotion. He is 24 years old.

Says He Is Innocent.

A little later, Kenton's face relaxed in a smile and he turned to newspaper reporters who had interviewed him in his cell while the jury was out. He had told reporters he was innocent, but did not expect the jury would believe him.

"Just one of those well-known miscarriages of justice, I expected it," he said. Then he spread his hands, palms down, and added: "There's no way out."

The jury foreman, Edwin C. Ronsick, Washington, an International Shoe Co. employee, said the jury voted 11 to one for conviction on the first ballot and found the defendant guilty on the second. He said a single ballot sufficed to fix punishment at life in prison rather than the alternative, death in the gas chamber.

Kenton and six other rioting convicts were charged with killing Donnell with knives and a sledge hammer after they had broken into Donnell's cell in death row. Donnell, a St. Louis convict who had turned state's evidence, had been put in death row for his own safety.

Confessed, Six Say.

In the three-day trial, four members of the Missouri Highway Patrol and two officers of the St. Louis Police Department testified that Kenton had freely admitted his part in the Donnell killing and had signed a typed confession without coercion of any kind.

In the statement, portions of which were read to the jury over vigorous objection of William S. Bahn of St. Louis, defense counsel, Kenton told of having rushed into Donnell's cell, held his arms behind his back while two other men stabbed him, and finally of striking Donnell with a 16-pound sledge hammer.

"We all ran out of Donnell's cell then," the statement related. "I went into one of the cells and washed the blood off my hands and just milled around B Hall until the officers came."

Says He Was Beaten.

When he took the stand in his own defense yesterday, the tall, black-haired Kenton, neatly dressed in brown trousers, white shirt and red tie, insisted that he had signed the statement only after officers had beaten him unmercifully during a six-hour inquisition in the prison's identification room Sept. 29.

"They did get the best of me, but they didn't hear me holler," Kenton said after telling of having been hit by prison truncheons "about 500 times." He said officers knocked him to the floor, twisted his arm and struck him with a .38 caliber revolver.

Vigorous denials that the prisoner was mistreated in any way were made by Lt. W. S. Barton and Sgt. E. V. Nash. E. E. Barkley and P. M. Inman of the State Highway Patrol, and by Sgt. Edward Schaaf and Patrolman Jesse Renscher of the St. Louis police.

New Trial to Be Sought.

Defense Counsel Bahn said the court's action in admitting the controversial Kenton confession, which he contended should be disregarded as obtained "by physical force," would be one of several grounds on which a new trial for Kenton would be sought.

He also took exception to Judge Tate's action in disallowing medical records of the State Hospital of the Insane at Fulton, Bahn sought unsuccessfully to introduce the records in an effort to impeach a key state witness, James Creighton, a lifer who was in death row when Donnell was killed.

Creighton, 52, was in the next cell to Donnell and testified to having seen Kenton and six other defendants in the murder case enter and leave the cell where Donnell was killed. Bahn brought out, in cross-examination, the point that Creighton was himself a convicted murderer and had once been committed to the mental institution at Fulton.

Judge Tate disallowed the Fulton evidence after Prosecuting Attorney James T. Riley of Cole county pointed out that medical documents in the hands of Mrs. Alma Miller, medical record librarian, were copies rather than originals.

In their final arguments to the jury, Riley and James A. Cole, prosecuting attorney of Franklin county, asked the death penalty. They said it was a case of cold-blooded, premeditated murder and ridiculed Kenton's story of police brutality.

Bahn, in his plea, emphasized that the only two witnesses whose testimony put Kenton in death row at the time of the murder were convicts and felons. He stressed also that the official death certificate of Donnell had ascribed his death to gunshot wounds.

Kenton was the fifth of the seven defendants to stand trial. James W. Stidham is to be tried Monday at Poplar Bluff, with Riley as prosecutor. A mistrial was declared in Stidham's case in April. Thus far, one defendant has been sentenced to death and three have received life terms.

MARLENE CAUSES UNCOMMON STIR IN ST. LOUIS COMMONS

LONDON, July 14 (AP)—Marlene Dietrich went sightseeing yesterday in the House of Commons and wound up holding an impromptu reception for admiring legislators.

The glamorous grandma, who is appearing in a London night-spot, was invited to the staid "mother of Parliaments" by Bessie Braddock, Laborite M.P. and president of the Professional Boxers' Association.

When Marlene stepped out of her Rolls-Royce there was an eager contingent of M.P.s waiting to see her.

Ties were straightened and mustaches stroked when Marlene appeared, looking beautiful in a champagne-colored linen suit.

The lawmakers lined up to meet the film star and Marlene saved her warmest smile for David Grenfell, the 74-year-old "father" of the House of Commons.

She lunched with Mrs. Braddock in the legislators' restaurant. They talked over their much publicized first meeting a week ago when Bessie turned up at Marlene's club and got into the floor show. Marlene said then she wanted to see Bessie again to talk "politics."

COW HALTS EARLY TRAFFIC ON NATURAL BRIDGE ROAD

Early morning traffic in the 9000 block of Natural Bridge road, Bel-Ridge, was halted briefly yesterday when a stray cow trotted across the road several times, police reported.

Bel-Ridge Patrolman William Perrin and a group of nearby residents pursued the animal which had strayed from a stable in the 9100 block of Natural Bridge. The chase ended when the cow entered a fenced yard in the 8700 block of Shirley avenue where it was captured and returned to the stable.

LIQUOR STORE OPERATOR BEATEN AND ROBBED OF $20

Pandell K. Sotir, operator of a liquor store at 1311 North Grand boulevard, was robbed of $20 last night by a man who entered the establishment, demanded money, and struck Sotir on the head with an automatic pistol, he reported to police.

The robber, a Negro, fled on foot. Sotir was treated at City Hospital for a scalp cut. Artis Dease, clerk in a liquor store at 3140 Chouteau avenue, reported to police that two men robbed the store of $60 last night. The pair, Negroes, ordered a bottle of wine and then one displayed a revolver and forced Dease to put money from the cash register into a paper bag. The robbers ran from the scene.

WOMAN CONVICTED IN DRAFT LAW CASE

Jury Adjudges Her Guilty of Urging Evasion of Military Service.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., July 14 (AP)—Mrs. Lucille S. Miller was convicted yesterday on 18 counts of advising young men to evade military service.

United States District Judge Ernest W. Gibson said he would sentence her Aug. 8. However, Mrs. Miller's lawyers have announced they will appeal the conviction.

The jury returned its verdict after deliberating a little more than an hour, following a three-day trial. Mrs. Miller was the only witness for the defense.

A high point in Mrs. Miller's testimony came when she replied to a question asked her by United States Attorney Louis G. Whitcomb. He asked her if she "deliberately intended" to violate the law when she wrote to the nine young men, advising them to evade the draft. Her answer was, "I certainly did."

Mrs. Miller and her husband Manuel, a justice of the peace at Bethel, gained national attention last May when they withstood efforts of a United States marshal and police to serve Mrs. Miller with a court order committing her to a mental hospital.

A tear gas attack finally forced the husband to lay down his rifle after a 12-hour siege. Mrs. Miller was sent to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D.C., but later was declared sane.

Her husband is scheduled to

RUSSIA STILL OWES MOST OF ITS U.N. 1955 ASSESSMENT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., July 14 (AP)—The U.N. reported yesterday the Soviet Union has paid $646,830 on its assessment of $5,977,712 due the U.N. for 1955. The Russians usually have paid their assessment in October in a lump sum.

France has paid $2,027,565 on its assessment totaling $2,338,760. Britain has paid $2,918,335 on its bill of $3,508,140. The United States will pay its assessment of $13,212,012 later this month.

Nationalist China has paid nothing on its assessment for 1954 and 1955, but has been credited with $26,593 for each year on transfer of assets from the League of Nations. China also owes the U.N. a substantial part of its assessment for 1953.

Bolivia is the only U.N. member still owing the U.N. on its assessments for 1952, 1953, 1954 and 1955.

go on trial next Monday on charges of resisting a United States marshal.

In the trial the prosecution called nine young men to the stand. All testified Mrs. Miller had sent them letters counseling them to avoid the draft.

The letters were introduced as evidence along with copies of the Green Mountain Rifleman — an anti-Communist pamphlet published by Mrs. Miller and mailed throughout the country.

The law provides that violations of the military service act may be punished by imprisonment up to five years on each count—along with fines up to $10,000 on each charge.

NO CANCER-SMOKING LINK IN BRITISH TESTS

Researchers Find No Signs of Disease in Several Studies With Mice.

LONDON, July 14 (AP)—The British Empire Cancer Campaign says studies on laboratory mice of suggested links between cigarette smoking and lung cancer proved negative.

In a report the organization says:

1. Two preparations derived from tobacco tars were tested in five strains of mice for 18 months "with a completely negative result. . . . This suggests that at the most any carcinogenic (cancer-producing) properties possessed by the tars used are very attenuated."

2. Large groups of mice have been exposed for the major part of their lives to cigarette smoke "without lung cancer having been observed in any instance."

3. Experiments to test the carcinogenic action of tar obtained from mechanically smoked cigarettes by feeding and by direct injection into the lungs of mice have proved negative.

4. Tobacco tars produced under conditions as nearly as possible like those of ordinary smoking have similarly proved negative.

5. Extracts from the butts of naturally smoked cigarettes have proved inactive.

The report says an investigation has been started into possible connections between the soil and the local incidence of cancer.

Preliminary results, it adds, "do indeed suggest that there may be some such association between cancer of the stomach and certain soil characteristics."

COPLEY PRESS FOUNDER'S SON SUES TO LIQUIDATE FIRM

CHICAGO, July 14 (AP)—A son of the founder of Copley Press, Inc., which operates a group of 19 newspapers, filed suit in circuit court today to liquidate the company.

The suit, filed by William C. Copley of Paris, France, also asks for a complete accounting of the estate of Col. Ira C. Copley, founder of the newspaper chain who died in 1947. Named as defendants are another son, James S. Copley, board chairman of Copley Press and the First National Bank of Chicago.

The suit charges they mismanaged the estate of Col. Copley and wasted the assets.

The Copley papers include the Aurora (Ill.) Beacon News, the Elgin (Ill.) Courier News, the Joliet (Ill.) Herald-News, the Illinois State Journal and the Illinois State Register, both in Springfield, and 14 newspapers in California.

FOOD PRICE DROP SPURS HEAVY BUYING IN MOSCOW

MOSCOW, July 14 (AP)—Prices of fresh fruits and vegetables dropped in Moscow yesterday and buying in the markets was heavy.

Cucumbers are down to eight rubles per kilogram (2.2 pounds). Tomatoes, strawberries and cherries cost 10 rubles and gooseberries 6 rubles a kilogram.

(The official exchange rate is four rubles to a United States dollar, but this is not a factor in determining cost of living for a Russian. Cost-of-living items are better related to the average wage—according to latest reliable estimate from 600 to 700 rubles a month.)

DRIVES AUTO TO GARAGE TO HAVE A SNAKE REMOVED

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 14 (AP)—Press Gragg, an automobile mechanic for 33 years, has taken a lot of bugs out of cars, but never a snake—that is until yesterday.

Harold Brown took his car to Gragg "to get the snake out."

Gragg tackled the job with a plate of milk and a heat lamp after other mechanics had pulled the seats out of the car without snaring the reptile.

Gragg grabbed the 5-foot gopher snake with his hands, when it came out from behind the dash board to sip the milk. He dumped it into a cardboard box to be returned to Brown.

"It's Mr. Brown's car and Mr. Brown's snake," Gragg said.

DULLES IN PARIS

sized that the idea was open to all states, but urged the Big Four powers to set the example.

The French Premier's basic proposal for a Point IV program with money saved by disarmament closely parallels one which President Eisenhower presented in April 1953, in a speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington.

WESTERN PLAN ON GERMAN ARMS

LONDON, July 14 (AP)—The West was reported ready today with a plan to limit Germany's armed forces to 500,000 men—then after the country is united.

The east zone of Germany, now controlled by the Communists, would be demilitarized and made a buffer zone under Allied proposals, informed diplomats said.

The Western wish is to convince Russia that a unified Germany within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization need menace nobody.

French Premier Faure drafted the plan for submission to next week's Big Four conference at Geneva.

The proposal would top a series of suggestions that the United States, Britain and France have in mind to make German unification more acceptable to the Soviets and to bolster the peace and security of Europe.

Right to Join NATO.

The informants said the plans are dependent on Soviet agreement to free election of a united German government that would have the right to join NATO.

The 12-division or 500,000-soldier maximum is the same that been set as West Germany's contribution to NATO.

Strict curbs which presently govern West German armament production also would be applied to a reunited Germany under the Western plan, the informants said. Even such military supplies as oil would be controlled if a reunited Germany should become a member of NATO in terms of the Western proposal.

The demilitarization of East Germany would mean that a buffer zone would separate the German armed forces from their Communist neighbors in the east. No military bases would be allowed in East Germany. No soldiers would be stationed there. No armament factories would be allowed in the area. International inspection teams would be set up at strategic points to insure compliance.

The Western powers and Russia now appear to have taken up directly opposite positions on the role which a reunited Germany should be allowed to play in Europe.

The United States, Britain and France say that Germany cannot be united unless it is free to join NATO.

Russia says Germany cannot be united if it is free afterward to join NATO.

In an effort to persuade the Soviets that a reunited Germany—within NATO—can remain at peace without threatening East Europe other American-British-French suggestions have been prepared for discussion at Geneva.

The informants said they hinge on the idea outlined publicly last week by Prime Minister Eden for extending to East Europe the arms control system devised by the NATO powers in the West.

The Warsaw alliance of Communist states under this scheme would be expected to adopt a similar pattern of control upon their individual arms and armies as far east as the Russian Ural mountain range. On such a basis, the Western allies consider it may be possible to balance the total military strength of the two sides and later to negotiate a gradual thinning out and redeployment of forces, including the extension of the system of demilitarizing certain frontier regions.

East and West German Observers Arrive in Geneva.

GENEVA, July 14 (UPI)—East and West German delegations of observers arrived in Geneva today for next week's Big Four rounds of government conference.

The West German delegation was led by Herbert Blankenhorn, chief of the secretariat of Chancellor Adenauer's cabinet. The names of the East German Communist delegation were not made public.

Soviet Premier Bulganin was reported to have changed his plans and advanced his time of arrival in Geneva so he will be here Saturday night. All Big Four representatives are expected to be in Geneva by that time.

The Associated Press said from Bonn, Germany, that Chancellor Adenauer will reply Saturday to the Soviet Union's proposal for German unity within an all-European security system. The government announced today he will make his statement to the Bundestag.

On Monday the Chancellor will leave for a vacation at Muerren, Switzerland, 90 miles from Geneva, where he will be within easy reach for consultations when the German question is taken up by the Big Four leaders.

FINAL REPORT
CRITICIZES ARMY

(Rep.), Ohio, objected in a separate statement that the report failed to state that "not one iota of evidence was revealed to indicate any subversion, collusion or Communist conspiracy" involved in the Army's handling of the case.

"I think it is of paramount importance that this subcommittee should assure the people of this country that no Communist influence was found in the Army," Bender said.

The subcommittee report was approved yesterday by the full Government Operations Committee and was filed in the full committee's name.

Senator Thomas E. Martin (Rep.), Iowa, added a separate statement saying he was not a member of the subcommittee and took no part in the report.

Senator Strom Thurmond (Dem.), South Carolina, also not a member of the subcommittee joined Martin in disassociating himself from the report.

McCarthy called the report a "superb job" and a "great tribute to the staff of the subcommittee." He especially praised subcommittee chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy.

McCarthy said it is "impossible to read it without getting a complete picture" of the "complete incompetence" and "endless red tape" involved in the Army's handling of the Peress case.

Delay Criticized.

The report said Secretary of the Army Robert T. B. Stevens "or his superiors . . . are to be criticized for the delay of almost one year" before releasing the facts in the case of the one-time Army dentist.

"Such unnecessary delay served to unduly arouse and increase suspicions of the public as to possible Communist influences," the report said, "and therefore was a disservice not only to Army personnel involved in the Peress case but also to the Army as a whole, to this subcommittee, to the Congress and to the general public."

Bender disagreed with this. He said Stevens stated repeatedly that the Army made serious mistakes but was correcting them, but McCarthy was not satisfied.

"The campaign of doubt continued and in so doing promoted the Communist cause," Bender's statement said.

The Peress case proved a long controversy in 1954 when the New York dentist received an honorable discharge from the Army shortly after refusing to tell McCarthy, then chairman of the subcommittee, whether he was a Communist.

McCarthy Battle Cry.

McCarthy arguing stormily with the Army during most of the year, made "Who promoted Peress?" a battle cry. He demanded that the Army identify the "secret master in the Pentagon . . . responsible for 'coddling Communists.'"

First Stevens and then President Eisenhower declared publicly that the Army had made serious errors in the case but had moved to correct them.

When the Democrats took control of the subcommittee, their first move was an exhaustive investigation of the Peress case. Testimony showed that Peress invoked the Fifth Amendment on a loyalty form before he began active duty Jan. 1, 1953, under the doctor draft act. But through a long series of mishaps and red tape the Army took more than a year to process his case and get rid of him. His discharge had been ordered when McCarthy questioned him Jan. 30, 1954, but he was in a 90-day period of grace.

Adams Criticized.

The subcommittee report said that former Army Counselor John G. Adams "showed disrespect for this subcommittee" when he disregarded a letter from McCarthy Feb. 1, 1954, and allowed Peress to be honorably discharged the following day. McCarthy's letter demanded that Peress be court-martialed.

The report also said the Army's first report to Congress on the case, submitted during last year's Army-McCarthy hearings, was "deceptive and a gross imposition" and that an inspector-general's report of the case "was inadequate, demonstrating inefficiency."

It said the Army had no well-defined policy for handling security risks during this period.

The subcommittee scored the Army also for lack of adequate intelligence officers.

It recommended also that Army intelligence investigate and watch personnel still on active duty who have been determined to be security risks, or against whom there is evidence of subversion or disloyalty.

BILL TO REDUCE
TAX RATES GETS

levy to the tax clerk to be extended on the tax books, for the current year, the act seems to place no time limit on when this can be done.

A further provision states that the rate of levy shall include not only the rates the taxing authority may fix without a vote of the people but also those rates which have been or may be authorized by elections for additional or special purposes.

In a brief message accompanying the new law, Gov. Donnelly pointed out some doubts had been raised as to the constitutionality of the measure.

"I think it is constitutional," he added.

Penal Act Praised.

The bill reorganizing the state penal system was hailed by the Governor as "one of the most significant, long-range measures passed by the recent General Assembly."

It provides for the establishment of six independent divisions under the Director of Corrections, with emphasis placed on improving prison security and personnel, an expanded program of prison industries and development of a more effective system of inmate education and rehabilitation.

The bill became effective today following its approval by the Governor, under terms of an emergency clause which declared the new system is immediately necessary because of the "present unsettled conditions in the penal institutions and to insure the orderly and efficient functioning of the institutions."

The bill carries out many recommendations made by Gov. Donnelly's special Penal Survey tion of a modern penal system.

"Working within the framework of this act, it will be possible over a number of years to build a state penal system which will provide greatly increased security, a vastly improved personnel and an enlarged industrial and productive organization that will provide work for every inmate."

"It will provide an educational, religious, recreational and vocational program that will assure the rehabilitation of a large percentage of our penal population."

The six new divisions set up within the Department of Corrections are administration, prison industries, probation and parole, prison farms, inmate education and training schools.

Each will be headed by an official directly responsible to the director.

The bill provides that the director, to be appointed by the Governor, must be an expert in penology. The bill increases his salary from $7500 to $15,000 a year, and does not require that he be a resident of the state.

There is a vacancy in this position at present. Donnelly said he has been attempting to find a qualified man to name to this position, and could not say when the appointment will be made. Thomas E. Whitecotton, who was director at the time of the prison riot, resigned late last year, and Warden Ralph

N. Eldson has been serving as acting director.

The bill provides for the appointment by the Governor of a prison industries advisory board, comprising three representatives to recommend the type of industries to be developed and the goods to be manufactured with inmate labor.

The measure also sets up a more effective system for state use of prison-made goods. It requires state agencies and institutions to acquire goods and property from the prison industries whenever possible.

Improvements in prison guards and other personnel, both in qualifications and training, are also provided for. The bill authorizes the employment of a full-time prison physician, to replace the present part-time medical officer.

The bill requires that the offices of the director be moved from the penitentiary. Donnelly said he thought the new offices should be established in the Capitol, or in one of the state's two office buildings, here if Capitol space is not available.

Earthquake in Japan.

TOKYO, July 14 (AP)—A light earthquake was registered in the area north of Tokyo at 7:17 (5:17 a.m. St. Louis time) today. The epicenter was placed in the Pacific ocean about 280 miles northeast of Tokyo.

HOUSE UNIT EYES PACIS ON TRIALS OF G.I.S ABROAD

May Urge Review of Recent Treaties Despite Opposition of White House.

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Representative Vorys (Rep., Ohio, said today the House Foreign Affairs Committee may override White House opposition and urge a review of recently-approved treaties dealing with criminal jurisdiction over United States service men stationed abroad.

The committee called spokesmen for the American Legion and other organizations for testimony today on a series of resolutions aimed at requiring the Administration to take steps to rescind these treaty provisions.

Vorys, a senior committee member, said in advance of the session "we might approve" a non-binding resolution expressing the sense of Congress for treaty revision.

Administration View.

Bryce N. Harlow, administrative assistant to the President, said in a letter to Representative Gross (Rep., Iowa, yesterday the Administration believes there is "no reason evident" for reviewing the treaties.

A Senate-ratified treaty with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and other executive agreements specify that 19 Allied nations may arrest, try and convict service men in criminal cases, while they are off duty. United States military courts have authority in other instances.

Representatives Gross, Bow (Rep., Ohio, and 10 other Congressmen are backing identical resolutions directing the President to start action to revoke this authority.

Chairman Richards (Dem., South Carolina, said in a separate interview he doubts the authority of the House to direct the President in foreign policy. He said, however, the committee intends to get the "full facts" on how American service men are treated abroad.

'Working Well in Practice.'

Harlow said the Administration believes "the agreements are working well in practice." He added that the nations involved have been waiving jurisdiction in 70 per cent of the cases and in other instances local courts have been more "lenient" than military tribunals would be.

By the United Press.

Bruce P. Henderson, chairman of the American Legion's national security commission, said in prepared testimony that "never before in our history have American soldiers been turned over to foreign courts for trial and thus denied the protection of the Constitution." He called for repeal of the treaties "without delay."

Henderson said, "The American soldier is in the uniform of his country to protect the rights which he is being denied under the status of forces agreement."

ISRAEL, EGYPT SAID TO AGREE ON MINOR GAZA PROBLEMS

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector, July 14 (AP)—A Foreign Ministry spokesman said Israeli and Egyptian representatives agreed yesterday on two proposals aimed at reducing tension along the Gaza strip.

The proposals involve arrangements for settling minor frontier incidents and for handling the return of stolen property or livestock that strays across the border.

The negotiators resumed discussion of suggestions for quieting the border area after a lay-off of several days. The delegates already have agreed that the area should be patrolled on both sides by regular army or police forces. They also have accepted a plan for returning infiltrators.

Flashes of Life

No Understanding.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—William H. Harris, Henson, charged with speeding, said he had borrowed the unmarked patrol car of Police Chief Tom Kilpatrick of nearby Belle Vista Beach and was hurrying to get it back by the time Kilpatrick had to start patrolling. City Judge Herbert L. Peterson said the excuse was good but was not good enough. He fined Henson $20.

Seems Reasonable.

DETROIT (AP)—Clover West explained in traffic court why he led a policeman on a foot race through apartment houses and back yards and over fence after his automobile hit another. "I knew a lot of friends in the buildings and was just trying to borrow money to pay the damages," he said.

West got a 30-day jail sentence for reckless driving.

PLANE SKIDS WHEN ITS LANDING GEAR FAILS, 60 UNHURT

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Sixty persons escaped injury early today when an Eastern Airlines Constellation skidded several hundred feet after its right wheels collapsed on landing at National airport.

An airline spokesman said many of the 55 passengers were shaken, but that none apparently was hurt. One of the passengers was Representative Keating (Rep., New York. The plane carried a crew of five.

The plane, bound from Newark, N.J., to Houston, Tex., circled the field for about 50 minutes after its pilot, Capt. Alexander Schmidt, noticed a light on his control panel was out. This indicated something was wrong with the ship's landing gear.

However, the spokesman said the pilot decided to land when the light flashed on and the gear "seemed to be operative."

The right landing gear collapsed shortly after the big ship touched down and the plane skidded for some distance, coming to rest on its right wing. The passengers were evacuated from a rear emergency door.

Witnesses said the plane was not seriously damaged, except for its propellers.

LARSON SAYS HE HANDLED COSTLY ZINC CONTRACTS

"could not say that there had not been some instances of bad judgment" in DMPA contracts to encourage zinc production.

But the entire stockpiling program amounted to some of a half billion dollars, and only about $400,000 in zinc contracts went "sour," Larson said.

He denied that there had been any dishonesty in handling of the program. Contracts, he said, were not made in secret.

Williams Cites GAO Reports.

Senator John J. Williams (Rep., Delaware, a critic of the stockpiling program, has said reports submitted by the General Accounting Office and other federal agencies indicated that Young knew something about the negotiations with at least one of the mining firms.

The joint committee reconvened this afternoon to hear additional testimony from Young after announcing that transcripts of all testimony taken thus far will be made public tomorrow. The committee has held one previous closed session on Young's activities.

Senator Homer E. Capehart (Rep., Indiana, a member of the committee, said the decision to release transcripts of all testimony was taken because records dealing with the case were made public earlier this week by Williams. It was learned that Larson and Young asked the committee to make their testimony public.

BREAK IN NATIONAL COPPER STRIKE IN EASTERN PLANTS

DENVER, July 14 (AP)—A wage settlement in eastern plants yesterday, supplied the first important development in several days in the nation's copper strike, which began July 1.

Negotiators for the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers accepted a wage increase offered by the American Brass Co. for its plants at Ansonia and Torrington, Conn., and Buffalo, N.Y.

The company is a subsidiary of the Anaconda Co., which has not yet become involved in the strike.

The July 1 walkout was called against the American Smelting & Refining Co., Kennecott Copper Corp., and Phelps-Dodge Copper Corp.

A union official said the American Brass offer is for an increase ranging from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents an hour. Plant workers will vote on the offer today and tomorrow.

20 KILLED WHEN TRAIN JUMPS TRACK IN EGYPT

CAIRO, July 14 (AP)—An express freight train jumped the rails at a small station in upper Egypt today and crushed to death 20 persons waiting on the station platform, authorities reported.

Police said five other persons were hurt seriously in the accident which occurred when the Benhar train was jammed with villagers.

U.S. AMBASSADOR MEETS WITH NEHRU

Indian Prime Minister Said to Have Discussed Geneva Conference.

NEW DELHI, July 14 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru talked for an hour today with United States Ambassador John S. Cooper. An informant said they discussed the Geneva summit conference in the light of Nehru's recent meetings with Soviet leaders in Moscow.

Apparently Nehru sought to have his views on the Geneva meeting and world situation relayed to President Eisenhower.

Nehru already had made them known to British Prime Minister Eden in a personal visit.

Cooper described the conference as "businesslike, but amiable" and said he could not talk about it.

Nehru was reported to have asked for the meeting with Cooper. It was Nehru's first formal appointment with a foreign diplomat since his return, and it aroused speculation that India might be preparing some diplomatic activity in connection with next week's Big Four meeting.

The informant suggested Nehru might have given Cooper a message for President Eisenhower in reply to one sent by the President through V. K. Krishna Menon, India's roving ambassador, last week.

Menon, now in London after visits to Peiping and the United States, may go to Geneva as Nehru's unofficial representative.

Nehru was reported to have found the Russians "remarkably similar" to Americans on his recent trip to the Soviet Union. He arrived back in New Delhi yesterday.

Associates said Nehru described the people of both major cold-war opponents as "hospitable, friendly, frank, mechanically minded, and liking to do things in a big way."

The Indian leader visited the United States in 1949.

KHRUSHCHEV, ZHUKOV GOING TO GENEVA

to Geneva for "lots of negotiations but few banquets."

Khrushchev replied, "That's all right with me and I'll shake hands on that."

When Premier Bulganin said Marshal Zhukov would help in the Geneva disarmament talks, the American charge d'affaires told the Premier that army men probably would be more interested in armaments than disarmament.

Soldiers and War.

Bulganin replied, "I do not think so. I have said before and I say again that nobody understands the terrors and hardships of war better than we soldiers."

Meaning Zhukov and himself, "We know what war is," Bulganin added.

Kashechko asked Bulganin whether he would talk to West German Chancellor Adenauer or any other West German government representative who might show up at Geneva.

Bulganin replied, "I cannot say anything about West German government officials or whether they will appear at Geneva."

The Soviet government last month invited Adenauer to come to Moscow to discuss establishing relations between Bonn and the Kremlin, but so far there is no definite arrangement.

INCLUSION VIEWED AS SIGNIFICANT

LONDON, July 14 (UP)—The Soviet Union announced today that Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev will attend next week's meeting of the Big Four heads of government in Geneva.

A Task News Agency dispatch also disclosed that Marshal G. K. Zhukov, Soviet defense minister, will be a member of the Soviet delegation which is headed nominally by Premier Bulganin.

Inclusion of both Khrushchev, believed by Western diplomats to be the real top man in Russia, and Zhukov, an "old military friend" of President Eisenhower, was considered highly significant.

Although Bulganin is head of the Red delegation, Khrushchev is expected to wield the most influence and it was believed he will be the man President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure must face should there be a showdown.

Red Army Represented.

Zhukov will be the only defense chief at Geneva and his presence means the Red army will have its top leader on hand to join in the discussions.

The meeting at Geneva will bring Zhukov and Mr. Eisenhower together for the first time since the early postwar days although they recently renewed their acquaintance through an exchange of cordial notes.

The two were on good terms in the early days of the German occupation after World War II and when Gen. Eisenhower visited Moscow.

Washington Reaction.

In Washington, the announcement of the strong Soviet lineup suggested to some diplomats that the Reds might be ready to transact even more business than the United States is prepared to do.

The Russians have been talking about a long, detailed conference while the United States Government has planned for a short meeting of about a week of what it regards as "procedural planning"—or steps toward later negotiations.

Keen interest was expressed in Washington in the participation of Zhukov.

Mr. Eisenhower has said that if Zhukov did attend the meeting "he and I, at least, would have a chance to talk personally and I think to talk over events since 1945 among ourselves, and we might just get some item of value out of it."

The Soviet delegation also will include Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and First Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

The Soviet "advisers" include Jacob Malik, Ambassador to Britain and also a first deputy foreign minister; Sergei Vinogradov, Ambassador to France;

Georgi Zarubin, Ambassador to the United States; G. M. Pushkin, Soviet high commissioner in Berlin; and V. S. Semeonov, a second deputy foreign minister.

Thus, Bulganin will have at his back the Soviet ambassadors to the Big Three and East Germany, Malik, in addition, is considered Russia's expert on disarmament.

Balance of Power.

The composition of the Soviet delegation seemed to reflect the balance of power within that nation, with the Communist party and the army both represented by their leading spokesmen.

By the Associated Press.

Zhukov will be making his first trip beyond the Iron Curtain as a member of a top-level diplomatic delegation. Observers in Moscow viewed his inclusion in the group as evidence of the increased importance of the Red army in the present Russian regime.

Khrushchev is not a member of the Soviet Council of Ministers (cabinet) but the dominant role he has played as secretary of the Soviet Communist party has made clear he is one of the nation's most powerful leaders.

He, rather than Bulganin, led the Soviet "peace-making" delegation to visit Yugoslav President Tito in Belgrade last month.

AEC LAWYER SAYS DIXON-YATES PACT IS BINDING ON U.S.

To obtain the regulatory approvals in a reasonable period of time, both the company and the Government would be relieved," he said. "Otherwise it is a binding agreement."

Earlier Testimony Cited.
Senator Anderson quoted Mitchell's testimony last November, to the effect that the contract would not be binding until necessary SEC approvals had been received.

"When I said that at a previous hearing," Mitchell explained, "it was without benefit of serious consideration. I undoubtedly misspoke myself."

The earlier statement came when the AEC was trying to show that waiver of a 30-day waiting period was necessary, so SEC hearings could be completed and construction of the plant could be commenced as soon as possible.

Anderson observed: "It suited his convenience to say one thing when the contract was before the committee. Now he has reversed himself. Now he is saying, 'All is lost—settle on the best terms possible.'"

Strauss' Testimony on Wenzell.
At the same hearing, chairman Lewis L. Strauss testified that Adolphe H. Wenzell, who played a dual role in Dixon-Yates negotiations, had met with him twice as a representative of First Boston Corp.

Until last June, Wenzell was a vice president and director of the New York investment banking firm. He also served as a part-time consultant to the Budget Bureau in early Dixon-Yates negotiations. First Boston advised the Budget Bureau about what interest rates might be expected in financing the developing power deal and later arranged for the $120,000,000 Dixon-Yates debt financing as agents for Dixon-Yates at no fee.

Strauss told the committee: "I have no recollection of Mr. Wenzell's status that is in conflict with my then belief that he represented his firm, the First Boston Corp., advising all present at the conference on the availability and cost of financing."

Wenzell's Version.
At almost the same time, Wenzell was telling the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee that he had introduced himself to Strauss as a representative of the Bureau of the Budget.

Strauss said, in response to a question, that he had no idea why Wenzell's name did not appear in the AEC's "sequence of principal events," published last August at the President's direction. Strauss said he took "full responsibility" for the chronology but had not prepared it himself.

Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem., Tennessee), chairman of the anti-monopoly subcommittee, directed SEC Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong to return Tuesday for further questioning.

Armstrong disclosed yesterday, after first refusing to discuss the matter, that a telephone call from Presidential Secretary Sherman Adams led to a mysterious three-day interruption of Dixon-Yates hearings last month.

The postponement had the effect of delaying Wenzell's testimony until after the debate on a crucial Dixon-Yates vote in the House of Representatives. In the vote, the House approved a $6,500,000 appropriation for a transmission line to connect the Dixon-Yates steam plant at West Memphis, Ark., with Tennessee Valley Authority lines at Memphis, Tenn.

To Watch Settlement.
By the Associated Press.
Senator Anderson said the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee would keep close watch on how the Government goes about settling the Dixon-Yates contract.

Noting that under the law his committee is to be kept informed of everything AEC does, Anderson said AEC is the Government party to the contract and should negotiate the settlement.

He declared he had been disturbed about indications that Attorney General Brownell might have charge of the negotiations, and added that if that happened, "There may be a settlement running into millions of dollars and we will know nothing about it."

Memphis Mayor to Answer Questions of Critics.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 14 (AP)—The Mayor and the city utility president plan to answer questions today regarding the city's decision to build its own power plant.

Firing the questions at Mayor Frank Tobe and T. H. Allen will be east Arkansas civic leaders who said Memphis city officials decided to build the $100,000,000 plant because they couldn't "dilate" to TVA.

Also invited to the meeting by Tobe were Memphis business men who have criticized the proposed municipal plant.

In other developments yesterday: Tobe announced that a public meeting will be held next week to acquaint citizens with the city's plan for a municipal plant.

Roane Waring, president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and Dixon-Yates supporter, appointed nine prominent Memphians to investigate "every angle" of the city's plan to build its own power plant.

Allen announced that he will confer Friday with Walter Von Tresckow, New York financial consultant, and a group of his consultants on a "package" proposal for building the city plant.

Von Tresckow's plan to build a power plant for the Atomic Energy Commission was rejected in favor of Dixon-Yates.

WEATHER AS A FACTOR IN AIR LANDINGS DECLINES

WASHINGTON (UP)—A new version of Ground Control Approach, now being made standard by the Civil Aeronautics Administration for the nation's airports, will practically eliminate landing delays due to fog and other inclement weather conditions.

Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Association, says radar operators seeing the "pips" of a dozen aircraft simultaneously on their screens, have had to call for specific maneuvers for positive identification of any one of those planes. But a new system, in production, automatically "draws a line" on the screen, spotting the plane contacted.

This new airport equipment is technically capable of assisting the pilot to land any aircraft equipped for normal instrument flight, regardless of visibility conditions. Used to control and expedite traffic around a busy airport, it will permit landings at the rate of one a minute during periods of minimum weather conditions.

Warsaw Bid to Paul Robeson.
TOKYO, July 14 (AP)—Paul Robeson, American Negro singer, has been invited to the fifth youth and student festival in Warsaw "as a guest of honor." Peiping Radio said today. The broadcast did not say when the festival would be held.

GOVERNOR SIGNS
MENTAL PATIENT
ADMISSION BILL

Provides for Voluntary Entry to State Institutions — Other Bills Approved.

By the Post-Dispatch Jefferson City Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 14—Procedure for both voluntary and involuntary admission of mental patients to Missouri state hospitals, for temporary treatment, is contained in a legislative act approved today by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly. It becomes effective Aug. 29.

This act is a second attempt to set up legal steps by which individuals desiring mental treatment may obtain voluntary admission to the state hospitals for medical care, and to improve the admission procedure in general.

A similar bill passed by the 1953 Legislature was declared unconstitutional by the Missouri Supreme Court in June 1954, on the ground some of the provisions relating to commitment of patients resulted in denial of rights to due process of law, as guaranteed by the Constitution.

The new act, which the Governor said he approved only after considerable study, is designed to avoid the legal flaws in the former measure.

Pay Patients. The new act prescribes procedure both for voluntary and involuntary commitments to a state hospital for temporary confinement. Provision also is made for admission of private pay patients.

Patients admitted under the act would be classified as private or county patients. In the case of county patients, the county where the mentally ill person lived would semi-annually pay the state not to exceed $6 a month plus the actual cost of clothing and expense of removal to and from the hospital. The state would pay the remainder for a county patient.

To meet legal points on hospital confinement, the act would authorize any individual patient to seek release through a writ of habeas corpus to any court empowered to issue such writs, either on his own application or through a friend.

Provision is made in the act for transfer of involuntary patients from one hospital to another, and for release of a patient on a convalescent status.

Probate Law Revision. The Governor signed another bill which revises and rewrites the Missouri probate court laws, comes into effect Jan. 1, 1956. The bill, in co-operation with representatives of the Missouri Bar and the state association of probate judges.

The act contains a clause deferring effective date until Jan. 1, 1956. Laws passed by the 1955 Legislature and approved by the Governor, become effective on Aug. 29 unless they contain deferred dates, or emergency clauses making them effective upon approval by the Governor.

Pay Rise Bill Vetted. Donnelly vetoed an act which would have granted a salary increase of $3600 a year to members of the Missouri Industrial Commission and the director of the state division of workmen's compensation, for duties now performed under existing law as members of a board of rehabilitation to consider and approve means of rehabilitating injured workmen.

The Governor disapproved the bill on the ground it was contrary to constitutional provisions that the compensation of state, county and municipal officers shall not be increased during the term of office.

MAN ACCUSED IN WIDOW'S KILLING BAILED OUT OF JAIL

OMAHA, Neb., July 14 (AP)—Two fugitive warrants could not hold Frank Ellsworth of Omaha in jail here yesterday on a Philadelphia charge of complicity in the murder of a wealthy widow.

Soon after posting $75,000 as bail, Ellsworth disappeared from Omaha. He was due in Memphis, Tenn., today for an appeal hearing on a conviction of a robbery charge.

It was the flashing of many $100 bills in Las Vegas, Nev., gambling establishments that brought Philadelphia officials to interest themselves in Ellsworth and his companion, Ray Wilson of Tulsa, Okla.

Philadelphia police learned the bills the two had at Las Vegas approximated in serial numbers $100 bills found in the safety deposit box of Mrs. Lulu Hagar Rossman, strangled on the July 4 in her hotel suite. Wilson is held in Las Vegas.

CANNON ASSERTS REDS COULD WIPE OUT FREE WORLD

Missouri Representative Says It Would Take Russian Forces Only
30 to 60 Days.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Chairman Cannon (Dem.), Missouri, of the House Appropriations Committee declared today Russia has reached military superiority "over the combined powers of all the free world."

He added, in a ringing House speech, that Russia could wipe out "every modern country in the free world" within 30 to 60 days.

The theory of retaliation on which this nation's defense has been based is no longer valid, Cannon said, because of the destruction Russia could impose with the first blow of an atomic war.

Cannon has access to much secret data as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, but he did not give any source for his sweeping estimates of Russian military power.

He did say, without elaboration:

"We were told only last week that Russia has 'more in numbers and superiority in every respect' in planes to carry atomic bombs."

Administration officials have contended, despite evident Russian air progress, that this nation still retains aerial supremacy.

Cannon said Russia has "more submarines than all the rest of the world" and has "more land forces than the rest of the free world can hope to match."

He said this nation has "fallen on evil days" and dares not defend its citizen or its integrity in such incidents as the recent attack by Russian planes on a naval patrol bomber off Alaska.

His speech wound up with a defense of the Tennessee Valley Authority and its contributions to national defense. Cannon attacked those who, he said, "in this moment of dire peril would destroy TVA so they can have more dividend."

BRITAIN TO SIGN AIR ROUTE PACT WITH W. GERMANY

BONN, Jul 14 (AP)—West Germany and Britain will sign an international air routes agreement in London next week, Transport Minister Hans-Christoph Seebohm announced in the Bundestag today.

Negotiation with France are also nearing conclusion, he said. The agreements will be similar to that recently signed between the United States and West Germany.

Authoritative sources said the pact with Britain will allow the German Lufthansa airline to fly to London, Manchester, Glasgow and Edinburgh. Services through Manchester to Dublin, Ireland, Canada and the United States will also be permitted.

It also provides for Lufthansa routes via the Azores and Bahamas to Mexico, Venezuela and Peru, to South Africa via Nairobi and Nigeria, and to Calcutta through Egypt, Turkey, Pakistan and India.

Informal talks with Belgium, Holland, the Scandinavian countries, Switzerland, Australia and Brazil have begun, Seebohm said.

SOUTH VIET NAM SAID TO BALK ON UNITY TALKS

Diem Reported Afraid Parleys Will Make Elections in 1956 Unavoidable.

LONDON, July 14 (AP)—British and American diplomats said today South Viet Nam is balking at meeting the July 20 deadline for opening talks with the Communist north on elections to unite the divided country.

The United States and Britain have been urging Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's government in Saigon to comply with the deadline set in the 1954 Geneva cease-fire agreements on Indochina. They want to avoid a new crisis with the Communists in the Far East.

Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan made it clear yesterday in the House of Commons that Britain attaches great importance to holding free elections in 1956 and to fulfillment of the Geneva accords in the three Indochinese states—Ciet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

The British said two weeks ago they were told in Saigon that Diem was ready to meet Ho Chi Minh's delegates. He was reported to have later changed his mind because he fears if electoral talks are held now it would be difficult, if not impossible, to avoid holding the elections in July 1956, as the Geneva accord stipulates. Diem doubts really free elections can be held in Communist-ruled territory.

Diem to Make Statement on Stand on Elections.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, July 14 (AP)—Vietnamese officials refused comment today on reports in London that Premier Ngo Dinh Diem is balking at holding preliminary conversations with the Communists on elections to unite divided Viet Nam.

The officials said Diem would make an important declaration on South Viet Nam's attitude toward the unification election soon. His speech is expected to coincide with the opening of the Big Four summit meeting in Geneva Monday.

The exact content of Diem's message is being kept secret even from the United States and France. Recent official inspired press articles suggest Diem will challenge the Communist Vietnam's intention to hold free elections in North Viet Nam.

Diem also is expected to insist that the United Nations and not the Polish-Indian-Canadian armistice commission supervise the elections.

CHICAGO POLICEMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER IN QUARREL

CHICAGO, July 14 (AP)—A policeman once freed by a coroner's jury in the fatal shooting of a school teacher in a traffic quarrel, was charged last night with murdering the man and suspended from the police force.

Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor ordered Detective William Daves of the narcotics squad booked for the murder of Eugene F. Vesceky.

O'Connor acted after the Cook county grand jury was reported to have voted a true bill charging the detective with responsibility for Vesceky's death. Vesceky, an elementary school teacher and part time railroad worker, was wounded June 24. He died July 1.

Coroner Walter McCarron ordered the inquest reopened after protests over conduct of the hearing and discovery of new witnesses.

ORTHODOX RABBIS CONSIDER WORLD-WIDE ORGANIZATION

FALLSBURG, N. Y., July 14 (AP)—A permanent world organization of orthodox rabbis, with headquarters in Jerusalem, was proposed yesterday by the Rabbinical Council of America.

The plan, approved by 600 delegates from throughout the country, calls for inviting orthodox Jewish leaders in all nations to a conference in Jerusalem "within the coming year."

Purpose of the meeting would be to establish the continuing world confederation. The proposal came after several delegates had stressed the need for means of maintaining closer world-wide Jewish contacts.

The council, representing orthodox congregations with a million members, met for the closing sessions of its nineteenth annual convention.

S. ILLINOIS WHEAT HARVEST SHOWS 15-25 PCT. DECLINE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 14 (AP)—The 1955 southern Illinois wheat harvest was a matter of record this week as farmers on the northern edge of the wheat belt were binning or selling a bumper crop.

Observers in the central and southern sections of the area, however, said the crop would fall 15 to 25 per cent below the 1954 record high.

In Effingham county on the north, 500,000 bushels have been harvested with some yields running from 40 to 50 bushels per acre, according to Clem Slemmer of the Slemmer Milling Co., Teutopolis. He said "this year's wheat is the best ever produced in Effingham county."

Richland County Farm Advisor Edward J. Barnes said the crop was good although a little under the 1954 yield. He said the crop was drawn from a reduced acreage but was averaging 27 to 30 bushels per acre.

A study of the harvest in a block of five counties south and east of Effingham and Randolph counties indicated the yield would be off 15 to 25 per cent from the 1954 level.

The Centralia Evening Sentinel summarized reports from farmers, elevators and government loan offices in Marion, Washington, Clinton, Jefferson and Fayette counties and got an expected average yield of 23 bushels to the acre. In 1954 the same counties produced an average of 29 bushels to the acre. South of this central block in Franklin county, Farm Advisor C. J. Christenson said he believed the average yield there would be between 25 and 27 bushels to the acre. Christenson said his county produced 300,000 bushels in the record 1954 crop and expects it to go well over 200,000 this year.

4 KILLED WHEN B-47 FALLS IN LOUISIANA

6-Engine Stratojet Crashes and Burns Soon After Take-Off.

SHREVEPORT, La., July 14 (UP)—All four crewmen were killed after midnight today when a B-47 stratojet bomber crashed and burned shortly after taking off from Barksdale Air Force base.

Sheriff's deputies pulled the mangled bodies from the wreckage. They were three officers and one enlisted man, none from the St. Louis area.

Barksdale officers said the plane was attached to the 376th Bomb Wing.

The giant bomber plunged into a wooded area near the edge of the Red River about 2:20 a.m. minutes after it took off. Wreckage was strewn over a 5000-foot wide area. The explosion startled residents over a wide area.

Sheriff's deputies searched for two hours before reaching the site of the burning plane in heavy rains. The rain had made it impossible to get heavy crash recovery equipment to the scene. The bodies were recovered at 6 a.m.

The crash was discovered by a plane which took off moments later.

Officers said the wrecked plane apparently never gained altitude. The six-engine bomber was taking part in night training maneuvers and several other Barksdale-based planes already were in the air.

Four men were killed last May 31 at Barksdale when a B-47 crashed shortly after take-off.

Chartered Bus Caught in Wedge

Chartered school bus wedged between a streetcar and bus in Washington avenue yesterday. Six persons were hurt.

2 BUSES, STREETCAR COLLIDE; 6 INJURED

Crash Blocks Traffic—One Vehicle Wedged Between Other Two.

A chartered school bus, in which members of the Methodist Youth Federation of Farmington, Mo., were visiting St. Louis, collided with a Public Service Co. bus and a streetcar yesterday, injuring six persons.

The collision, in the 1100 block of Washington avenue at 4:30 p.m., blocked rush-hour traffic. Police detoured other motor vehicles temporarily.

Thirty-nine members of the youth federation, two sponsors and Ted Hughes, their driver, were westbound in Washington avenue behind a Page-Finney bus, which stopped at a loading zone near Eleventh street. Hughes tried to pass, and his bus became wedged between the Page-Finney bus and a Hodiadmont streetcar.

William Yeargains, 14 years old, Farmington, is in City Hospital with a severe laceration of the right arm suffered in the crash. Also treated at the hospital, and released, were: Miss Florence Collins, Negro, 3337 Delmar boulevard, a streetcar passenger, contusion of the shoulder; David McCarty, 15, lacerated nose; Leanne Sides, 14, bruised shoulder; Judy Westover, 14, contusions of the face; Mrs. Leroy Paris, bruises, all of Farmington.

Mrs. Paris, a federation sponsor, whose three sons were on the trip, said the group had disembarked from the Steamer Admiral and was on its way to Forest Park at the time of the accident. Also aboard the bus was the Rev. Albert Cole, pastor of Memorial Methodist Church at Farmington.

406 POLIO CASE TOTAL, LOW FIGURE FOR WEEK

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The Public Health Service said today the total of polio cases reported last week was lower than that for the corresponding week in any of the last five years. Cumulative totals for the "disease year" since April 1, however, exceed those of comparable periods in three years in the last five.

Dr. Carl C. Dauer, who compiles national polio statistics for the Health Service, told a reporter that it is still too early to draw any conclusions either as to the "trend" in total figures this year, or as to "any effect of the vaccination program on total cases reported."

The Health Service's report said the 406 cases reported for the week ended July 9 represented an increase of about 22 per cent over the 334 reported for the previous week. The cumulative total of cases for this year since April 1, the beginning of the so-called "disease year" is 3054, compared with 2401 for the same period in 1950, 1942 in 1951; 2976 in 1952; 4040 in 1953; and 3911 in 1954.

MICHIGAN REMOVES BARRIER TO AUTO LAY-OFF PAY PLAN

DETROIT, July 14 (UP)—Michigan removed the biggest obstacle to the automobile industry's new lay-off program yesterday by ruling private payments to the state's half-million auto workers when they are laid off are legal.

Attorney General Thomas Kavanagh ruled Michigan workers could accept the private payments in addition to state jobless benefit checks without becoming ineligible for state unemployment pay.

Kavanagh's ruling made it almost certain that "guarantee" payments will be started next June 1 for automobile workers when they are laid off.

The new wage contracts provide for multi-million dollar funds from which idle workers will be given enough extra in addition to unemployment checks to leave them with 60 to 65 per cent of normal take-home pay for as much as 26 weeks of idleness.

NINE WITNESSES TESTIFY IN POLICE PAY-OFF INQUIRY

Nine witnesses testified before the circuit court grand jury yesterday in its investigation of alleged police pay-offs. Assistant Circuit Attorney Joseph M. Settich reported. He said additional witnesses will be subpoenaed next week.

Pauline Cloin, a former employee of the late Mrs. June Lytz, murdered brothel operator at 308A North Theresa avenue, has told the Circuit Attorney's office that Mrs. Lytz made a number of payments to about 12 policemen to avoid arrest.

MARION DAVIES ACQUIRES HOTEL IN PALM SPRINGS

HOLLYWOOD, July 14 (AP)—Marion Davies, former actress, announced yesterday that she had bought the Desert Inn in Palm Springs for $2,000,000. The sellers were Earl Coffman and George Robertson, sons of the late Nellie Coffman who was known as "Mrs. Palm Springs."

Miss Davies, who said she is the sole owner, added: "It'll cost a lot more by the time we get through with it. I plan to develop it into a miniature Rockefeller Center."

MINOR CHANGE IN ROUTE OF TWELFTH STREET BUS

A minor change in the route of the Twelfth street bus-line, made necessary by the installation of traffic signals at Eleventh and Market streets, was announced today by Public Service Co.

Effective today, southbound Twelfth street busses will turn east in Walnut from Twelfth, then operate north in Eleventh from Walnut to Pine street, west in Pine to Twelfth and north in Twelfth via the regular route.

Busses formerly made a left turn into Market from Eleventh street. The new route avoids the left turn, aiding traffic flow, the company said.

Red Korean General Invites Allied Reporters to Pyongyang

Spouts Anti-U.S. Propaganda at Informal Press Conference After U.N. Officer Frowns on Formal Sessions.

PANMUNJOM, Korea, July 14 (AP)—Communist Gen. Lee Cho today personally invited Allied correspondents to come to Pyongyang Aug. 15 and told them he would always be available for press conferences there.

He held his first such conference today and used it to spout anti-American propaganda.

He accused the United Nations of trying to wreck the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in Korea so that it could "illegally introduce (arms) and build up the puppet Syngman Rhee army."

Today's conference was an informal outdoor session between Lee, senior Communist member of the joint Military Armistice Commission, and four Allied newsmen.

Allied Disapproval. Earlier, Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, the United Nations command's senior member on M.A.C., told Allied correspondents that attendance at a former press conference inside a Communist-occupied building in the joint security area would be interpreted as "violation of the spirit and intent of the armistice agreement."

On July 5, Parks prohibited Allied newsmen from accepting an invitation to a Lee press conference. Parks' statement today was a somewhat more mild expressed version of Allied disapproval.

Parks, however, did not prohibit Allied correspondents from catching Lee outside a building and questioning him informally. Apparently today's meeting between Lee and the newsmen fell into that tacitly permitted category.

Lee invited Allied correspondents to come to Pyongyang Aug. 15 for a tenth anniversary celebration of "Korea's liberation from Japanese rule." It was a repetition of an invitation issued a few hours earlier by Communist correspondents. There was no comment on that from the Allies.

Allied and Communist correspondents were at Panmunjom to cover a M.A.C. meeting on reduction of the number and size of inspection teams of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission.

Gen. Parks told newsmen that, in his opinion, no U.N. accredited correspondent could enter a building in the joint security area to attend a Communist-occupied press conference.

Lee took a different view. He told the Allied reporters: "If the U.N. Command wants press interviews it is up to the U.N.C. and if we want it, it is up to us. Therefore, if you want to attend my press conferences, I am always prepared to meet you."

Parks said the Allied newsmen's section of the M.A.C. administrative agreement, signed Sept. 6, 1953, "does not specifically prohibit or specifically authorize" the Allied press to attend Communist press conferences.

Parks said he had personally talked with Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, United States and U.N. Far East Commander, and they "jointly" decided not to permit newsmen to attend formal Red press conferences until the administrative agreement of the Military Armistice Commission is amended.

Parks said he was not placing "any physical restriction" on the correspondents. Asked if their accreditation might be affected if they violated his instructions, he said: "I cannot tell now."

Propaganda Lecture. Four correspondents talked with Lee informally and received largely a propaganda lecture for their efforts.

Lee admitted he was "under new instructions from a higher level" in extending the invitations. He said North Korea now wants to have access to world press.

"I'd like to know why the American press is saying that our side violated the armistice agreement and Czech and Polish members of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission are not neutral," Lee stated.

"In my opinion such propaganda is necessary for the people in America who are presently seeking war. Because some Americans are desiring to eliminate the N.N.S.C., we are particularly interested in the clamoring noise made by Americans at this time."

Lee urged normalization of relations between North Korea and Japan, but not between Japan and South Korea. He said a Japanese trade mission should visit his country.

5-YEAR PLAN AIM MET 8 MONTHS
EARLY, SAY REDSReport Accompanied by Bulgarian Statement on Progress in Heavy Industry.MOSCOW, July 14 (AP)—The central committee of the Soviet Communist party told the Russian people today they have reached the goals of the Soviet Union's fifth five-year plan eight months ahead of schedule.The plan, covering the 1951-55 period, was fulfilled last May 1, the committee said in a statement published in all Moscow newspapers. As outlined before the last all-Soviet party congress in 1952, the plan called for an immense buildup of Soviet economic strength.The committee statement accompanied a report by Premier Bulgarian that the Soviet union has made great progress in heavy industry development.

Party Congress to Meet.

The committee also announced that the Twentieth Congress of the Soviet Communist party would meet Feb. 14, 1956, to hear the sixth five-year plan outlined.The party leaders said the experience of past years reaffirms the correctness of the general line of our party—the priority development of heavy industry.Bulgarian's report was given detailed coverage in today's editions of Pravda, Izvestia and other Moscow newspapers. Foreign observers noted it with particular interest because of the recent remarks by Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev that Bulgarian, at the Summit conference opening in Geneva
Monday, would not be negotiating from a position of weakness.Khrushchev told diplomats reporting to the United States embassy's Fourth July party the Soviet economy was sound and Russia would not go to Geneva with "broken legs."

Emphasis on Industry.

Emphasis in the fifth five-year plan, as outlined in its early stages, was on boosting the output of steel, coal and petroleum in line with the heavy industry buildup. Goals called for an increase in steel output of 62 per cent, 43 per cent for coal and 85 per cent for petroleum.(Production of key industrial commodities in 1954, as previously announced by the Moscow government, included: Steel 41,000,000 metric tons, coal 346,
000,000 metric tons, petroleum 58,000,000 metric tons, and electric power 148,000,000,000 kilowatt hours. United States production for the same period was: Steel 80,000,000 metric tons, coal 373,000,000 metric tons, petroleum 312,000,000 tons, and electric power 544,000,000,000 kilowatt hours.)The statement published today said production of consumer goods, machine tools and agricultural equipment particularly had increased. It added, however, that rapid introduction of new techniques was being imperiled by conceit and complacency among workers and "weak leadership of ministers."The statement said the date for the twentieth party congress was fixed a the committee's eight-day meeting which ended in Moscow Tuesday.EDUCATED MEN MUST SERVE GOVERNMENT, SPEAKERS SAYThe need for the educated man to participate in government and politics was stressed today by James M. Douglas, chairman of the Washington University Corporation, and Chancellor Ethan A. H. Shepley at the first summer school assembly in Graham Memorial Chapel on the campus."As our population increases and our problems of government grow more complex, the need increases for educated, thoughtful men and women to enter public service at all levels, federal, state and local," Douglas told the assembly of about 500 students.Chancellor Shepley, urging the students to vote, both in primary and general elections, said: "The only way we can avoid an internal crack-up is not to assume that George will do it. We all have to be George."AIR FORCE PERMITS BOEING
TO FILL CIVILIAN ORDERWASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—
The Air Force told the Boeing Airplane Co. yesterday that it could go ahead with plans to build a commercial version of the KC-135 jet tanker. The company now is working on a $700-000,000 order for the Air Force and until yesterday the Pentagon had firmly refused permission for it to take on civilian business.Secretary Harold E. Talbott said the Air Force "is now satisfied that such commercial production will not interfere with or delay scheduled deliveries to the Air Force."The Air Force uses the KC-135 to refuel its giant B-52 all-jet bombers. It has a rated cruising speed of 500 miles an hour and is powered by four turbojet engines.PLUMBERS AND LABORERS CONTINUE WAGE TALKSWage negotiations between plumbing contractors and 450 laborers continued today, after union negotiators agreed to give the contractors' committee additional time in which to seek authority for a new offer.The laborers had voted to strike if their demands were not met by midnight last night.The union men, members of Locals 42, 53 and 110 of the AFL Laborers' Union, rejected an offer of an increase of 7½ cents an hour in a contract to run 18 months.KRESGE'S*Save on Cups—Saucers, Sets

How to Pamper Your Wife

while saving money and enjoying more good food...at the FORUM!

"Dining Out" is no novelty to most men who work downtown. Maybe you're a Forum "regular" for lunch every day. Then you know what a relaxing pleasure it is to select good food and more of it from Forum's big variety... and enjoy generous, balanced, satisfying lunches at sandwich-and-coffee prices.

But what about your wife? Sure she's a wonder in the kitchen, a marvelous manager... justly proud of the way she feeds the family. Even so, it gets mighty monotonous—fighting that three-a-day battle of planning meals, shopping for groceries, cooking—and then washing stacks of dirty dishes.

Why not give her a break from the kitchen—at least two or three times a week? It's so easy to bring the whole family in for dinner at The Forum!

The cost? No more than the same meal would cost at home—and often less. Fact is, families of four often get change from a five-dollar bill. And, compared with the usual cost of eating out, you'll agree you save enough to see a top downtown show. Isn't this a good family GO?

LEADERS PREDICT SENATE PASSAGE OF RESERVE BILL

Compulsory Features Probably Will Not Be Restored, Knowland Asserts.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Senate leaders said today they expect passage, without major change, of a military reserves bill shorn of compulsory training requirements for present and former service men.

Republican Minority Leader William F. Knowland of California told reporters he knew of no plan to try to restore "compulsory features which were sought by President Eisenhower and approved in part by the House."

He said a Senate-House conference should be able to adjust differences and insure enactment of the broad new program before the session ends.

Acting Democratic Leader Earle Clements of Kentucky said the Senate would begin work on the controversial legislation right after action on two resolutions dealing with satellite states and colonialism. He hoped for passage later today.

Rider Not Expected.
Clements and Knowland said they did not expect any Senators to offer anti-segregation riders. Approval of a racial amendment to a similar bill in the House stalled action there for weeks.

The Senate Armed Services Committee, approving the measure yesterday, voted to require future reserve training only of those men entering regular service 30 days or more after the measure becomes law. That would delay the compulsory drills at least until late in 1957. The version of the bill the House passed would have permitted an almost immediate use of a form of compulsion, as requested by the President, to assure trained men for the expanded reserve forces he wants. The House voted to permit required training of all men who entered service after the Korean armistice, July 27, 1953.

The Senate committee voted, 7 to 2, to reject that idea, however, and proposed instead a scale of bonuses to veterans who voluntarily join Army and Marine Corps combat reserve units in the next two years.

Chairman Richard Russell (Dem.), Georgia, calling for Senate passage of that plan, said in an interview that "I think we have a good, workable bill and I'm ready to defend it anywhere."

Next Move Uncertain.
The committee action left Senate Republicans uncertain of their next move, despite hurried conferences on possible means of rescuing some of the Administration's original proposals.

Chairman Styles Bridges of New Hampshire said the Senate Republican Policy Committee discussed the reserve bill at length yesterday but "took no action."

He hinted that Republicans might try to knock out the special enlistment bonus as "a dangerous precedent."

Assistant Secretary of Defense Carter L. Burgess, in charge of manpower, made a hurried call on Senators after the committee decisions were known.

Although Congress recently increased similar initial enlistment bonuses for regular troops, Bridges said the reserves "have been built up on a theory of patriotism and volunteers." Senator Ralph Flanders (Rep.), Vermont, said he would support the Russell proposals because thousands of draft-age men had done active service with the understanding they were through unless there was a war or other emergency.

"I think the Democrats with few exceptions and a good many Republicans will vote the same way," Flanders said.

Little Senate opposition appeared to the key new proposal of allowing teen-age youth to volunteer for a few months training with the active forces and then serve the remainder of an eight-year obligation in the active reserve.

The Senate committee made some changes in this

Original Proposal.
Initially the President and Pentagon had asked that youths from 17 to 18½ years—the legal minimum for draftees—be permitted to volunteer for six months active training and then shift to the National Guard or reserves for seven and one-half years.

The House revised this by eliminating the National Guard and barring such volunteers until they had completed high school or reached 19 years of age.

The Senate committee knocked out this provision and voted to allow volunteers from 17 to 20. Pentagon spokesmen protested that this might discourage enlistment of thousands of young men 17, 18 and 19 who have been volunteering for the regular forces in large numbers rather than take a chance of being drafted later.

SHIPS COLLIDE, 2 LIFEBOATS WITH 20 MEN PICKED UP

Two Lifeboats Picked Up After English Channel Collision.
RAMSGATE, England, July 14 (AP)—A rescue vessel today picked up two lifeboats with the captain and crew of the Liberian freighter Cygnus which radioed it was in collision earlier in the English channel with the Panamanian ship Captain Lukis.

A coast guard officer said the crew of the 718-ton Cygnus—about 20 men—were reported to be "all OK." The Cygnus was still afloat after being holed in the collision. The Captain Lukis was proceeding practically undamaged.

CAPE BOY, TESTING NOOSE, ACCIDENTALLY HANGS SELF

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—Doyle Sites, 14-year-old schoolboy, was hanged Tuesday, apparently while testing a noose he had fashioned from a length of sash cord.

The boy was found hanging from a rafter in a closet at his home.

Coroner J. F. Sigmund said the death was accidental and that no inquest was necessary. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zenas W. Sites.

Justice Warren in Bonn, Germany, July 14 (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren arrived last night on his tour of west European nations.

U NU IN SAN FRANCISCO, WEARS BENSON TIE CLASP

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14 (AP)—U Nu, Prime Minister of Burma, arrived last night on his latest world tour in the interests of peace.

He wore on his gray Burmese tunic two decorations—a tie clasp he received from Secretary of Agriculture Benson and wears despite the fact the Burmese costume does not include a necktie, and a silver star emblem of the Vigilantes of El Centro, Calif., of which he has been made an honorary member.

For the next two days the Prime Minister will tour the San Francisco bay area and attend several civic functions. Saturday morning he will take a Pan American Clipper to Honolulu, en route to Tokyo.

TWO DAY NURSERIES HERE PRAISED BY EASTERN TEACHER

Sister Mary DeLourdes, director of the School for Young Children at St. Joseph's College, West Hartford, Conn., said yesterday she had never seen fine day nurseries "anywhere" than two nurseries here, Guardian Angel and St. Elizabeth's.

Sister DeLourdes spoke at a meeting of the day care committee of the Social Planning Council, a United Fund agency. Because children who come to day nurseries are often the products of homes torn by conflict, the need for exceptional teachers to offset such damage is particularly great, she said.

Sister DeLourdes said: "A thousand dollars spent in getting high type teachers today will save any community many thousands of dollars later in costly remedial work."

NORWEGIANS TO TACKLE EASTER ISLAND RIDDLE

OSLO, July 14 (AP)—A Norwegian archeological expedition headed by explorer Thor Heyerdahl of Kon-Tiki fame will sail for the Pacific in September in the first serious attempt to solve the riddle of Easter Island.

Heyerdahl said the one-year expedition will try to confirm his theory that many South Pacific islands were settled from Peru and Ecuador.

Easter Island about 2300 miles west of South America, is known for its mysterious prehistoric stone statues, some of them 30 feet tall.

Heyerdahl in 1947 drifted across the Pacific from Peru on a balsa raft to prove that Poly-

PENTAGON SAYS IT EXPLAINED HASTY FUND USE

But Congressmen Assert Defense Officials Promised Money
Would Be Returned.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (UP)—The Defense Department said yesterday the plan for its last-minute, year-end obligation of $614,000,000 in foreign-aid funds was explained to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee weeks ago.

Officials denied the contention of Senator Mike Mansfield (Dem., Montana), a committee member, that the money was committed to new orders in a "deliberate shortcut" of congressional policy that certain carryover funds be returned to the Treasury at the end of a fiscal year.

Mansfield accused the department of "reckless... financial gyrations" and urged the House and Senate Appropriations Committees and the General Accounting Office to investigate. The department's action in committing the money on June 30, the last day of fiscal 1955, was largely responsible for a House cut of $420,000,000 in Administration requested new military aid for fiscal 1956.

"Finagling" Charged. In voting the cut, key Republican and Democratic House members leveled a charge of financial "finagling" against the department.

Congressmen said on the House floor that H. Struve Hensel, former Assistant Defense Secretary, and other Administration officials had promised that $420,000,000 would be returned to the Treasury. But they said on the "last hour of the last day" of the fiscal year the funds in question were obligated.

Defense officials cited a letter to Mansfield from Assistant Defense Secretary W. J. McNeil as well as other information supporting their side of the controversy.

They said that Hensel told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on May 10 that he had worked out a plan of foreign military aid which would leave only $100,000,000 in unobligated funds on June 30. That plan depended on having the military services provide by May 31 certifications of "valid obligations" for military equipment. The obligations would be in line with stricter rules adopted by Congress last year.

By May 13, when the Army was lagging in its certifications, Hensel told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that his plan was "endangered," officials recalled. He estimated that unobligated funds at June 30 would be $620,000,000.

Congressional Mandate. In view of a congressional mandate that no more than $200,000,000 could be carried over to fiscal 1956, it then appeared that $420,000,000 would be returned to the Treasury.

The Army, however, caught up with its work by June 21. The Defense Department decided, as McNeil told Mansfield, "to make a determined effort to complete the original planned actions before the end of the fiscal year."

Budget Bureau approval was sought on June 24 and granted on June 30. Orders which "had long been prepared" then were issued for obligating $614,000,000, officials said.

As a result, it is now estimated that the department began the new fiscal year with a carry-over "well within the $100,000,000" estimated last May 10.

McNeil told Mansfield the difficulty "arose from the fact that the process of certifying obligations has been a slower process than was anticipated by Mr. Hensel and others in the Department of Defense."

WASHINGTON U. REPORTS ON SECOND CENTURY GIFTS

Gifts and pledges totaling $5,323,173 have been received by Washington University for its second century development program, it was announced today. The figure is 20.61 per cent of a three-year goal to collect $20,000,000.

Nine gifts totaling $3,823,150 from leadership-trusts and foundation pledges division were included in the amount collected. Gifts, pledges and statements of intent received from 43 corporations total $1,094,550 and a total of $605,473 has been received from 78 individuals.

The university seeks to collect $50,000,000 over a 10-year period under the program which began April 25. The money will be used to provide buildings, increase faculty salaries, and endow professorships and scholarships. New buildings contemplated under the program include a community center, a university student union and residence halls.

2 BLASTS AT LITTLE ROCK
PLANT; DYNAMITE FOUND

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 14 (AP)—Two explosions ripped through the Terry Dairy Products Co. early today, and police cleared the building after 20 sticks of dynamite were found in the engine room.

The first explosion at 2 a.m. caused an estimated $100,000 damage. A night watchman was hurt slightly.

At 5 a.m., a second explosion rocked the other end of the building. A worker said the blast occurred just as he was preparing to light a boiler. He was not injured.

Police cleared the building after a package of dynamite was found near where the second explosion occurred.

WALKOUT HALTS OUTPUT, 6000 IDLE AT STUDEBAKER

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 14 (AP)—Workers on the final assembly line at the Studebaker-Packard Co. walked off the job today, making about 6000 plant employees idle and halting production of Studebaker automobiles.

The work stoppage stemmed from a dispute over seniority, a management spokesman said. Between 75 and 100 men took part in the initial walkout.

The company official did not disclose any details except to say plant officials were conferring with the CIO United Auto Workers in an effort to settle differences over the "bumping" system, whereby a worker with more seniority is given certain preference over another worker.

About 3000 non-production employees remained on the job.

HOUSE GROUP TAKES UP TAX PLAN FOR ROADS

Republicans Say They Will Seek Compromise Between Financing Proposals.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Republicans promised a strong effort in the House Public Works Committee today to compromise rival proposals for financing a mammoth new road building program.

The committee yesterday approved the construction program itself, calling for about 37 billion in federal funds and 10 billions from the states in the next 12 years.

But it defeated, 19 to 14, President Eisenhower's proposal to finance the road building expansion largely through bonds to be issued by a special government corporation.

The committee takes up today a substitute Democratic plan to pay for the new roads by immediate increases in taxes on gasoline, trucks and buses, heavy tires and tubes, and diesel fuel.

Protests Made.

As approved by a subcommittee, these increases would raise about $850,000,000 a year. Some Republicans and Democrats have protested that the increases are too steep, especially on truckers, and drives were under way to reduce them.

To dramatize that campaign, the American Trucking Association plastered both sides of a big tractor-trailer with dollar bills, but said it could get on only $3212 of the $4480 in federal and state taxes it said already must be paid to buy and operate such a truck for one year.

Representative Russell V. Mack (Rep., Washington), said Republicans would make a strong effort to cut in half the proposed tax increases and raise the rest of the money through a bond plan along the lines advocated by the President.

Some Democrats talked of scaling down the taxes proposed by the subcommittee. Some said other new taxes would be suggested instead, and some said the committee might whittle down the proposed increases and let it go at that.

Committee Change Urged.

Still others favored sending the whole financing problem to the House Ways and Means Committee, which traditionally starts all tax bills through Congress.

The big increase in the 12-year construction program would be 26½ billion dollars to complete 40,000 miles of broad interstate highways. The federal share would be about 24 billions. Lesser amounts would be spent for primary, secondary and urban roads on a 50-50 matching basis.

The committee yesterday defeated moves to cut the interstate funds in half, and to slice $100,000,000 a year from urban roads.

The tax increases originally approved by the subcommittee: Gasoline, from 2 to 3 cents a gallon; trucks and buses, from 8 to 10 per cent; diesel fuel, used by trucks and buses, 2 to 6 cents a gallon; heavy tires, 5 to 15 cents a pound; heavy tubes, 9 to 15 cents a pound; camel-back for heavy tire retreads, from no tax now to 7½ cents a pound.

Financing Bill.

Congress completed action yesterday on a compromise bill appropriating $1,361,500 to finance the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority and public works programs in the current fiscal year. The measure now goes to the President.

The Senate approved the bill on a voice vote after Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper (Rep., Iowa), had said that reductions in the AEC section would confront the nation with a "catastrophe." The House voted approval, 315-92, earlier yesterday.

The compromise was for $424,000,000 less than Eisenhower requested. This was $7,000,000 less than the House originally had approved, and $12,000,000 below original Senate allotments.

Major sums included $575,000,000 for operating expenses of the AEC, $27,053,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority, $401,173,000 for river and harbor and flood control construction, and $51,902,000 for flood control work on the Mississippi river and its tributaries.

G.I. Survivors' Bill.

The House voted yesterday for a sweeping overhaul of Government payments to survivors of service men.

The complicated bill, one of the measures the President wants enacted this session, won House passage without change despite cries that it would set up "a caste system for widows" by basing their survivor payments for the first time on their husband's rank.

Final passage came on a voice vote.

The measure now goes to the Senate which has not yet held hearings on the bill.

The complicated measure would do away with the present $10,000 free life insurance for G.I.s and with federal employment compensation act coverage that gives bigger benefits to reservists than to regular armed forces members.

Instead, all members of the armed forces would be brought under the Social Security system and Veterans Administration payments to their survivors would be increased along a sliding scale.

The legislation is aimed at giving an added incentive for a career military service and streamlining the present hodgepodge of payments for service men's survivors.

Anybody now getting payments could choose whether to stay under the old system or go under the new.

The new "package" arrangement is expected to cost the Government more than the present systems to start with, but less after several years.

A 10-year controversy over the height of the Garrison (N.D.) reservoir wound up yesterday with the high-level forces in control. The Senate and House approved a conference report on the big public works appropriation bill which included $200,000 to start work on the Garrison dam and reservoir and sent the measure to the White House.

Representative Usher L. Burdick (Rep., North Dakota), who had fought for years against high-level operations of the pool, conceded there was little chance of Congress changing its mind in the future.

The House originally approved $20,000,000 for Garrison in the year which began July 1. The Senate, however, accepted an amendment by Senator Milton Young (Rep., North Dakota), to add $100,000 to start work on dikes and other protective measures in the Williston vicinity.

The dikes would be needed before the reservoir could be filled to capacity—a height of 1850 feet above sea level. Burdick had held out for a level of not more than 1840 feet above sea level.

TWO FROM ST. LOUIS U. WIN $1650 DU PONT FELLOWSHIPS

Two graduate students at St. Louis University have been awarded $1650 on-year du Pont fellowships for work toward a master of science degree in the teaching of chemistry, it was announced today.

Recipients of the awards are Gordon Noble, Vicksburg, Mich., and Alfred C. Heidman, Whittier, Calif.

In addition, 18 high school chemistry teachers have received du Pont fellowships worth a total of $8100 for summer study at the St. Louis University Institute for the Teaching of Chemistry, now in session. Sister Mary Eric Zeis, Rosati-Kain High School, is the only St. Louisian in the group.

FRENCH SHUT DOWN LAST INTERNMENT CAMP IN MOROCCO

PARIS, July 14 (AP)—A Bastille day order by French authorities in Morocco today closed what was said to be the last internment camp in the North African protectorate. The move was made in honor of the French national holiday.

The order was issued by Resident General Gilbert Grandval. He said he was freeing 31 Moroccans from the Arhbaloum Kerdous camp and putting it out of business. The camp was set up in an effort to cope with a terror campaign waged by Moroccans seeking independence.

The French cabinet, meanwhile, moved toward firmer control of Algeria, another rebel-plagued area of French North Africa, by deciding to set up a fourth administrative unit in the country.

The new unit, to be known as the Bone department (county), was formerly part of the Constantine department—a nationalist hotbed. Its exact boundaries were not immediately disclosed.

Reports from Algeria said six nationalist rebels were killed today in clashes with soldiers and police.

CHURCH URGES PRESS FREEDOM IN ARGENTINA

Pastoral Letter Calls This First Step in Establishing Real Public Opinion.

BUENOS AIRES, July 14 (AP)—Argentina's Roman Catholic episcopate has urged that the government grant complete freedom of press and public meetings as the first step in establishing a real public opinion in this country.

A pastoral letter calling for such action was published yesterday in response to President Juan D. Peron's July 5 appeal for a political truce.

The letter also said the "legitimate rights and liberties" of the church and public and personal rights and liberties must be protected.

The 4000-word letter reviewed events it said figured in the "state of religious persecution in Argentina." Its 24 signers included two cardinals and five archbishops.

"It is necessary to admit the need of restoring indispensable conditions so that a real public opinion, representing the thought of all inhabitants of the country, can freely and fully express itself," the letter said.

Totalitarian Rule Assailed.

The National Executive Committee of the Socialist party also responding to Peron's appeal, said a "return to normality in political life is not jeopardized by parties or citizens."

The obstacle is in the totalitarian regime that burdens the nation."

A minority group in the Democratic (conservative) party decried that Peron retire from office.

In another political development, it was announced that a new Christian Democratic party was "in formation."

The Christian Democratic movement has existed as a Catholic social and cultural group in Argentina for 30 years.

Catholic church sources reported yesterday the Government has decided to resume salary payments to some clergymen.

Subsidies Apparently Cut Off.

The Government apparently had cut off financial subsidies to the church last month. Church sources said these included salary payments to about 900 of 16,000 clergymen.

The salary contributions had been paid by the government for almost 120 years to prelates and their assistants. The payments are small—under current living standards. For instance, Cardinal Santiago Luis Copello, the 75-year-old primate of Argentina, receives 3000 pesos (about $215) monthly.

The government also apparently cut off contributions to private Catholic schools last spring.

OWEN E. THOMPSON TAKES JEFFERSON CITY SCHOOL JOB

Owen E. Thompson, former principal of Wellston's Central Elementary School and Junior High School, has accepted a post in the Jefferson City (Mo.) school system, the Post-Dispatch was told today.

Thompson was notified April 27 after 17 years as principal that his contract would not be renewed by the Board of Education of the Wellston School District.

Thompson, who was Wellston's first mayor, was charged last January with administering a severe beating as punishment to a 12-year-old boy, a pupil at Central Elementary School. A petition that his contract be renewed, which contained a total of 650 names, was presented to the school board at its June 9 meeting by a committee of residents of the district.

Harold B. Renley, president of the Jefferson City Board of Education, said Thompson would move there within the next 30 days and would start September 1 as principal of the West Elementary School. Renley said the Jefferson City board "feels very fortunate in getting him."

ENGINEERS, UNION ELECTRIC CONTINUE WAGE TALKS

Negotiations between the AFL Operating Engineers and Union Electric Co. were continued today in an attempt to avert a strike set for midnight Sunday.

Both the company and the union said today's session was scheduled at the request of federal conciliators who are participating in conferences.

James Flanagan, president of Local 148 of the union, representing 1225 employees at seven power plants, said all-day negotiations yesterday brought no change in a company wage offer previously rejected by the union membership.

MISSOURI TO ALLOCATE NEW SALK SHOT SUPPLIES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 14—State health division officials were preparing today to allocate new supplies of Salk vaccine to the counties where local authorities desire to go ahead with inoculations this summer. St.

Louis and St. Louis county will not be included, under present plans.

Missouri is to receive enough for 50,000 shots out of a supply just released by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Dr. James R. Amos, health division director, said it would be distributed over the state.

Directors of the program in St. Louis, St. Louis county and several other counties have decided to delay second shots for first- and second-grade pupils.

SUSPECT ADMITS KIDNAPING AND ATTACKING GIRL, 2

Says He Struck Iowa Child Until He 'Went to Pieces' — Part of Story Checks.

JOPLIN, Mo., July 14 (UP)—An itinerant farm hand, in a new and detailed statement, told today of raping 2-year-old Donna Sue Davis of Sioux City, Ia., and then hitting her until he "went to pieces."

Audrey Earl Brandt, alias Albert Daws, gave details which tallied on "seven of 10 major points" in the sex killing. Acting Detective Capt. Johnny Showers of the Joplin police department reported.

In his statement, Brandt, who was known at La Porte City, Ia., by the nickname of "Mugeye," said that "on or about last Sunday" he hitch-hiked from La Porte City to Sioux City, arriving shortly after dark.

He said he asked a policeman how to get to a highway which would take him to Tucson, Ariz., and was directed to U.S. 75.

"I walked down the street, up a hill and over a bridge," he said. "Before the bridge, I passed a house and saw a woman sitting on the porch." He said he went across the bridge, but returned to the house, planning to ask the woman for a cup of coffee.

Changes Mind.
Instead of asking the woman for coffee, he changed his mind, went around to a bedroom window, looked in and saw a little girl on the bed. He opened the screen, Brandt said, and climbed into the bedroom, and carried her out.

She was asleep and made no outcry, he said. He said he carried her across the bridge and as he was crossing someone "yelled at me, but I didn't pay any attention and kept on going."

On the other side of the bridge, he said, he carried the little girl down a side road and into a field, where the criminal assault took place. When she cried he threw her down on the ground. When she continued to scream, he said, he hit her and then "went to pieces."

"I don't know how many times I hit her after that," Brandt said that he went back to the bridge where he had hidden his suitcase, then went about a quarter of a mile to a creek, where he washed up and changed clothes. He said he discarded his bloody pants and took the other garments with him.

Brandt was taken to municipal court, where he pleaded not guilty on a vagrancy charge and bond was fixed at $75. The light charge was designed to hold him until his story would be checked.

The outcome of comparisons of Brandt's fingerprints with prints found in the child's bedroom at Sioux City was not yet known. The prints were sent to Washington for comparison but Federal Bureau of Investigation authorities there said any announcement would have to come from agents in Missouri.

Showers said yesterday that Brandt "admitted any crime we asked him about, so we couldn't be sure of anything."

Iowa police said Brandt has a record of one conviction for molesting a young girl in a Cedar Rapids theater in 1947 and was fined $100. He was arrested last April 24 at Waterloo, Ia., for investigation of annoying two small girls in a movie theater, but was released when the investigation showed no molesting.

At La Porte City, town marshal Henry Kruse said he has known Brandt since he was a small boy and said he has worked as a farmhand and odd-job man in the La Porte City area all his adult life.

Kruse said Brandt didn't get much schooling (the Associated Press said he had a first-grade education) "can barely write his name." He said Brandt had been involved in petty thievery a long time in the La Porte City area but was never prosecuted because the people in town knew they could go to him and get their property back. La Porte City is about 290 miles east of Sioux City.

A truck driver's suspicion led to Brandt's arrest on a Joplin street about midnight Tuesday. The driver, who gave Brandt a ride to Joplin from Springfield, Mo., said the man acted strangely and would not talk except to say he was "headed south."

All Brandt had in his possession was an overnight bag containing shaving and toilet articles.

Police and FBI agents reported several "good" fingerprints were found in the bedroom from which the girl was abducted last Sunday night while her parents watched television in another room. The prints were found on the child's crib and on the window frame through which the killer escaped.

The ravaged body of the girl was found late Monday at the edge of a muddy cornfield near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri river from Sioux City, Ia.

She was buried yesterday.

AMMUNITION TRAILER BLOWS UP IN AUSTRIA, FOUR KILLED
VIENNA, July 14 (AP)—Two Soviet soldiers and two Austrians were reported killed by the explosion of a Russian ammunition trailer in the village of Furth yesterday.

Austrian police said four other Austrians were injured. Several houses were badly damaged and hundreds of windows were shattered.

Austrian eyewitnesses said the trailer, pulled by a truck, crashed against the corner of a house in a curve and blew up. The truck and trailer were part of an ammunition convoy passing through the village at high speed, they said.

FOUND RED PARTY DULL AND QUIT IT, REPORTER SAYS

New York Times Man Testifies It 'Actually Hampered' Him in Union Organizing.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Ira Henry Freeman, veteran reporter for the New York Times, testified today he joined the Communist party in 1933 but quit a year later, finding membership "dull and futile."

Freeman was before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, which has been holding hearings on Communist party membership among newspapermen.

Freeman told the Senators he has been employed by the Times since 1923 and that it had been through his connection with the Americans Newspaper Guild that he became a party member.

He said he had been recruited by Milton Kaufman, then executive director of the New York local of the Newspaper Guild, and by another person now dead whose name he asked to be permitted not to disclose.

Attorney Paul Porter of Washington reminded the Senators that Freeman had disclosed the name in a closed hearing. Porter asked that since the "person is now deceased and unable to defend himself," his name not be made public.

Taken Under Advisement. Chairman James O. Eastland (Dem., Mississippi), took the matter under advisement and Freeman was permitted to tell his story by identifying the individual as "the other person."

Freeman said Kaufman and "the other person" joined him and his wife, Beatrice, for a drink one night after a Guild meeting and urged them to join, saying that the Freemans believed in Communist party principles.

"The Guild was my primary outside interest," Freeman said, "and it was the primary consideration that moved me favorably."

He said that he and his wife joined, that he attended maybe "half a dozen meetings," during which time he concluded that "the whole thing seemed inept and futile. The discussions of the party line seemed dull and fruitless so far as helping me in my Guild organizing. They actually hampered me."

So, he said after about a year, he told Kaufman he had "had it."

Ansel Talbert, military and aviation editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, was an earlier witness. His testimony was in effect a rebuttal to that given the subcommittee recently by Charles Grutzner, a New York Times reporter, concerning a story Grutzner filed from Korea in late 1950.

Talbert testified that Gen. George C. Stratemeyer, Far East Air Force commander, "strongly opposed" publication of any news story disclosing the first combat use of F-86 Sabrejets in Korea.

Got Pentagon Clearance. The New York Times published Dec. 18, 1950, a dispatch on use of the Sabrejets, which it had received from Grutzner with a preceding note that it was not to be published without clearance from the Pentagon.

The Times said it obtained clearance from the late Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, then Air Force chief of staff.

Talbert told the Senators that secrecy was compromised when Grutzner filed the story because, he said, it was sent by commercial wireless. He called that the equivalent of broadcasting it to the enemy.

The Herald-Tribune man said he and William Barnard, then an Associated Press war correspondent and now the Associated Press bureau chief in Dallas, found out that the F-86 was in Korea by accident during a routine trip to Kimp'o airfield near Seoul.

Later, Talbert related, he, Barnard, Grutzner and one or two others watched the F-86s return from their first combat sortie and were ordered not to print anything about it.

But, Talbert said, Grutzner filed the story.

Grutzner, now a general assignment reporter for the Times, testifying two weeks ago, denied his Sabrejet story violated security. Under questioning he acknowledged he was a Communist from 1937 to 1940. In those years, Grutzner was employed by the now defunct Brooklyn Eagle.

Einstein Kin to Testify. Also scheduled to be a witness today, but not called publicly, was Hans Bruno Meyer, described as a nephew of the late Albert Einstein and as correspondent here for a German radio station. Meyer was questioned by the subcommittee behind closed doors before the start of the public session.

The current inquiry opened June 28 when Winston M. Burdett, a Columbia Broadcasting Co. correspondent, named more than 20 persons he said he had known as fellow Communists in the late 1930s or early 1940s. Burdett did not name any of the three called today.

Chairman Eastland said he had issued a subpoena for Meyer after Meyer's name was injected into the questioning of Charles S. Lewis, one of those whom Burdett named as a fellow employee and a Communist on the now-defunct Brooklyn Eagle in the 1937-40 period.

Now Radio Official. Lewis is now director of public affairs for WCAX and WCAX-TV in Burlington, Vt. He testified yesterday he had been a Communist "for a few months" in 1937 while working on the Brooklyn Eagle.

Lewis said he had served as director of United States radio policy in postwar Germany and

Testifying at Red Inquiry

ANSEL TALBERT

that Meyer had been one of his assistants. Asked if he had ever heard it alleged that Meyer was "pro-Communist," Lewis said that in 1949 Meyer had told him he once was a Communist but had broken away.

The testimony brought out differences of opinion between Lewis and William H. Heinrich over the operation of the Berlin radio station RIAS, which Lewis said he set up after the war to broadcast into the Soviet sector of Germany.

Heinrich was Army chief of intelligence in Berlin after the war and later became director of RIAS. He indicated he felt that Meyer had tipped the Russians to a propaganda show the station was planning in 1949 on the tenth anniversary of the Hitler-Stalin pact.

Originally from Columbus, O., but now a Washington business man, Heinrich told reporters Meyer was born in Germany but had become a United States citizen in 1945 and was a nephew of Einstein.

Lewis testified he recommended that Heinrich be fired in 1949 as director of the radio station, saying Heinrich had refused to put certain economies into effect.

He said he did not know of any protests that RIAS was "pro-Communist," but Heinrich told the subcommittee that at the time he became station director there were complaints that "a soft line was being pursued . . . in the guise of objectivity."

Besides Lewis, the subcommittee yesterday questioned two other former Brooklyn Eagle news employees named by Burdett as onetime Communists.

They were David A. Gordon, a reporter on the New York Daily News, and Melvin L. Barnett, who has been a copy reader for the New York Times. Both testified they are not now Communists.

Both refused, under their Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination, to say whether they once had been.

The New York Daily News said it had no statement on Gordon.

Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times, quickly notified Eastland that Barnett had been fired. In a separate letter to Barnett, Sulzberger wrote:

"The course of conduct which you have followed since your name was first mentioned in this connection culminating in your action today has caused the Times to lose confidence in you as a member of its news staff. Accordingly, this will serve as notice of termination of your employment."

In New York the local of the CIO American Newspaper Guild, bargaining agent for the Times' editorial employees, said it would "do its utmost" to have Barnett reinstated. M. Michael Potok, the local's secretary-treasurer, said:

"Barnett testified he had not been a Communist for the past 13 years. What he may have done before is an event so remote in time that it does not seem to have sufficient force to be used as a cause for firing."

In New York, President Joseph P. Collis of the American Newspaper Guild said in a statement that "there is no Communist problem in the Guild today."

There has been none for a long time."

He said that 18 years ago such testimony as the subcommittee has been receiving "might have been helpful." Collis said the Guild began to oust Communists from positions of influence in 1933 and succeeded in this work in 1941.

LIGHTING CALLED MOST NEGLECTED FEATURE IN HOME

CHICAGO (UPI)—"Before you buy that dream house, go back and look at every room and closet after dark."

That was the advice issued by the American Home Lighting Institute which said that lighting is the most neglected feature in the average home building and home furnishing plan.

A recent survey showed that only $32.14 worth of light fixtures is in the average home though a minimum of $200 is required, the institute said. It offered this six-point check list for prospective home buyers:

1. Make sure there is at least one ceiling fixture in every room, closet and hall.

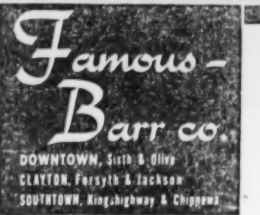

2. Look for valance or cornice lighting installations over the drapery window.

3. Make certain living and dining room walls are fully lighted.

4. Check kitchen lighting to make sure there is an overhead fixture as well as specific lights for the sink and other work areas.

5. Make sure that there is a ceiling fixture plus lights on both sides of the mirror in the bathroom.

6. Check that all stairway, entrance and garage doors are lighted as a protection against dangerous accidents and robberies.

WHO'S WHO in the NEWS
New Health Secretary Folsom
Is Social Security Pioneer,
Organized the 'Rochester Plan'

Program of 14 Companies to Provide Lay-off Pay Was Startling in Depression, Made Him National Figure in Social Planning.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP).

MARION BAYARD FOLSOM, chosen by President Eisenhower to be the new Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is a pioneer in social security.

He devised, and put into practice in 1928 a private social security system at the Eastman Kodak Co., where he was assistant to the chairman. That was seven years before the United States became the last of the major industrial nations to legislate protection against old age, unemployment and widowhood.

And in 1931, as unemployment mounted toward its depression worst, Folsom organized 14 companies at Rochester, N.Y., including Eastman, into the "Rochester Plan"—a scheme of layoff pay similar in some respects to the agreements signed this spring by Ford and General Motors with the CIO United Auto Workers.

Many Sought Advice.

This effort, starting in the depression year of 1937, sent hopeful delegations from cities across the nation to Rochester to confer with Folsom, in hopes that other cities could imitate the "Rochester Unemployment Benefit Plan."

The Rochester plan coming atop the Eastman-financed social security plan for its wage earners made Folsom nationally known as a big business executive with a bent for social planning.

Folsom, now 61 years old, was born Nov. 23, 1893 in McRae, Ga. He is a soft-spoken man who neither drinks nor smokes and has made a life specialty of the dusty complexities of pensions, and tax and social security law.

When the Eisenhower Administration came into power, Folsom was appointed Under Secretary of the Treasury for tax matters.

From the outset, his Treasury job was the complete revision, first in more than 70 years, of the federal tax code, p. t into law last year. Folsom claimed little public notice for his part in devising the new 900-page tax law, but it is very much his work.

That job done, he had planned to return to private business this summer. But the illness in her family which prompted Mrs. Ovetta Culp Hobbs' resignation as Secretary of Welfare opened a job Folsom could not resist—administering and making policy for the social security system he helped develop.

Folsom, a Harvard Business School graduate with a passion for figures and detail, has often been an advocate of business as well as to workers and the community in proposals that set other business men to crying "socialism."

In 1931 he publicly urged adoption by industry of the five-day week. Also, he told a national meeting of Community Chest executives that planned public works could be used as a powerful anti-depression weapon.

It was with this background that the late President Roosevelt picked Folsom, a Republican, to help make the social security laws. Folsom has served as a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce and as a member of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council. He is an overseer of Harvard college and he is a Presbyterian.

Geneva Staff

Lower Level Aids May Limit Flexibility of President, Dulles.

By DORIS FLEESON.

WASHINGTON.

THE limitations which the United States has imposed upon itself at the "summit" conference at Geneva are underscored by the composition of its delegation. That delegation is purely bureaucratic and, except for President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, drawn entirely from the second and third levels of government.

What it reflects as Secretary Dulles's pessimism about Soviet intentions. He has chosen people who will help him not to make mistakes of technique and procedure nor fall into traps. But they are not going to produce ideas or outdo the Russians with creative imagination.

Perhaps if the President had had more experience with creating policy rather than executing it the story would be different. He is plainly optimistic. He admits to having a hunch that a change is in the air.

If by habit of mind and thought he did not feel obliged to go through channels and work with a chain of command, he might have been interested in taking with him some idea men. Paul Hoffman, the first Marshall plan administrator, is an example of an Eisenhower supporter of great international experience who is not afraid to propose new ideas to meet new problems.

The vacuum created by the routine feature of United States plans, will probably be filled by the British, possibly by the French. The British Conservatives have recently won an election in which they promised to seek solutions to existing tensions. Prime Minister Eden has already proved at one Geneva conference—on Indochina—that he has not been afraid to sponsor and to press compromises which were considerably less than perfect from the standpoint of the West.

At some point, the Eisenhower Administration is going to have to come up with new ideas of its own. So far it has been continuing the policy of containing Communism by rearmament at home and by forming and strengthening alliances abroad. Whether or not the Soviets have changed, they appear to be changing. While Americans laugh at the spectacle of Khrushchev getting tight at parties in Belgrade, they must not forget that he gave the impression to uncommitted nations—possible to some of the committee—that the Soviet Union was sweetly reasonable and flexible. The United States must not appear inflexible.

No President or Secretary of State in history were ever better protected at home from the operations of domestic politics than are Mr. Eisenhower and Dulles. Their only severe critics are in their own party and are silenced not just by the fact that Americans long for peace, but by a simple, practical, political fact. The Republicans need Mr. Eisenhower next year. It is not precisely a secret that he has a hot temper. Except for Senator McCarthy and a few like him, no Republican is going to take a chance on angering the President so that he will pick up his marbles and go home from their nominating convention next year.

It is true that the Russians have most of the aces. The West has no territory to give away like the satellite states and East Germany. But it can still have a program more concrete than good intentions.

PLANS BEFORE END OF YEAR

CHICAGO, July 14 (UP)—Adlai Stevenson will announce his presidential plans "well before the end of the year."

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate told this to reporters yesterday after a visit with former President Truman, who was attending the Shriners' convention.

Asked if the two leading Democrats talked about victory prospects in 1956, Truman replied: "There aren't any prospects to talk about. We know what will happen. We will win."

Republicans
Could Not Now
Capture House

G.O.P. Has Made No Headway Since Election in 1954.

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N.J., July 14. In its first coast-to-coast check on basic party strength since the 1954 election, the Institute finds that the Republican party has made little headway in attracting supporters.

Despite the fact that President Eisenhower consistently wins out over leading Democratic contenders in Gallup Poll "trial heats," if elections were being held today, it is likely that the Democrats would keep control of the House of Representatives.

To win control, recent experience indicates that the Republicans must pull approximately 55 per cent of all votes cast for House candidates outside the southern states.

As of today, the G.O.P. runs even with the Democratic party in the north, or about the same as they did in the 1954 Congressional election when they lost the House.

Here is what the latest survey, based on a cross-section of United States voters, shows:

A total of 50 per cent of voters outside the south with opinions say they would favor the Republican candidate if the Congressional elections were being held in their districts today, while 50 per cent say they would favor the Democratic candidate.

This compares with a division of 50.5 per cent Republican and 49.5 per cent Democratic in states outside the south last November.

In conducting its survey, the Institute questioned a cross-section of voters in all walks of life—farmers, white-collar workers, factory workers, housewives, business and professional men and women, etc.—asking this question:

"If the elections for Congress were being held today, which party would you like to see win in this state—the Republican

Mau Mau Terror Nearly Wiped
Out in Kenya After 3-Year War

African Rebels Who Killed 11,000 Persons in Campaign to Drive Out Whites Now Forced to Hide in Jungle.

By DUDLEY HAWKINS

NAIROBI, Kenya, July 14 (UP).

THE PRIMITIVE rebellion into which the Mau Mau has plunged this once idyllic British colony for three bloody years is near its end.

Slowly but inexorably brains and bullets are beating the rebels. Today there are a few thousand hunted, desperate outlaws hiding in the dense mountain jungles. To them now, food is far more important than killing white settlers or the African natives who cling to Christianity and loyalty in the face of savagery almost unbelievable.

More than 11,000 men, women and children have been killed. More than $100,000,000 have been spent to prevent mass murder. Magnificent mountain lodges, serene farm homes have been burned, cattle by the thousands butchered. Hatreds have been inflamed that will take decades to cool.

The Mau Mau began almost unnoticed 10 years ago. Kikuyu tribesmen and their cousins in the Meru and Embu reserves disappeared mysteriously. Then, in isolated places, African families were found butchered in their huts. They had refused to join the Mau Mau.

The terrorists were encouraged by the early complicity of British colonial administration. These civil servants still lived in the glow of hunting, incoming motion picture safaris and whisky and soda.

By 1952 the well-armed terrorist gangs made brave by moonshine liquor, blood oaths and promises of taking land from the whites, had left a ghastly trail of death through the reserves.

Razor-sharp pangas cut down anyone who refused to co-operate. Oath-taking ceremonies—orgies of sex and superstition to initiate recruits—were held openly just outside Nairobi.

In October 1952, British paratroopers landed and a state of emergency was declared. On a pre-arranged plan, Mau Mau leaders fled the city, leaving a few unimportant "generals" behind to be captured and leave the impression the crisis had ended.

In the jungles and mountain country, the Mau Mau organized an intricate system of "cells" on Communist lines which stretched to every Kikuyu, Embu and Meru tribesman.

Among the whites pistols appeared on every hip and in

IT IS WELL KNOWN that the feud between the two gentlemen from California, Vice President Nixon and Senator Knowland, is one of the most vitriolic in the capital. It is not generally known that Nixon has been making it clear with Capitol Hill colleagues that, as far as President Eisenhower is concerned, he (Nixon) is winning.

At a recent off-the-record luncheon with other members of Congress, the Vice President not only needed his fellow Republican from California, but posed as the spokesman for Mr. Eisenhower and gave advice that Knowland would have to pipe down.

Nixon stated that whether Mr. Eisenhower ran again would depend not only on his desire to lead a more tranquil home life but on whether or not high Republicans kept on sniping at him.

"The President wonders when his own party leaders keep opposing his major policies in international affairs," Nixon said, obviously referring to Knowland, "whether he is not in an anomalous position, and whether he is not divorced from at least an important sector of his party. In any event, he feels this kind of criticism very deeply. It hurts."

Nixon has pretty well won Mr. Eisenhower over to his side in the controversy. The President has even agreed to some Nixon political strategy, to build him up as possible successor.

STEVENSON'S PLANS—Adlai Stevenson had some significant off-the-record talks with old friends in Washington the other day. He made it clear that he was running whether President Eisenhower runs or not.

His campaign manager will be his old friend, Steve Mitchell of Chicago, who recently resigned as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Chairman Paul Butler will not be asked to do any work, even though he is friendly to Stevenson. Stevenson does not think it would be fair to other Democratic candidates to get Butler mixed up in the nomination race. Oscar Chapman, former Secretary of the Interior, who handled Stevenson's organizing work in the west, will be drafted to organize the west again.

Stevenson regards Senator Kefauver of Tennessee as his only formidable opponent. He expressed the kindest sentiments toward Kefauver, and the wish that some other elements of the Democratic party—presumably Harry Truman and Speaker Sam Rayburn—felt different. It was Truman and Rayburn who largely turned thumbs down on Kefauver for the vice presidential nomination at Chicago in 1952.

Stevenson did not seem to agree with Republican pundits that Mr. Eisenhower is a sure-fire winner if he runs.

"Too many people," he told friends, "are paying too much attention to what Eisenhower is going to do. I don't think it makes any difference whether he runs or not."

He said a "paper curtain" had been drawn around Mr. Eisenhower to make it appear he was not responsible for the acts of his Administration. The job of the Democratic party and the Democratic candidate, Stevenson indicated, is to tear down that paper curtain and show that every President is wholly responsible for his administration.

While he did not mention him as a candidate, the only Republican Stevenson referred to in uncomplimentary terms was Vice President Nixon. Stevenson said he regarded Nixon as one of the most deceitful men in public life.

RED VOLLEY BALL—If you want to play volley ball on a certain court in Rock Creek Park near the Carter Barron Amphitheater on Sunday or Saturday afternoon, you have to get permission from the Soviet Embassy. The Embassy is quite agreeable about giving its permission, but nonetheless if you want to play from noon to 9 p.m. on Sunday or from 3 to 9 p.m. Saturday in this United States national park in the District of Columbia you have to ask the Russians.

This came about after the Soviet Embassy applied to the District of Columbia Recreation Department in April to have the use of the volley ball court on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The Recreation Department at first said no, on the ground that no such reservation had been given to any other group, but at this point the State Department stepped in. The protocol office of the State Department called the Recreation Department and told them that the Russians would have to get the permit.

No explanation was given. In diplomatic circles, it is learned that the State Department is bending over backward to provide entertainment for the Russian Embassy staff in return for concessions to the United States Embassy staff in Moscow.

WHEN Mrs. R. made her will 15 years ago, it was carefully drawn and was well suited to her needs. When she reviewed it recently, she found that it was very much out of date and that for a period of years it has been badly in need of revision.

Since making this will Mrs. R.'s parents died and their estates have come to her. Her estate was small when she made the will; it is now substantial. She had no children when she made the will and now has four children. Her husband is a successful business man and his income is now more than three times what it was fifteen years ago. Her old will left her estate outright to her husband.

After reviewing her will a short time ago, Mrs. R. discussed the matter with her husband and decided upon an entirely new plan. She now plans to leave nothing to her husband, either outright or in trust. He neither needs nor wants any part of her estate or the income from it.

Since his estate is substantial, it will be unwise for her to use the "marital deduction." She plans to leave her estate in trust for her four children and provide that the income can be used for their support and education during their minority and shall be paid direct to them after they are 21. Her sons will receive their shares of her estate, one-fourth at 25 and the balance at 30. Her daughters will receive one-fourth of their shares at 25 and the remainder will be held in trust for their lives.

THOMAS L. STOKES

Attorney General Brownell to the Rescue

PRactical political managers in the Eisenhower Administration finally are moving in to apply the brakes to overzealous banker-business influences which the politicians fear have gone too far and are bringing unfavorable public reaction.

The tip-off of the anxiety among the Administration's political managers came when Attorney General Brownell stepped out to direct an end to the Dixon-Yates affair. Brownell is recognized as the most skillful political craftsman of the Administration. He occupies the key position in the Eisenhower Administration, as we know, because of his successful management of the Eisenhower campaign. He was picked for that task because of his long experience as right-hand political lieutenant of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York whom he twice helped to win the Republican presidential nomination.

Brownell

Balked at Hoover.

Mr. Brownell, who is keenly interested in President Eisenhower's election to a second term, previously has indicated his restiveness at the seal of some of the business-banker camp followers, both in and out of the Administration.

As a member of the Hoover Commission on Reorganization of the Government he balked, for instance, at majority reports subscribed to by Herbert Hoover and others to turn over Rural Electrification Administration financing, as well as farm and home lending functions of the Federal Government, to private bankers.

He also balked at the Hoover Commission's final sweeping report urging virtual liquidation of the Federal Government's multipurpose power-reclamation-irrigation-navigation program of many years standing.

Politically astute, the Attorney General is fully aware that, popular as President Eisenhower appears to be, he would have a hard time carrying such a necklace of albatrosses in the 1956 presidential campaign.

Price of Greed.

He knows, too, that it was the greed and blind haste of the banker-business influences operating upon the Republican Eightieth Congress in the second half of the first Truman Administration that contributed to the surprising defeat of Gov. Tom Dewey on his second try for the presidency in 1948, even though precedent was all on the side of Republican capture of the White House after the party had regained Congress two years earlier, in 1946.

MUSEUM BUYS 5 ART OBJECTS FOR $3000

Decorated Pieces Are From Renaissance Italy, Spain and Holland.

Five European decorated objects dating from the fifteenth century to the seventeenth have been bought by City Art Museum for a total of $3000 and were placed on exhibit today in the museum's recent accessions gallery. All were chosen by Perry T. Rathbone, director of the museum until last April.

Most valuable piece in the group is an Italian majolica bowl for which $1200 was paid. It was made in Siena in the early sixteenth century, when this kind of brilliantly painted Italian pottery, coated with whitish tin-enamel, reached its climax as an art.

Nearly a foot in diameter, the bowl has a large central area decorated with a landscape and human and animal figures painted in a style close to that of Sienese artists of the time.

Oldest object in the display is a fifteenth century albarelo, or drug jar, such as might have been used by the apothecary in the story on which Shakespeare based his "Romeo and Juliet."

This cylindrical container, 10 and a half inches high, has slightly concave sides like the bamboo cuttings that served the same purpose earlier in China. With floral decorations in Hispano-Moresque motifs, this jar is also of majolica, a term derived from Majorca, port of call for ships that brought to Italy the glazed and lustered semi-oriental wares of fifteenth-century Spain.

For a sixteenth-century Venetian ever stained, a plate designed as a base for wide-mouthed pitcher, the museum paid $350. Made of enameled copper, it measures about a foot across. The plate, an example of the rich color in Italian Renaissance wares, is glazed with cobalt blue and green and overpainted in gold.

Completing the exhibit are two seventeenth-century Dutch vessels. One is a covered glass jar six inches in height with engraved bird-and-flower designs. Its function was to hold sweetsmeats or other delicacies. Price of this glass was $150.

The other object is a $100 beverage jug nine and a half inches high, made of pewter and falence, or decorated earthenware. A marbled glaze of swirling veins of white, blue, yellow and purple has been applied over a grey-brown "biscuit," the term denoting a pottery vessel after its first firing.

H. CHAPMAN ROSE NAMED TO FOLSOM'S TREASURY POST

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated H. Chapman Rose to succeed Marion Folsom as Under Secretary of the Treasury. Rose, a lawyer from Cleveland, O., is now an assistant secretary.

Folsom was picked by the President yesterday to succeed Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby as Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Rose, 48 years old, was graduated from the Harvard law school in 1931 and was secretary to the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the Supreme Court until 1932.

Truman Says Peace Depends On President, Americans, U.N.

Former President HARRY TRUMAN addressing Imperial Potentate's banquet at Shriners' convention in Chicago last night. Seated is Imperial Potentate FRANK S. LAND.

CHICAGO, July 14 (UP)—

Former President Harry Truman said last night that world peace depends on the United Nations, Americans and the United States President.

Addressing the national Shrine convention dinner here, Truman said the U.N. was the "best hope for peace in the world." He said the nation "could rely on the U.N. to prevent the use of atomic weapons."

He called on the Shriners to support the U.N. "If you make up your minds to turn your back on peace," he said, "you may have complete destruction."

Truman, speaking without a text, said Americans are the "only hope" of the free world. Of the Presidency, he said that one of the most important points to consider is that the President as the "civilian head of the military forces is the best guarantee we have for peace in the world."

He also urged the Shriners to participate more fully in government. "You must have the best organization possible in control of your government, from the precinct to the Presidency," he said. "It's up to you."

BENEFIT LAWN PARTY HELD FOR NURSING SCHOOL FUND

A lawn party for the benefit of the scholarship fund of the Friends of the School of Nursing of St. Louis City Hospital was held last night at the home of Mrs. Thomas M. Sayman, 5399 Lindell boulevard.

Theme of the party was "A Night in Old Heidelberg," featuring German bands and folk dancers. Principal players in Municipal Opera casts also entertained.

Since 1952 proceeds of benefit entertainments have been used to provide four scholarships each year for nurses training at the hospital.

CATHOLICS GATHER IN BRAZIL FOR EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 14 (UP)—Some 200,000 Roman Catholics gathered here today for the opening of the thirty-sixth international eucharistic congress on Saturday.

Twenty-one cardinals and pilgrims from more than 30 nations will attend the week-long demonstration of faith. Pope Pius XII will address the congress by radio from the Vatican during the final mass.

Keynote of the congress will be a re-statement of the Catholic belief in spiritual redemption through the holy sacrament.

PARK OPERA CONCERT TO OPEN FESTIVAL

6-Week Series to Include 4 of Top Rodgers and Hammerstein Musicals.

The six-week Rodgers and Hammerstein Festival, consisting of a concert and four of the composing team's top musicals, will be presented for the first time anywhere when it opens Monday at the Municipal Opera. The lead-off production, the concert, will run for one week.

Mayor Raymond R. Tucker, in proclaiming Monday Rodgers and Hammerstein day in St. Louis, said, "Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II have conferred a great distinction on the City of St. Louis by granting our Municipal Opera permission to present the first festival of their stage works anywhere. Our city will further be honored by the presence of Rodgers and Hammerstein themselves."

Both will attend the opening night's performance and Rodgers will conduct the expanded 61-member orchestra in selections from "Oklahoma." The rest of the concert will be under the direction of the opera's musical director, Edwin McArthur.

Other productions of the festival are "Carousel," "Allegro," "The King and I" and "South Pacific." The last three have never before been seen at the Forest Park theater.

In the concert, four singing soloists and three principal dancers will join the opera choruses. They are soprano Margaret Roberts, contralto Jean Sanders, tenor Thomas Hayward, baritone Edwin Steffe, and dancers Cynthia Scott, Raimonda Orselli and Robert Paget. Miss Sanders, Miss Scott and Miss Orselli will make their debuts here in the show.

Miss Roberts, who made her professional debut here in 1947, has since completed four national wide concert tours. Miss Sanders has sung with the Philadelphia and Chicago symphony orchestras, the Philadelphia Civic Grand Opera, the American Chamber Opera Society and the New York Oratorio Society. Hayward, who has been a star of the Metropolitan Opera since 1945, appeared in two Municipal Opera productions in 1951. Steffe has sung in 71 productions here and appeared for eight consecutive seasons.

Miss Scott's experience includes the Ballet Theater and Radio City Music Hall. Miss Orselli, a native of Florence, Italy, made her debut as a dancer at the Opera House there and has worked in American motion pictures and television. Paget, who performed in three shows here in 1952 and in "Oklahoma" last year, has danced with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, the Ballet Theater and on Broadway.

TELLING OFF BOSS COULD SAVE YOUR LIFE, DOCTOR SAYS

PHILADELPHIA, July 14 (UP)—Telling the boss where to get off might cost you your job, but a Philadelphia physician said it could save your life.

Dr. David Gelfand, head of the cardiac work evaluation unit at the Philadelphia General Hospital, said today recent tests showed a large percentage of men and women developed heart trouble primarily because they repressed their natural aggressiveness.

Dr. Gelfand said a branch manager of a large corporation who had been given "practically impossible" production quotas and would not discuss it with his boss, wound up with a heart attack at 32.

"When the personality pattern is dominated by this inhibition of expression," Dr. Gelfand said, "we advise the patient to go back to his job, but not just sit there quietly in the corner."

"We want them to go back and blow their stacks—or at least talk it over with their bosses."

VALUE OF $132,381 PLACED ON CALVIN BASCOM ESTATE

The estate of Calvin P. Bascom, a vice president of Fayette R. Plumb Inc., was valued at $132,381 in an inventory filed in probate court yesterday.

Mr. Bascom, 530 Union boulevard, died May 29 of a heart ailment. He was 78 years old.

Principal assets of the estate were stocks with a current market value of $30,315; cash, $68,727 and life insurance, payable to the estate, $25,239. Included among stocks listed in the inventory were 509 shares of the Plumb firm valued at $25,450.

Under terms of a will filed previously, the estate will go to members of Mr. Bascom's family. Bascom came to St. Louis in 1909 to design and establish the Plumb plant, 6300 St. Louis avenue, a tool manufacturing company.

MRS. GEORGE D. WOLFF DIES; WIDOW OF BANK OFFICER

Funeral services for Mrs. George D. Wolff, whose husband was a vice president of the old Mercantile Commerce Trust Co., will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Lupton undertaking establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard, University City. Burial will be Saturday at Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Wolff, 4475 West Pine boulevard, died yesterday at St. Luke's Hospital of complications resulting from an operation six weeks ago. She was 77 years old. Her husband died in 1949.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ira Fischer; a son, Chester S. Wolff, both of Webster Groves, and a sister, Mrs. C. B. Ament, of Los Angeles.

SUZAN BALL AGAIN STRICKEN BY CANCER

Actress Who Lost Leg to Disease Is in Serious Condition.

HOLLYWOOD, July 14 (AP)—Suzan Ball, young actress who came back to a film career and marriage after losing her right leg because of cancer, is waging another battle against the disease today.

The City of Hope medical center at nearby Duarte disclosed that she has been a patient there since July 5. Her condition is serious. (The United Press said she was suffering from cancer of the lungs.)

Little more than two years ago, Miss Ball, then 19 years old, fell on a dance floor. She had just signed a movie contract. The injury to her right leg, doctors now think, aggravated a dormant condition. The following November she fell again, in the kitchen of her home. This time, the injury to the leg did not respond to treatment. The leg was amputated in January 1954.

Her illness postponed her marriage to Actor Richard Long until April 1954, but Suzan walked up the aisle on an artificial leg, just as she had said she would.

"I'm going to show the world I can walk," she announced during rehearsals for a TV play in which her husband also appeared. During much of the action she was shown in a wheelchair. But at the play's end she walked.

Then she made a picture, "Chief Crazy Horse." Thereafter Suzan and Long settled into their domestic roles.

The City of Hope announcement yesterday came as a shock to all except Suzan's closest friends in the movie colony. They knew she had not been well.

Canadian Senator Dies.

OTTAWA, July 14 (AP)—Federal Senator James H. King of Vancouver, former speaker of the Canadian Senate, died early today in the Civic hospital. He was 82 years old. His death brought to 23 the number of vacant seats in Canada's 102-member upper chamber. Senators are appointed for life by the Governor General on recommendation of the Government.

BETWEEN ROUNDS

H.G. McGeary

Ezzard Charles Wins, But What Does It Mean? EZZARD CHARLES, stubbornly pursues his boxing career in the hope, apparently, of obtaining another chance at the world's heavyweight championship which he held rather briefly.

And on his advertised comeback trip he blasts some young men while doing himself little good.

Paul Andrews, Buffalo, N.Y., is his latest victim. Charles defeated Andrews at Chicago on a split decision despite the fact that Andrews scored the only clean knockdown of the fight.

The verdict came in for criticism from the camp of Andrews, which is not unusual for a losing fighter, but you wonder at the boxing judgment of Paul's manager, Marshall Miles, who, at one time, had a hand in the business affairs of Joe Louis.

You wonder why Miles would want his up and coming youngster to box a cagy, old veteran like Charles who after many years in the ring knows every trick of the trade and how to use that knowledge.

Miles apparently thought that Charles is over the hill but still has enough of a reputation that a victory for Andrews over him would be of some importance. Instead his man suffered a setback.

From the radio version, broadcast by Jack Drees, it seemed that Andrews was a rather easy winner, at least to the writer, but a radio description is frequently difficult to use as a yardstick as to how a fight goes. You really have to be at ringside and then there may be many different ideas as to the winner.

Anyhow, Charles declared that he proposes to continue fighting and feels that he may be in line for another crack at the title by next year although he showed little to warrant that belief in his triumph over Andrews.

There is one possibility, of course, which would put Charles right at the top of the heap. That would be a victory for Archie Moore over Rocky Marciano when they meet in Yankee Stadium, Sept. 20.

Should Moore emerge the new champion, Charles can't wait point to the fact that he beat Archie three times, once on a knockout, and maybe he'll get an advertising firm to conduct a campaign designed to get him a shot at Moore.

Meanwhile, Charles is going to continue to play his trade.

"It's my business," he told writers in Chicago. "I don't have another job. Besides, how can you turn down money? You can't. You have to take the logic of it but you do think that managers of other boxers should be very careful before tackling this veteran of 34 years who still can do a pretty good job in the ring."

Pennsylvania Wakes Up.

AFTER weeks of research and deliberation, it says here, the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission will let Jimmy Crowley of Notre Dame football fame as chairman, came up with a new code for the conduct of boxing in that state. The code is so good, they think, that the chairman will be sent to the meeting of the National Boxing Association to urge nationwide adoption of it.

A reading of a summary of the code doesn't exactly send you.

It is proposed to collect 5 per cent on all admissions to closed television bouts as well as on money paid to promoters for television, radio and motion picture rights to fights, and has a requirement that an out-of-state applicant for a co-promoter's license must furnish whatever information the commission requests.

There is nothing new or revolutionary in either of these provisions and they already are in effect in most states.

The code would provide for the summary suspension of licenses pending hearings, whereas the commission formerly had to hold hearings first.

That doesn't seem to be fair and would put a weapon in the hands of the commission which, in the opinion of one not too familiar with the law, seems illegal.

Other provisions called for are: 1—new and more rigid physical standards; 2—make liability insurance compulsory for all contestants; 3—make fingerprinting of all licensees (except physicians) compulsory; 4—bar all women's wrestling in the state; 5—provide that one commissioner may conduct a hearing on a suspension instead of the full board conducting it as now required.

All of this, of course, came about following the Harold Johnson episode, when that fighter failed to answer the call for the third round against Julius Mederos and the commission asserted he had been drugged.

Suspension of boxing in the state for 90 days, suspensions against Johnson, his handlers and the matchmaker, followed.

Of the things in the code which seemingly are good, it is surprising that they haven't been long in effect in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere, but code or no code, it still boils down to the ability and integrity of the men whose responsibility it will be to govern boxing as to the effectiveness of the commission.

Girls' Softball. Simpkins girls' softball team, 15-5 winner over Ellenville at Venice, Ill., last night, will play at Springfield, Ill., tomorrow and at Fulton, Mo., Saturday.

Musial Says He'll Hit Better From Now on, Confident of .320

Brooklyn First Test For Cards In the East

By Bob Broeg

Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff

BROOKLYN, July 14—Stan Musial, forced to wear dark glasses like a Hollywood matinee idol to escape Milwaukee's glare, today turned from happy All-Star hero to dissatisfied Cardinal veteran.

"I've got to let out, do better from here on in," said the Redbird star on the eve of the club's third eastern trip, which begins tonight at Brooklyn. "I've hit some homers lately, yes, but not enough base hits. And I still don't think they'll remember me as a home-run hitter."

As the major leagues resumed regular season play, the six-time National League batting champion with the lot of 343 lifetime average was well ribbed about his loyal subjects, many of whom lionized him so overwhelmingly Tuesday night wherever he and wife Lil went in Milwaukee that the kindly fellow adopted his disguise in self-defense.

Further, Stan was reminded, back home in St. Louis there was at least one waiter who had hit 10 pizzas with one guy that Musial would hit 310, 15 with another agitator that he'd reach 315, and 20 with a third that this would be at least a .320 season for the 34-year-old star. And 45, after all, was a lot for a working man to wager, pizzas or pesos.

"Tell him not to worry," the man said, smiling. "I may be getting old, as they said at the All-Star game, but not that old. I'm just under 300 now, but I'll hit .320—for sure!"

Example for Young Cards. Manager Harry Walker, flying to New York on a different plane, was informed about Musial's confidence and determined observation. The Hat was pleased.

"That confidence and determination, and a great star's pride in his work and reputation, are what helps Stosh going at a high level of play after five years of playing his No. 1 subordinate and long-time teammate had been seen climb from a $400-a-year rookie to an $80,000 stand-out."

"You couldn't buy the thrill of that game-winning homer off him for any amount of money," Walker said, smiling as he added: "And that's not because he's loaded financially, either."

The Hat singled out fast fielding in the outfield in left twice cut Walker's praise. "He's got a double likely in opening doubles to long singles."

"I hope our young outfielders saw him on TV," Walker said, "because even though he has been playing the infield, he gave a fine example of what 'I've been preaching'—hustle, body position and ball-handling to come up throwing."

Why then, if Musial again looked so much at home in the outfield, didn't the Cardinals' manager play him there and use, say, either Waldo Moon or Rip Repulisti at first base?

"Because Musial is the best first baseman we've got," too, Walker replied.

Jackson to Pitch Tonight. The Hat, who'll open tonight with Larry Jackson against Brooklyn's promising young pitcher, Karl Spooner, was apprehensive about the effect of a three-day layoff just after the young fifth-place Redbirds had won six out of eight games, their best week's work since mid-May when they took five in a row.

"It's still up to the pitching but there's no question the club is coming," Walker said. "The kids are learning and, I think, believing in themselves. I want 'em to walk into a ball park cocky and aggressive, absolutely unafraid or unimpressed. Not over-confident, understand, but aware they're superior and ready to make darn sure the other clubs know it, too."

"I've heard on that a lot in clubhouse meetings," Walker went on, "and I'll continue to bring it up from time to time, including before tonight's game, because that frame of mind, that positive approach to the game is the Cardinal tradition I grew up in."

"Where else do you think the expression, 'Cardinal-type player' came from?"

Trabert Loses Set to Youth

ATLANTA, July 14 (AP)—Top-seeded Tony Trabert was to meet sixth-ranked Sam Giamalva of Houston, Tex., today in the quarterfinals of the national clay courts tennis tournament.

Trabert yesterday lost one second set to 18-year-old Mike Green of Miami. The scores were 6-0, 6-8, 6-3. Earlier Trabert beat Betsy Grant.

In women's play, Bev Tolan of St. Louis was eliminated by Barbara Breit of North Hollywood, Calif., 6-2, 6-0.

Other results and pairings: Doubles—Knepper-Berg, 6-2, 6-0; Billie-Johnson, 6-2, 6-0; L.A. defeated 2-6, 6-4; Washington 6-2, 6-7, 6-1; Bernard-Sutton, 6-4, 6-2; San Antonio 7-5, 6-0; Sam Giamalva, 6-0, 6-3; Frank Willett, Atlanta 7-5, 6-2, 7-5; Benton, N.Y. defeated Robin Wilmer, Los Angeles 6-4, 6-2; Gary Moore, Madison, Calif., defeated Dave Hutton, Miami, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3; Jack Frost, Monterey, Calif., defeated Don Homberg, Brooklyn, 6-0, 6-2.

Konstanty a 4-Sport Star. Jim Konstanty, ace relief pitcher for the Yankees, was a four-sport star at Syracuse University—baseball, basketball, soccer and boxing.

Raw Material on Cardinals' Production Line

Several hundred boys responded to the Cardinals' invitation to report to a tryout camp at Busch Stadium, yesterday. Here the photographer caught them as they were being classified for individual trial under the eyes of Redbird scouts. In charge of the culling operation were Cardinal staff members Tony Kaufmann, Ollie Vanek, Irl Lake and Joe Monahan.

Evers Joins Indian Force Chasing Yanks

CLEVELAND, July 14 (UPI)—

Outfielder Hoyt Evers and First Baseman Ferris Fain, two veterans who have seen better days, joined the Cleveland Indians today in separate deals which General Manager Hank Greenberg said "can help us win the pennant."

The Indians, fortifying themselves for the latter half of the pennant race and a series opener here tonight with the first place New York Yankees, acquired Evers in a waiver deal with last place Baltimore and picked up Fain as a free agent.

In exchange for Evers, the Indians gave Baltimore left-handed pitcher Bill Wright, who has no won and lost record although he has worked in 16 games as a reliever for Cleveland this year. The Orioles also bought Hector Brown, right-handed pitcher who has been in and out of the majors since 1951, from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

Evers, should he regain the all-around talent he showed with the Detroit Tigers in 1950, his best year, could be of considerable help to the Indians. Only 34, he has a lifetime batting average of .280 in the majors. He hit a peak of .323 with Detroit in 1950.

Fain, who was dropped by the Detroit Tigers, reportedly because he suffered from both a sore knee and a sore head, was signed as a free agent. He received his unconditional release last week after a series of quarrels involving his successor on the Tigers, First Baseman Earl Torgerson, and Tiger Coach Lynn Schoolboy Rowe.

The Indians need whatever help they can get, for they trail the Yankees by five games. This time last year the Indians had a half-game lead on the Yanks. Only one game separates each of the first division teams following the Yanks now, Cleveland, Chicago and Boston.

The runner-up Indians and the third-place White Sox have to worry about shaking off the Red Sox, as well as worry about catching New York.

John Palmer Named Pro at Tulsa Club

CHARLOTTE, N.C., July 14 (AP)—The Charlotte News said yesterday that Johnny Palmer of Charlotte had accepted his first pro club job at the Tulsa (Okla.) Country Club and soon would quit the golf tournament trail except for a few appearances.

Palmer, tenth leading money winner this season, will report to Tulsa after competing in the All-American Open and World Championship at Niles, Ill., next month.

Strike Zones Shrink, Moving Pitcher Shows

MILWAUKEE, July 14 (UPI)—Jim Wilson, Milwaukee Braves castoff no-hit pitcher who returned as a Baltimore Oriole for the All-Star game, said he had found one important difference in pitching in the American League: A smaller strike zone.

"I really had a hard time getting used to it," he said. "My first few games were a nightmare. I'd get the ball where I was sure it was a strike and they'd call it a ball."

He said it was all in the methods of the umpires. "They seem to take a good four inches away from you at the top of the zone and several inches at the bottom," he said. "In the National League any high pitch over the plate and beneath the batter's armpits was a strike."

But the American League umpires will call a ball on you if you have the ball more than three or four inches above the batter's belt."

Wilson has become the ace of the Baltimore staff with a 6-9 record that belies his performance. He has a 2.70 earned run average.

Furgol, Fleck Tour Together And Score Well

MILWAUKEE, July 14 (UPI)—A star-studded field headed by National Open Champion Jack Furgol, in his first meet since winning the United States Open, teed off today in the first $35,000 Miller Open golf tournament.

A $6000 pot of gold and a new automobile awaited the winner at the end of 72 holes of medal play over the deceptively greens of Blue Mound Country Club.

Ed Furgol, 1954 United States Open champion from St. Louis, and Fleck toured the course together. Furgol, chatting about what he said was a "bad press" in the recent British Open, shot a 66. Fleck had a 67.

Furgol said he could not have slapped an autograph book out of a youngster's hand at St. Andrews because spectators were not allowed near the green. He said he never even met the tournament director to whom he was accused of complaining.

"They could make this course a killer," Furgol said, "by spotting the pins. But I don't see any sense in that. That's what they do at the Masters and it's a lot of foolishness. There are still some good holes here, however."

"I'll take a 268 to 270 to win with the kind of weather we had for practice," he said.

K.C. and Cincinnati Parks Big Help as Homer Records Head for Fence in Majors

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—American League batters, streaking toward a possible home run record, are finding Kansas City's Municipal Stadium the easiest park in which to connect for the circuit.

A total of 107 homers have been hit in baseball's newest major league park, figures compiled by the Associated Press showed today.

The Kansas City stadium has replaced Boston's Fenway Park as the American League "hand-box." The Red Sox's Park, in which 139 four-baggers were hit 1954, has been the scene of 102 this year.

Cincinnati's Crosley Field remains the hitters' paradise in the National League with 125 homers. Brooklyn Dodger fans have seen 106 walloped at Ebbets Field while Busch Stadium in St. Louis has had 100 and the Polo Grounds in New York 99.

Athletics Have 43 at Home. The Athletics, making a surprising showing, have hit 43 at their home ball yard with the opposition getting 64. Cleveland has had 12 homers in Kansas City, Detroit and Chicago 11 each, Boston and Washington 10 apiece, the Yankees six and Baltimore four.

The Redlegs have walloped 64 in Crosley Field compared with 61 for their opponents with Ted Kluszewski, the majors' home run leader, getting 16 of his 29 round trippers at home.

An aggregate of 199 homers were accounted for at Cincinnati last season, topping the 193 total for Ebbets Field and the 187 for the Polo Grounds.

The major league home run figure is up to 1269 with 717 in the National League and 552 in the American. At that clip, the existing records for both circuits—1197 for the National and 973 for the American—will go by the boards.

No Baltimore Bombers. The long distance cannonading has failed to dent much of the confines of Baltimore's Memorial Stadium. Only 24 homers have been hit in the home of the Orioles with the American League's hapless eighth-placers hitting eight and all other seven clubs combined hitting 16. In the National League only 55 have been walloped in the Pirates' Forbes Field.

Crosley Field's dimensions are 328 to left, 387 to center and 342 to right field. The right field barrier was shortened more than 20 feet two years ago.

Agajanian Signs. NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—Ben Agajanian, a 36-year-old kicking specialist, has signed his 1955 football contract, the New York Giants announced.

Cochran Opens Door, Then Slams It on Heilemann in District Golf

Wins on Last Hole; Slattery Triumphs

By Robert Morrison
ST. LOUIS COUNTRY CLUB, July 14—Bob Cochran, the veteran artist at getting down in two off the green, made it a Cochran Finish today when he defeated Ken Heilemann, one up, in a first-round match in the District Amateur golf tournament.

Cochran left the door wide open but when it appeared that Heilemann was going to walk right through, the Meadow Brook veteran slammed it shut on the final green.

Heilemann, who won only District title was won on this country club course six years ago, met his downfall when he three-putted the final green while Cochran got down in two for his par four from the face of the deep bunker in front of the green.

Cochran pitched up to six feet. Heilemann putted up to five and then after Cochran made his putt, Ken was short and the match was over. The medal score was not impressive. Cochran was five over par, with 76. Heilemann had 78.

Also advancing was Defending Champion Les Slattery Jr. of Normandine, who won from the young former champion, Don Guariglia, also of Normandine, on the nineteenth hole.

Guariglia hit out of bounds on the extra hole after Slattery had won the seventeenth and eighteenth to square the match. Slattery was six over par in the match.

Slattery's second-round opponent today was Mel Wilke, Glen Echo, who gained a 5-and-4 triumph over Tony Peluso with the necessary distance.

Cochran was off to a good lead, three up after eight holes. Neither man was playing spectacularly and when Cochran began to stray off the fairway at No. 9 where he lost, he was out in 36, one over par.

He retrieved a hole at No. 10 where Heilemann three-putted. "That's my fifteenth three-putt green in three days," remarked Ken. But he came right back to win four straight holes as Cochran bogied every one and thus Ken was one up and they went to No. 17.

There the breaks began to go against Heilemann. His tee shot was against a bush and he couldn't play it in the fairway. He hit a good approach to nine feet but couldn't get his par, while Cochran got down in two from off the green to win the hole.

Then they went to No. 18 where Heilemann hit a great drive and pitched easily to the green. Cochran's tournament toughness that has won him six district titles began to show and when he hit to the bank of the big trap, he still was in a faze. He got his par four and let Heilemann beat himself.

Heilemann three-putted four times in the match, Cochran only once. Cochran's putt gave him a good turn at No. 6, where he holed a 12-footer on top of Ken's 10-footer, each for a birdie.

Upthegrove Loses.
Only half the co-medalist combination got through the first round as Hord W. Hardin, Bellevue, defeated L. J. McNeary, Sunset, 5 and 4. Bill Upthegrove, the home club stand-out, lost to Joe Dolan, Normandine, one down.

The 40-year-old Upthegrove, who hadn't played before in a district amateur because he usually vacations out of town at this time, had shot a steady 75-75-150 in trying for the medal with Hardin yesterday.

But when it came to match play he lost his concentration after getting Dolan three down in four holes and was beaten by very ordinary golf. Dolan was about six over par.

Upsets Galore.
Numerous upsets, big and small, followed the elimination of Upthegrove. Such players as Jonas Weiss, Lou Fehlig, Jack McCullen, Vince D'Antoni and Gene Fehlig went to the sidelines.

Chuck Schmidt, a Sunset Hills of Edwardsville player who went to the quarterfinals of the recent Illinois State amateur, ousted Weiss, 1 up. The husky 28-year-old Schmidt was five over par.

Don Placke, Sunset, was one under par as he turned aside Lou Fehlig, 5 and 4. Bob Sauer, Normandine, was five over in beating McCullen, 3 and 2. The 40-year-old Edmondson was two over in trimming D'Antoni, 1 up, as Vince missed a short putt for a half at No. 18. Bob Hirsch, Indian Meadows, beat Gene Fehlig, 3 and 1.

Best scoring performance in the first round was by young Charles Fawcett Jr. He was three under par in beating Dave Ferrenbach, 3 and 4.

Rodin to Columbus Jets.

COLUMBUS, O., July 14 (UP)—The fifth-place Columbus Jets of the International League today acquired outfielder Eric Rodin on option from the New York Giants. Rodin, 25, hit .336 for Nashville in the Southern Association last season. He became available when the Giants sent Monty Irvin to Minneapolis, where Rodin had been playing this season.

Crazy Legs Works Out.
REDLANDS, Calif., July 14 (UP)—Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch, former Los Angeles Ram star, worked out with the team yesterday, but he said today he still was "retired" and made a surprise appearance only to show rookie candidates the best method of running pass patterns.

These Predictions Are Based on Normal Water and Weather Conditions.

Lower Osage river high and muddy but some catfish and drum are being taken. A few crappie and white bass are being caught below the dam on live bait. Big Piney and Gasconade have been dingy but are clearing. Should be ready to, there are no heavy rains on the headwaters. Middle Meramec muddy from Dry Fork creek in Phelps county. Will not be ready for artificial bait but live bait will take fish. Upper Meramec will be okay if there are no additional rains. Upper Nangua too dingy for artificial bait but lower river should be in good condition below Bennett Springs. Troutlines and limblines are taking channel cat on the Gasconade.

All lakes report increased activity in night fishing. Lake of the Ozarks full reservoir and bass are feeding out in the water weeds. Surface lures are bringing them out of the shallows. Upper Osage arm of the Lake of the Ozarks muddy. Clearwater at pool level and clear. Bull Shoals at full reservoir stage. Norfolk two and one-fourth feet below top of power pool level. Troutlines are taking catfish at Wappapello. Middle lake area will be slightly murky but will be clearer at Greenville Bridge and Rockwood Point. Jack salmon are hitting in the Buck Creek area of Bull Shoals.

Over-all fishing forecast: Night fishing best on lakes for black bass, white bass and crappie. On the streams use surface lures or deep running bait. Only night, early morning and late evening fishing will produce many fish due to high temperature of the water during the daylight hours.

Miss Bascom Scores Upset In Girls' Final

Unseeded Harriet Bascom captured the championship of the Municipal small girls' tennis tournament when she defeated Mary Clemenin, seeded No. 1, at Tower Grove Park this morning, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4.

Earlier this month Miss Clemenin defeated Miss Bascom in the final of the district meet.

Neil Drury, seeded No. 1, defeated Dick Horwitz, No. 2, in the final of the junior boys' competition, 6-1, 6-1. Both are members of the Country Day School tennis team.

In the junior girls' final, favored Erika Puetz won from Mary Bonkrud, 6-4, 6-3. Bev Toland had been seeded first in the juniors but she defaulted in order to play in the national clay courts tournament.

Rain prevented the completion of the small boys final, which will be played tomorrow, as will the remaining doubles matches.

Crazy Legs Works Out.

REDLANDS, Calif., July 14 (UP)—Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch, former Los Angeles Ram star, worked out with the team yesterday, but he said today he still was "retired" and made a surprise appearance only to show rookie candidates the best method of running pass patterns.

17-Under-Par 271 Wins French Open for Nelson

PARIS, July 14 (UPI)—Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., won the French Open golf championship today when he shot a two-under-par 70 in the final round for a 72-hole total of 271.

Nelson, 43-year-old winner of the 1939 United States Open, finished far back in the field in last week's British Open at St. Andrews, Scotland. But he led or tied for the lead throughout the two-day French Open over the par 72 La Boule course.

The Texan tied Harry Weetman of England and Ireland's Harry Bradshaw for the lead at the halfway mark with a 134. He took a four-stroke lead over Weetman by shooting a five-under-par 67 this morning and followed with a 70 after lunch to beat Weetman by two strokes.

Weetman finished with a 73 after shooting a 69 in the final round. Nelson finished 17 strokes under par. His worst round was the final 18. He was the only "name" player from the United States in the tournament. Ed Lowery of San Francisco dropped out after placing thirty-eighth in yesterday's two rounds.

NEVER A DULL MOMENT FOR HASSER, TEACHER, COACH, SCOUT, FATHER OF SIX

By Harold Tuthill

Teaching children comes naturally to George V. Hasser, who has six of his own at home and several hundred at Roosevelt High School, where he is an instructor in mathematics winter and summer.

On yes, George has other interests. He is Roosevelt's head football coach, B basketball coach and during the summer he scouts for the New York Yankees. In between times he has to repair backyard windows which the neighborhood kids break practicing baseball, football, basketball or whatever suits their fancy and the disposition of the Hassers.

The diminutive Hasser, who was an all-round athlete at McKinley, is a pleasant, easy-going, cigar-smoking coach who is known for his uncanny ability in picking out athletes. One of his most noteworthy finds was Easy Ed Macauley of basketball fame and Hasser would almost be willing to trade a leg or an arm for a big league baseball prospect of comparable ability.

Some 10 years ago, when he was appointed basketball coach at St. Louis U. High, Hasser grabbed Macauley off the "B" team and used him at center instead of the other two lechered veterans of the previous year. How Easy Ed hit the top, making "All-America" at St. Louis U. and becoming one of the real good pros in the winter sport, is history.

Aubrey Another Find.

After Hasser developed Macauley, De Andreis, a new high school, made a bid which the Junior Billiken mentor could not afford to pass up, so he transferred his allegiance from South St. Louis to the North Side. Before long George spotted another "B" team player who impressed him and shortly after that Lloyd Aubrey was elevated to the De Andreis varsity and was outstanding enough for Notre Dame to give him a scholarship. Now Aubrey, who just completed his junior year at South Bend, has been heralded as a player worthy of joining other Irish notables, including St. Louis's Dick Rosenthal, a recent Notre Dame captain. Rosenthal was a McBride High graduate.

But the Macauleys, Rosenthals and Aubreys are the exceptions. Many of the high school stars who advance to the college game find the pace too rugged against boys as big as or bigger than they are.

Baseball is like that, too, it seems. Hasser has been hunting "ivory" for some time and takes considerable pride in watching his choices stick with the national pastime. One of the finds that makes George extremely proud is Norman Siebern, a product of Wellston High.

"Siebern is a very fine outfielder," Hasser said. "He was declared 'rookie of the year' at Joplin in 1952 (when he hit .324) and the following year at

GEORGE V. HASSER

Birmingham, he also was chosen as 'rookie of the year.'

Siebern's career, like that of other diamond hopefuls, was interrupted when he went into service Oct. 5, 1953.

Baseball Pickings Leaner.

"I don't want to make the athletes this year feel bad, but there were not as many good baseball players as there have been in the past," Hasser said. "I recall only three pitchers (two of them from Mercy High) being signed to professional contracts this spring."

Hasser then explained that quite a few of the district players who might have turned pro indicated they would attend a college where they could play baseball. "Many boys rightly figure a college education is worth more than the $4000 bonus we would pay them to sign," the Roosevelt coach added.

Although he is wrapped up in his scouting activities, Hasser is anxious to start football work which will begin Aug. 15, just five weeks away. That will be just three days after George winds up his summer teaching job, which is kind of a new thing to him. Previously he spent his summers going to school to advance himself in the teaching profession.

"Football at Roosevelt is on the upgrade again," Hasser said. "My first year here, two years ago, only 45 boys turned out. Last year we had 70. This spring 110 boys signed up for football."

10-School League Now.

Hasser pointed out that with the addition of Summer, Vashon and Washington Tech, the winner in the 10-school league this fall really would be city champion. In the draw Roosevelt missed all of the newcomers and will play the six schools it formerly met in the past. In addition to Beaumont, Central, Cleveland, McKinley, Soldan and Southwest, Roosevelt will play such strong non-league opponents as Webster, St. Louis U. High and C.B.C.

"Last year Webster was rated

No. 1 in the state, Beaumont No. 4 and C.B.C. No. 8," Hasser said. "Although St. Louis High was not ranked, it had and will continue to have a strong team. It we survive that schedule we'll be lucky."

Roosevelt will have eight lettermen as a nucleus for a contender. "R" winners include Jerry Smith and Larry Lee at the ends, Don Varner at tackle, Reginald Werner at guard and Lawton De Priest, Bill Heinzman, Bob Lee and Dean Mathews in the backfield.

"Mathews, our captain-elect, should be one of the best backs in the district," Hasser said. "Dean played right half last season, but I figure on making a fullback of him in the fall."

Mathews, at 190 or 195, will operate out of the T formation which Hasser coaches.

Softball Star Hurls No-Hit and One-Hit Games Same Night

Nelson Hagnauer, softball player of Granite City, last night pitched a no-hitter and a one-hitter.

Hagnauer, who plays regularly with Phillips of the Y.M.C.A. Industrial League in East St. Louis, hurled his league-leading mates to a 4-0 victory over the second-place Socoons at Jones Park. Later in the evening at Jacksonville, he pitched for the Alton Dominos and allowed only one hit in beating Arenzville, 2-0, in a first-round invitational tournament.

The no-hitter was Hagnauer's tenth in the nine years he has been a softball hurler.

Ed R Is Winner Over Harry Lou At Fairmount

Ed R of the A. D. Turner stable and Mary Jane G racing under the colors of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Triplett outran more highly-regarded campaigners in the co-features on last night's nine-race program at Fairmount Park.

A recent importation from Arkansas-Ben at Omaha, the seven-year-old Ed R bested the popular Harry Lou by a head to take the $1100 six-furlong seventh and reward supporters with $18.60, $6.80, $3.20. James F. Edwards's Elliot L trailed Harry Lou by a nose. Bobby White rode the winner.

Cavalleri Trim, a three-time winner at Fairmount and a five-time victor for the year, finished second to Mary Jane G in the six-furlong third race by one and one-half lengths. Then came DeVille, which has visited the winner's circle on four occasions in 1955. San Andres, Tinaja A and Go Jeep Go, three-time victors, failed to bag a cash prize in this race. Mary Jane G paid $9.60, $4.20, $3.60.

Clarence Meaux was aboard Mary Jane G and the victory moved him into a tie for the jockey lead with Rafael Sanabria, who previously had won on Mister Plucky in the fourth race. Each has 33 firsts to his credit.

Hold Tilly, with Kenny Griffith up, won the eighth race, at a mile and an eighth, and paid $69.40, $26.60 and $12.20. Leinad, which ran second returned $28.60 and $16.40.

ANTI-TRUST ACT INQUIRY INTO $1-A-YEAR MEN

Justice Department Starts Checking to Learn Whether They Foster Monopoly.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (UPI)—The Justice Department has begun an investigation of dollar-a-year men appointed by President Eisenhower to determine whether their work is fostering monopolies or economic giants, it was learned today.

At the outset, the investigation will cover only those Government consultants who advise the Administration on contracts awarded under the Defense Production Act. However, informed sources said it could grow to include all "Woes"—those men appointed by the President who work without compensation.

News of the Justice Department investigation came from a congressional source who asked not to be named. It was confirmed by Assistant Attorney General Stanley N. Barnes, anti-trust chief.

Purpose of Inquiry. Barnes was asked if the purpose of the investigation was to determine whether the work of such non-paid consultants is in conflict with the public interest.

"Yes," he replied, "and whether it is in conflict with the theory of anti-trust laws."

Under the defense production act, passed in 1950, the Justice Department is authorized to make periodic surveys to determine whether the administration of the act is creating monopolies, promoting undue concentration of economic power, eliminating competition or injuring small business.

Thus, the department has the power to look into the roles played by all "Woes" who sit in as government representatives on meetings concerning defense projects. Informed sources said that a broader interpretation of this law may give the department authority to investigate all dollar-a-year men since each conceivably has negotiated a contract for defense purposes.

Won't Include Wenzell. The department's new investigation was begun, it was learned, sometime during the controversy over the Dixie-Vates power project. But it will not cover the work of Adolph H. Wenzell, investment banker, who served as a consultant to the Budget Bureau on the now-cancelled project.

While counsel to the budget bureau, Wenzell also was vice president of the First Boston Corporation, the firm that was the fiscal agent for the private power combine. President Eisenhower has said that the part played by Wenzell was proper; that the non-paid consultant did not influence contract negotiations.

The investigation will cover men whose roles approximated that of Wenzell's as a budget bureau counsel, informed sources said. For example, they said that the work of Franz Von Schilling Jr., consultant to the Interior Department on the foreign oil agreement, would be surveyed. Von Schilling is on leave and still paid by the California-Texas Oil Co.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN DEATH OF MAN IN AUTO IN GARAGE

A coroner's verdict of suicide was returned today in the death of John S. Hepp, of Times Beach, Mo., whose body was found yesterday in the family automobile in the garage adjoining his house.

One end of a garden hose had been attached to the exhaust pipe and the other was placed inside a front window of the car, police said. A note was found indicating Hepp intended taking his own life. His wife said he had been suffering from a heart condition and had been seriously injured in an automobile accident 14 months ago.

U.N.'S WORLD POPULATION ESTIMATE IS 2½ BILLION

UNITED NATIONS N.Y., July 14 (AP)—The U.N. statistical office estimated today the world's population in mid-1954 was 2,528,000,000, up 35,000,000 in a year.

Such estimates are revised continually as new census reports come in. The estimate for the Soviet Union was 214,500,000.

ELECTED BY HAIRDRESSERS

Mrs. LaFon Vaneck, operator of a beauty shop at 2637 South Grand boulevard, was re-elected president of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association at its annual convention in Louisville, Ky., last night.

Mrs. Vaneck is the third St. Louisan and fourth woman to serve as national president of the N.H.C.A. There are about 45,000 members of the organization.

as they ran out. The village became a roaring furnace. Many villagers were lucky to die in the fire. Others were chopped up slowly, piece by piece. Mothers saw terrorists slice their children.

In the morning the remains of more than 100 Africans were found. Several captured Mau Mau were shot on the spot by the enraged African police.

The decent people among native Kenya residents turned against the Kikuyu and the Mau Mau in revulsion. The complete defeat will come from within. Already the attempts of hard-core leaders to prevent their men from surrendering has caused a rift in their ranks.

The Mau Mau terrorism is not a revolt for freedom and equality. Initially it was intended that was—biting back at colonialists who held the finest land and resources.

Seven Basic Oaths.

But the primitive instincts of its adherents took over. The Mau Mau oaths are opposite to everything that was fine about traditional tribal custom.

There are seven basic oaths, secret, binding the Mau Mau's bidding number. Every oath is a complete degradation of a human being.

Christians are beating the oaths. That and the obvious fact that men who have broken them are still alive, contrary to the terms of the oath.

But Kenya will never be the same. The leisurely days of colonialism are gone. Kenya has grown up.

TYPHOON NEAR JAPAN, KOREA

TOKYO, July 14 (UPI)—Typhoon Clara moved toward Japan and Korea today with threats of 138-mile-per-hour winds and promises of much-needed rains.

The tropical storm, biggest of the season, was some 300 miles southwest of the southern tip of Kyushu early this morning. It was headed directly toward Korea but forecasters said it might swing East and strike Japan.

Huge Japan-to-Ft. Bragg Airlift Of Paratroopers in Home Stretch

20th of 37 Globemasters Departs From Far East — One Forced to Turn Back.

ASHIYA, Japan, July 14 (AP)—The United States Army's greatest airlift in history swung into the home stretch today.

The twentieth of 37 giant Globemasters taking the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team to its home base at Fort Bragg, N.C., took off early today.

The Globemasters completed yesterday the transport of 3817 paratroopers of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team from Fort Campbell, Ky., to Japan. The 508th replaces the 187th.

Planes loaded with paratroopers leaving this southwestern Japanese airbase at two-hour intervals in "Operation Gyroscope."

In the Twentieth Globemaster were 80 officers and men of headquarters and service companies of the Sixty-seventh Airborne Field Artillery Battalion.

The plane is due at Fort Bragg in 53 hours after stops at Wake Island, Hawaii and in California.

One Globemaster developed radio trouble over the Pacific today and turned back with its 100 paratroopers and crewmen.

The Air Force said the C-124 arrived here safely within two hours. However, the mishap threw the schedule slightly off of killer in the giant airlift.

LEGISLATORS' AUTO PARKING BILL SIGNED

Members to Get Priority Over State Officials at Capitol.

Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 14—Members of the legislature will have legal priority over state officials and ordinary taxpayers in automobile parking privileges on driveways of the state capitol during all legislative sessions, through a bill signed last yesterday by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

During sessions, special parking space must be marked off for each member (apparently without regard to whether he owns a car and plainly marked by name, so the space will be available for use by the lawmakers.

The act authorizes the director of public buildings, Ralph McSweeney, to make traffic rules and regulations, and to appoint a sufficient number of Capitol guards to patrol the grounds at all times.

Punishment Provided.

These policemen must take an oath to perform their duties faithfully and impartially, maintain order, and arrest any one who violates the parking and traffic regulations promulgated by the director, or provisions of the bill.

The bill provides any person "arrested for violation of provisions of this law," or the director's regulations, "shall be punished by a specified scale."

But it contains nothing about any requirement that the accused individual first be convicted, the usual procedure in such matters.

Fines provided by the bill are not to exceed $5 for overparking, $15 for double parking and $50 for speeding, and Cole county magistrate court is given authority to enforce the act.

The House has 157 members and the Senate 34. The act, which carries no emergency clause, will become effective Aug. 29.

Judgment Increased.

An act passed by the 1955 Legislature, increased from $15,000 to $25,000 the maximum judgment that may be recovered in court for the death of a person resulting from the wrongful act or neglect of another, was signed by Gov. Donnelly.

Donnelly vetoed a bill which would have permitted damage suits to be brought in the county where the cause of action arose, regardless of the residence of the principals. This act, now dead, also would have permitted filing of legal actions for defamation, or invasion of privacy, in the county in which the defamation or invasion of privacy was first published.

The Governor, in disapproving the bill, said the present law governing venue for the trial of civil actions, requiring they be brought in the county in which the defendant resides, or where the plaintiff resides and the defendant may be found, did not work any particular hardship on either party.

Russell Aubuchon, 1808 Warren street, was killed yesterday when struck by a truck on McArthur bridge. The driver, William F. Fields, 1002 Chouteau avenue, told East St. Louis police he was driving about 20 miles per hour when the victim, who was on the sidewalk, suddenly threw himself into the path of the truck.

Fields said he thought Aubuchon was attempting to hitchhike a ride, but as the truck approached Aubuchon jumped in front of it. Fields told police he could not avoid striking the victim. Witnesses verified Fields's statement, police said. Aubuchon was 42 years old and unemployed.

MAN KILLED BY TRUCK; THREW SELF INTO PATH, DRIVER SAYS

Russell Aubuchon, 1808 Warren street, was killed yesterday when struck by a truck on McArthur bridge. The driver, William F. Fields, 1002 Chouteau avenue, told East St. Louis police he was driving about 20 miles per hour when the victim, who was on the sidewalk, suddenly threw himself into the path of the truck.

Fields said he thought Aubuchon was attempting to hitchhike a ride, but as the truck approached Aubuchon jumped in front of it. Fields told police he could not avoid striking the victim. Witnesses verified Fields's statement, police said. Aubuchon was 42 years old and unemployed.

Markets Abound in Food Values

Many Homegrown Vegetables and Fruits Now Available; Poultry and Veal Among Best Buys of the Week.

MARK TWAIN said "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it." But we can thank the hot weather for many good food buys this week, particularly in vegetables. For this, there are two reasons. The weather has been ideal for growing and crops are abundant in many fields. The other reason is that many items do not store well in hot weather so prices are made attractive to keep them moving.

Full, tender ears of Missouri and Illinois sweet corn are on the market now at real bargain prices. Eat your fill now and can and freeze some so you can enjoy its deliciousness all through the year.

Home-grown tomatoes are coming in now in good supply and you'll find the prices more reasonable for the next few weeks, at least.

Of course, you can't do anything about the weather but you can do something about lagging summer appetites with tasty, nutritious salads.

Full, white, tight budded cauliflower from the west is on the market now at lower prices. Try some sliced, raw, in your tossed green salad. Crisp, solid cucumbers are in big supply and priced low. Carrots and cabbage are of good quality, plentiful and reasonably priced. Home-grown beets are still a reasonable buy, another vegetable you'll want to use raw, sliced or cubed, in your salads.

Home-grown green peppers, with all their versatility, are available now at low price. Radishes and green onions are still of good quality and priced right. Stable, dependable celery maintains its good quality and reasonable prices.

Trim your salads and cold cut plates with curly, green hot-house leaf lettuce, and you'll still find good supplies of endive, escarole and romaine.

Eggplant is in good supply and priced more reasonably. Okra is attractively priced now and will help vary your summer menus. Vitamin-packed mustard greens, turnip tops and spinach are all good and reasonably priced.

Home-grown string beans are available now at lower prices and real soon you will want to can or freeze some for future use. Broccoli lovers will be glad to know that the fine California variety has somewhat moderated in price.

Louisiana sweet potatoes are coming in at reasonable prices. The biggest bargain of all is in white potatoes. They're in big supply, of fine quality and priced amazingly low. Use them often in many varieties of potato salad.

Now's the time to cool off with watermelon! They're of consistently good quality and priced so low you can enjoy this cooling taste treat often. Cantaloupes and honey dew melons are of good quality but priced a bit higher this week. There are also some cranshaw, kasaba and Persian melons available.

Peaches from California and southern Illinois have come down somewhat in price but still not a bargain.

Many kinds of small fruit such as nectarines, apricots, berries and Santa Rosa red plums are good now and they're priced, most probably, as low as they will be. Seedless and cardinal grapes have come down considerably in price. Bing cherries from the Northwest are big, excellent in quality and priced reasonably.

Drink a lot of thirst-quenching lemonade. Lemons are in big supply and priced extremely low. California oranges are still plentiful and the best buy is in the small size.

One of the best buys this week in the Meat Department is poultry. Chickens of frying and barbecuing size are good buys. Stewing hens are priced exceptionally low and are recommended for chicken salad or sliced cold for sandwiches. The small five- to six-pound turkeys are good buys and excellent for barbecue. Try using lemon sauce instead of tomato for a change.

Another good buy is veal, particularly cutlets and chops. Beef is higher, but hamburger remains a good buy. Pork is easing off somewhat.

Table ready meats are available in great variety and a great boon to hot-weather meal planning. Try some cubed in your potato or green salad.

Canned hams of nine- to 13-pound size are good buys. Use half of it and store the other half in your freezer for not more than three weeks. The eight- to 12-pound hams are unusually low in price for the size.

There's a new fashion in Picnics, those economical smoked pork shoulder roasts with the ham-like flavor. There are four new varieties on the market now and you will find many ways to serve these to add appetite-appeal and nourishment to your summer menus.

Vanilla Bavarian Cream Cake

Pure vanilla extract gives its aromatic flavor to this creamy icebox cake, and to the other luscious icebox desserts described below.

"Make mine vanilla." How many times a year we all say that, and how little thought we give to the vanilla bean that adds so much flavor to our food. Because vanilla is such a familiar product, perhaps you would like to know a little about its background.

You may be surprised to learn that vanilla comes from the fruit of an orchid. The fruit, or vanilla bean, is long and slender, looking a bit like a good-sized green pepper. It is harvested when it is still green, and then it is cured in a dark brown color when cured.

Today the flavor of the vanilla bean is sold almost entirely in an extract form. Pure vanilla extract is the result of a careful process by which all the true flavor of the bean is converted into liquid. The Pure Food and Drug Administration requires that only 100 per cent pure vanilla extract may be labeled "pure." Chemical synthetics, even though they may contain some natural vanilla, must be labeled "Imitation Vanilla Flavor."

Vanilla was discovered by Cortez when he invaded Mexico. At the court of King Montezuma, the Spaniards were served a sweet beverage, which the Indians called "Xoco-latl," pronounced Choco-lat-il. It was made of the pulverized bean of the cacao tree and the bean of the vanilla vine.

So impressed were the Spaniards with the beverage that when they returned to Europe they brought bags of cocoa and vanilla along with the gold, silver and jewels of Montezuma's fallen empire.

For some time Europe continued to use vanilla in combination with the cocoa bean. As with spices, the flavors of vanilla and cocoa brought exciting new additions to life in the Middle Ages, at a time when food was poor.

The apothecary to Queen Elizabeth I of England first suggested that vanilla be used as a flavoring on its own; his idea was quickly adopted and vanilla was launched on its independent career.

Today we use it, of course, to flavor all sorts of delicacies. In the following recipes it is used in icebox desserts, so ideal for midsummer meals.

Incidentally, the flavoring gets a real test in icebox desserts. It must remain fresh and strong or the chill will kill it. Pure vanilla extract is simply the extracted flavor and aroma of the vanilla bean in a medium of alcohol. The alcohol keeps the extract in soluble form and thus easy to use and evaporates quickly during baking and cooking, leaving the true essence of the bean. The fact that the alcohol in vanilla extract evaporates once gave rise to an old wives' tale that vanilla "bakes out." This is not true of the pure vanilla extract. All that bakes away is the alcohol.

Here are some cool dessert ideas for the summer season, all with delicate vanilla flavor.

Vanilla Bavarian Cream Cake.
One envelope unflavored gelatin.

One-fourth cup cold water.
One-fourth cup sugar.
Two eggs, separated.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One and one-half teaspoons pure vanilla extract.

One-fourth cup sugar.
Three-fourths cup heavy cream, whipped.

Strawberry sauce.
Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat milk, one-fourth cup sugar, egg yolks and salt together in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until the mixture coats a metal spoon.

Stir in softened gelatin. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Stir in pure vanilla extract. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks; gradually beat in remaining sugar. Fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream.

In the meantime line a seven-inch spring form pan with lady fingers (bottom and sides). Add half the gelatin mixture. Cover with lady fingers, over which turn the remaining gelatin mixture. Chill until firm and ready to serve.

Remove sides from spring form pan. Place cake on serving plate. Garnish with whole fresh strawberries. Cut in wedges. Top with

Fresh Strawberry Sauce:
One cup fresh strawberries, crushed.
One tablespoon sugar.
One cup strawberries, sliced. Combine crushed strawberries

Sugar in cookies gives flavor, crispness. Important to use proper proportion

KEEP BROWN COLOR

When you cook pot-roasts, Swiss steaks, chops and other cuts by braising, first brown them slowly.

Slow browning will help the meat retain its attractive brown color during the remaining cooking.

Vanilla Banana Refrigerator Cake.
Thirty chocolate or ginger wafers.
One cup heavy cream.
One tablespoon sugar.
One-half teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

One cup sliced bananas.
One-half square of unsweetened chocolate (optional).

Arrange half of the chocolate or ginger wafers, overlapping, in a seven-inch spring form pan (cheese cake pan). Whip cream with sugar and pure vanilla extract. Spread half over the wafers. Top with sliced bananas.

Repeat, using the remaining wafers and whipped cream. Chill until ready to serve. If desired, shave unsweetened chocolate over the top. Slice in six pie-shaped wedges.

Vanilla Refrigerator Pie.
One envelope unflavored gelatin.
One-fourth cup cold water.
One and one-half cups milk.
Three tablespoons sugar.
Three eggs, separated.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

One-fourth cup chopped nuts.
Three tablespoons sugar.
One nine-inch graham cracker pie crust.

One-half cup heavy cream, whipped.
One-fourth teaspoon pure vanilla extract.
One-half square unsweetened chocolate.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Beat milk, three tablespoons sugar, egg yolks and salt together. Cook over low heat until mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly. Chill until mixture begins to thicken.

Stir in the one teaspoon pure vanilla extract and nuts. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks; gradually beat in remaining sugar. Fold into custard mixture.

Pour into the graham cracker pie crust. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Combine whipped cream and the one-fourth teaspoon vanilla extract. Spread over pie. Shave bitter chocolate over the top. Yield: six servings.

Unbaked Graham Cracker Pie Crust.
One and one-third cups fine graham cracker crumbs.
One-third cup brown sugar.
One-third cup butter or margarine, melted.

Combine crumbs and brown sugar. Blend in melted butter or margarine until crumbly. Pour into a greased nine-inch pie plate. Press evenly and firmly to the bottom and sides of plate. Chill at least one hour before filling. Yield: one nine-inch pie crust.

LEFTOVER VEGETABLES

Leftover canned vegetables—carrots, peas, green beans, corn, lima beans—make good summer salads and sandwich fillings.

Toss together with your favorite salad dressing and add shredded cabbage or lettuce, and a few chunks of ripe tomato. Serve as a tossed salad or make into sandwiches.

HONEY DRESSINGS
FOR FRUIT SALADS

FRUIT salads are a natural for summer menus, and with the wide choice of fresh fruits now in the markets certainly there is no need for monotony in combinations.

But to lend even greater variety, try a different salad dressing. Honey has a natural affinity for fruits, so keep a little jar of honey and lemon juice or equal parts of honey and lime juice blended together in the refrigerator ready for instant use.

Or try one of these dressings for fruit salads.

Honey Coconut Dressing.
One egg, slightly beaten.
One-fourth cup honey.
Dash of salt.

Three and one-half tablespoons lemon juice.
One-half cup cream, whipped.
One-half cup coconut, toasted.

Combine egg, honey, salt and lemon juice in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly—about five minutes. Fold carefully into whipped cream.

Chill. Just before serving fold in toasted coconut. Serve with fruit salad; top with additional toasted coconut. Yield: one and one-half cups.

Cottage Cheese Dressing.
One-half cup sour cream.
Two tablespoons lemon juice.
One tablespoon honey.
One-half cup cottage cheese (creamed).

One-half teaspoon salt.
Put ingredients in bowl and mix well. Yield: One cup.

Honey French Dressing.
One-half cup lemon juice.
One-half cup honey.
One-half cup salad oil.
One teaspoon salt.

Shake in bottle or jar to blend ingredients. Shake again before serving.

Some Ways to Use Plentiful Potatoes

Vary Ways in Which You Serve Them to Add Interest to Your Summer Meals.

BAKED, boiled, mashed—is that the extent of your potato repertoire? If so, it is high time that you did something about it, for the lowly potato deserves better treatment.

Potatoes, always a standby, are especially plentiful right now, including the Long Whites from California. So why not experiment with a few other ways to serve them?

From the Old World come many delightful suggestions for cooking and combining vegetables. The Dutch homemaker often cooks and serves a trio of familiar vegetables—potatoes, carrots and onions. This dish, called Hutspot, usually is served with braised beef and plenty of natural gravy. Here is an American adaptation of this popular Dutch dish.

Hutspot.
Eight potatoes.
Four carrots.
Four medium-size onions.
Salt and pepper.
One-half cup evaporated milk.

Remove the thin peeling found on the long white potatoes. Cut potatoes in quarters; peel and dice onions and carrots. Cook, covered in boiling salted water, until tender. Drain and shake, or "hustle" pot over low heat to dry vegetables. Mash vegetables, adding hot evaporated milk. Beat until vegetables are light and fluffy. Serve at once.

Note: Leftover Hutspot makes delicious patty-cakes. Freeze, wrap and store until the next hamburger broil.

Dutch Hutspot

The thrifty Dutch homemaker has a way of combining ordinary foods to make them colorful and flavorful. Hutspot is so named because you "hustle" the pot to dry the vegetables before mashing. The dish combines three delicious, but unglamorous vegetables—potatoes, carrots and onions.

try a big tray of potato salad in the shape of a large ring mold, encircled with deviled eggs and cucumber slices.

Sour Cream Potato Salad Ring
Six potatoes.
One-half cup chopped celery.
Six to eight medium sweet pickles, chopped.
One teaspoon salt.
One-half pint commercially soured cream.
Two green onions and tops.
One tablespoon sugar.
One tablespoon vinegar.
One-half teaspoon celery seed.
One-half teaspoon mustard.

Boil or bake potatoes until done. Dice and add celery, pickles, salt. In small bowl, add finely chopped green onions and tops to sour cream. Stir in sugar, vinegar, celery seed and mustard. Mix thoroughly with potatoes.

To shape the salad, spoon into lightly greased ring and press down slightly. Invert on platter or tray and garnish with cucumbers and deviled eggs. Yield: Six to eight servings.

Here is a casserole that can be prepared early in the morning and kept in the refrigerator until two hours before dinner.

Creamy Stuffed Potatoes.
Six potatoes.
One three-ounce package cream cheese.
One-half teaspoon pepper.
One teaspoon salt.
Two tablespoons butter or margarine.
One teaspoon grated onion.
Two eggs.

Wash potatoes and bake in 425 degree oven for 50 or 60 minutes, or until done. Slit the top and scoop out center, placing it in large mixing bowl. Mash with electric beater or potato masher. Add other ingredients and beat until fluffy. Pile into potato shells and store in refrigerator until just before serving time. Bake at 400 degrees for about 20 minutes, or until lightly browned on top.

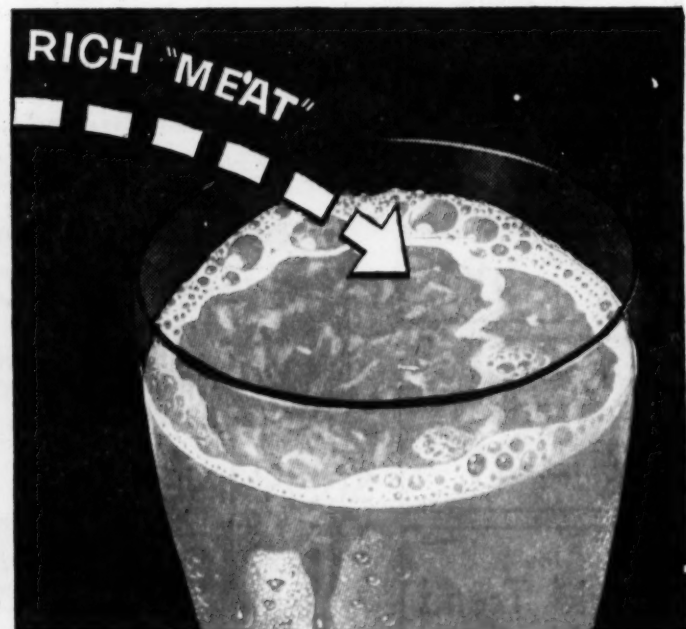

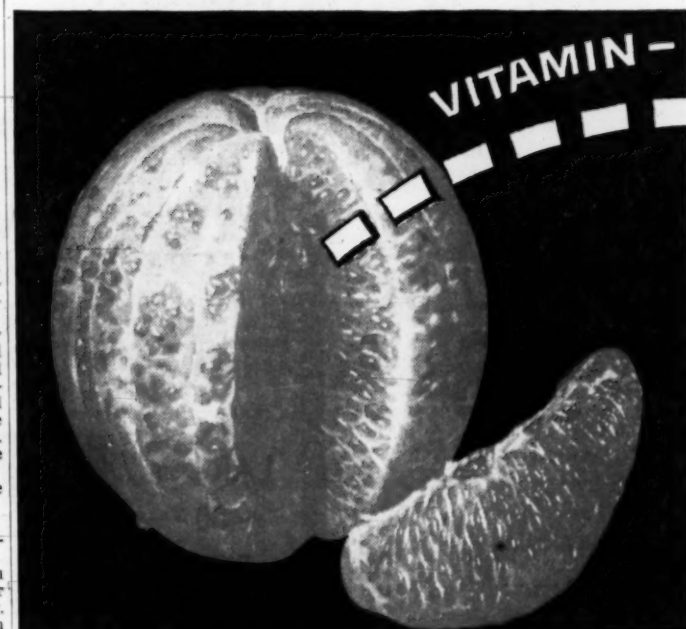

And here is a note to dieters. Remember that it is the butter or gravy that we put on a potato, and not the potato itself, that adds the pounds. To give zest to diet fare, try a light sprinkling of any of the following on freshly cooked potatoes: Garlic salt, onion salt, parsley flakes, mint, chives, basil, chervil, or nutmeg. A tiny pinch is all you need; there should be just a whisper of the added flavor, so don't use a heavy hand.

TEDDY SNOW CROP SAYS:

"My Snow Crop Orange Juice is Far Richer than Thin Watery Juices!"

—that's because I keep the Delicious Vitamin-Rich 'Meat' of the Whole Orange!"

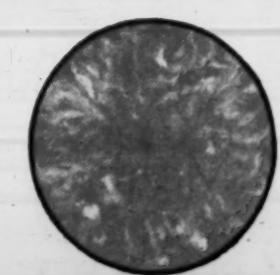

How do you get the "whole orange" orange juice? How do you get all the vitamins and minerals, the deliciousness that Nature put into this beautiful orange? That's easy! When you shop, just say "Snow Crop."

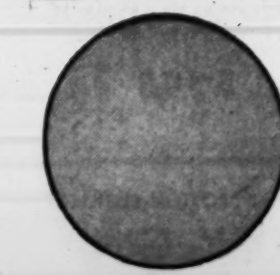

Just say "Snow Crop" and you get orange juice like this—with all these golden flecks of rich, delicious, vitamin-packed orange "meat." You can see with your own eyes how different it is than thin watery juices!

SEE THE BIG DIFFERENCE!

This magnified picture shows you what goes into Snow Crop juice... the whole orange! Not only the juice, but the rich, wholesome "meat" that holds the juice. The rich "meat" that gives you more vitamins—more, wholesome nutrition.

Now look at this magnified thin watery juice. What a difference! Those wholesome and delicious flecks of orange "meat" have, sadly, been strained away. Your doctor will tell you it isn't nearly as good for your children as "meat-rich" Snow Crop.

One 8-ounce glass of SNOW CROP Orange Juice is as good for your health as drinking the juice of 4 whole oranges!

And SNOW CROP, unlike thin watery juices, keeps in the rich, healthful, vitamin-packed, mineral-abundant "meat."

NON-ALCOHOLIC COFFEE COCKTAIL IDEAL FOR SUMMER

Here is an interesting new way with iced coffee. It is made effervescent with cream soda, given added zest with aromatic bitters.

This is ideal to offer guests who do not care for alcoholic cocktails.
Creamy Coffee Foam.
Two cups strong cold coffee.
One-half teaspoon aromatic
bitters.
One-half cup heavy cream.
Bottled cream soda.

Combine coffee, bitters and cream; divide among four decorative glasses. Add ice cubes. Fill glasses with cream soda; stir gently to mix.
Or use cold coffee and thoroughly chilled cream soda and dispense with the ice, if you prefer.

SELECT CANTALOUPE BY SIMPLE RULES

With delicious cantaloupes on the market now in excellent supply and at good prices, you'll want to use them often in your daily menu planning.

If you follow these simple rules, you will have no trouble in selecting superb, flavorful melons.

1. Feel the weight of the cantaloupe. Select melons that are heavy for their size.
2. Inspect the stem end. It should be slightly sunken, smooth and well-collared. This is the "fingerprint" of a vine-ripened melon, one that has matured on the vine and has been separated from its stem with only a slight pressure by the field worker.
3. Be sure the netting (or webbing) is well raised, coarse, dry and grayish in color. The netting should be well developed and stand out in bold relief over the entire surface of the perfectly formed melon. The background between the netting should be light in color.
4. Press gently on the stem end. It should be slightly yielding. However, customers preceding you sometimes have exerted too much pressure and softened the melon with this test, so don't rely on the softness to insure a vine-ripened cantaloupe.

Buy several cantaloupes at a time. They keep well in the refrigerator, but be certain to put them in a plastic bag or wrap them in plastic film or wax paper.

CHEESE PEAKS ADD DISTINCTION TO THIS FRUIT SALAD

Fruit salad is always a favorite for luncheons and parties.
The trick is to get one that has something special. An unusual cheese mold adds elegance and attractiveness to the fruit assortment in this:

- Fruit Salad With Cheese Peaks.
One envelope unflavored gelatin.
One-fourth cup cold water.
Two cups cottage cheese.
One-fourth cup crumbled Bleu cheese.
Two tablespoons chopped parsley.
One-fourth cup chopped nuts.
Two tablespoons finely chopped onion.
One-half cup mayonnaise.
One-half cup whipping cream.
Soften gelatin in water for five minutes. Set over hot water until dissolved. Mix gelatin with cheese, parsley, nuts, onion and mayonnaise. Gently mix whipped cream into the mixture.
Fill individual molds and chill until firm. Eight servings.
Place a cheese peak on crisp greens in the center of each salad plate. Arrange canned pears, apricots and boysenber-ries with scored slices of banana and a small bunch of grapes around the mold. Dainty ribbon and rolled watercress sandwiches complete the salad plate.

A 'REAL COOL' DESSERT FOR A HOT SUMMER DAY

Take the summer out of summer with a tangy sherbet made with frozen concentrated orange juice. You make it in two steps
—but both easy and quick.
Frosty Orange Sherbet.
One-fourth cup sugar.
Two cups whole milk.
One can frozen concentrated orange juice.
One tablespoon lemon juice.
One egg white, stiffly beaten.
Dissolve sugar in milk; add orange juice, concentrate and lemon juice. Pour into ice cube tray and place in freezing compartment until partially frozen.
Remove to a chilled bowl and beat until smooth; fold in egg white; return to freezing tray and freeze until firm. Yield:
four to six servings.

New Formula D kills faster and keeps killing longer than DDT formulas used in other insecticides Odorless! Stainless!

Just press the button... it's easy to direct a powerful, wet spray of REAL-KILL into cracks and crevices and onto surfaces where bugs travel. Actual tests prove that the killing power of new Formula D Real-Kill lasts 22 times longer after spraying than DDT type sprays! And knock-down (quick kill) tests show it kills up to 3 times faster! Kills quicker when you spray, then forms an invisible film that is deadly to bugs for weeks and weeks afterwards.

Real-Kill Bug Killer kills "DDT immune" bugs!

Spraying these immune varieties of bugs with ordinary sprays has little or no effect. But new Real-Kill Formula D kills them in a hurry, and keeps on killing week after week! Makes short work of hard-to-kill roaches, and other bugs that have always required almost daily sprayings to control!

Guaranteed to kill ants, roaches, spiders, silverfish, waterbugs, scorpions, flying moths, flies, mosquitoes, wasps, and hundreds of household bugs.

Try Iced Coffee for That Summer 'Coffee Break'

It is a good old American custom—the coffee break. Housewives take a few moments to relax with the girl next door, wage earners in offices and plants across the land set aside a brief period to chat with their co-workers while they share a cup of coffee, then go back to their jobs refreshed.

In summer weather, the coffee break is welcome indeed if it's iced coffee. The story goes that it was a restaurant man who first discovered that although tepid coffee was pretty bad, iced coffee was wonderful. But the coffee must be good, full-bodied coffee to start with, and it must be tingling with ice to be the right kind of warm-weather beverage.

New on the market is an improved instant coffee, researched for a year and a half to develop a fine, clear beverage with true rich coffee flavor. And here is what the manufacturers of this new instant coffee have to say about using it in iced coffee.

Try starting out with just a little hot water first until the coffee is dissolved, then add cold water and ice. Everybody has different ideas of how strong or how mild coffee should be, but a general average is one teaspoon of instant to the cup. One of the advantages of instant coffee is that it's cool to start with, so you don't need as much ice and there is less melting to dilute the coffee.

For a crowd or a neighborhood coffee break on a steaming summer morning, make iced coffee in a pitcher, using the same proportions of one teaspoon of instant coffee for each coffee cup of water. Put in a little boiling or very hot water first, then add cold water. Have the ice in the glasses before you pour and, of course, serve with sugar and cream.

Another variation of iced coffee which is almost more dessert than coffee is half coffee, half light cream, with a scoop of vanilla or coffee ice cream. Try this on your husband when he comes in from gardening, or use it to stretch out a summer meal of sandwich and salad.

TWO MEALS FROM ONE BEEFSTEAK EASY FOR BRIDE

Whether or not cooking is a bewildering new experience, ideas for easy-to-prepare meat dishes are always welcome.

This one makes the most of an economical cut of meat, beef arm or blade steak. One of these steaks cut three fourths to one inch thick, may be selected, then the steak can be divided in half for two meals, with each portion large enough for two servings.

Braising is the cooking method which brings out maximum flavor and tenderness in these steaks. Delicious, plain braised steak may be served for one of the meals. The first half of the steak is browned slowly on both sides in two or three tablespoons of lard or shortening and seasoned with salt and pepper. Then one-fourth cup of water is added, the utensil is covered tightly and the meat is cooked slowly until it is tender, about 45 minutes to one hour.

The method for cooking the remaining portion of the steak is the same, but with a few additions, it's an entirely different dish—Swiss steak. The seasonings, one teaspoon of salt and one-eighth teaspoon of pepper are added to one-fourth cup of flour and the meat is dredged in it.

Then the steak is browned in two to three tablespoons of lard

ONION BREAD

For onion bread, spread it thin—with "a butter" made by adding one cup chopped green onion tops to one-half cup soft butter or margarine. Season onion butter with cayenne pepper.

Cut a loaf of French bread in half, horizontally. Spread cut sides with onion butter. Place diagonally on baking sheet and toast in a moderate oven (400 degrees) for 10 minutes.

Good Cook's Test.

When you're making up a recipe or trying a new one, taste the mixture occasionally so that its flavor will be just right—neither overly spiced nor flat-tasting.

GETS HOME ECONOMIST POST

Miss Ramona Choate, 6908 Millbrook boulevard, University City, has been appointed an extension home economist in marketing at the office of the University of Missouri's Food Marketing Program, 315 Chestnut street, it was announced yesterday at Columbia.

Miss Choate was a home economist with the Graybar Electric Co. here for 16 months before the appointment.

Registration was held today at Hotel Jefferson for delegates to the annual state conventions of the American Legion and associated organizations which open here tomorrow. About 3000 delegates are expected to attend.

Legion sessions will be held at Hotel Jefferson. The Auxiliary, a women's organization, will meet at Hotel Statler and the 40 and 8 Society, the Legion's fun-making organization, will meet at the De Soto Hotel.

LEGION GROUPS REGISTERING FOR STATE MEETINGS HERE

Registration was held today at Hotel Jefferson for delegates to the annual state conventions of the American Legion and associated organizations which open here tomorrow. About 3000 delegates are expected to attend.

will meet at Hotel Statler and the 40 and 8 Society, the Legion's fun-making organization, will meet at the De Soto Hotel. W. C. Daniel, of Danville, Va., chairman of the Legion's national public relations commission, will deliver the keynote address to a joint session of the Legion and its Auxiliary at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Hotel Jefferson. Saturday a parade will be held starting at 2:30 p.m. from Twelfth boulevard and Washington avenue and continuing through the downtown area.

COURT DENIES PLEA OF LAWYERS GUILD

Rules for Brownell, Who Seeks to List Group as Subversive.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—The National Lawyers Guild lost in the United States Court of Appeals today an effort to block Attorney General Herbert Brownell from going ahead with a proceeding aimed at listing the guild as subversive.

The court's unanimous decision held the guild "must exhaust the proffered administrative remedy." That means going through with a hearing which Brownell has offered the group.

Brownell proposes to put the guild on the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations. The list is used primarily in screening Government workers and applicants for jobs.

The guild contended, among other things, that Brownell had prejudged the case. In this connection the court said: "We cannot assume in advance of a hearing that a responsible executive official of the Government will fail to carry out his manifest duty. Our conclusion on the point is that the plaintiffs (the Lawyers Guild) must await the event rather than attempt to anticipate it."

The court remarked that "one might question the propriety of the vigorous statements made publicly by the Attorney General," in connection with the case. But, it added, Brownell may well have felt his duty "required him to disclose personally at the bar of public opinion the reasons for proposing the designation of a national bar association."

Brownell's first announcement of his proposed listing of the guild as subversive was made before a meeting of the American Bar Association in Boston last year.

While the case was pending in United States district court, Brownell filed a sworn statement saying he would "make an impartial determination on the basis of the administrative record before me."

The lawyers guild at one time had 30 chapters scattered about the country and several thousand members. The court of appeals, without mentioning any numbers, said many former members no longer belonged to it.

MRS. EISENHOWER TO SEE LAKE THAT GAVE HER NAME

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will see the lake for which she was named when she accompanies the President to the Big Four conference in Geneva this weekend.

She was christened Mamie Geneva Doud because her mother, Mrs. John Sheldon Doud, was fond of a song "Lovely Lake Geneva" glorifying the lake on which the Swiss capital is located.

The Mamie in Mrs. Eisenhower's name came from her father's sister.

Mrs. Eisenhower returned yesterday to the White House to pack for her trip. Since June 10 she had been at the Eisenhower farm at Gettysburg, Pa. The Presidential plane will take off at 9:30 p.m. Friday, an hour earlier than previously scheduled. The change will not alter the President's plan for a broadcast to the nation earlier that night.

INQUEST TOMORROW IN DEATH OF SEVEN BOYS ON MOUNTAIN

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. BANFF, Alta., July 14—An inquest will open here tomorrow in the deaths of seven young members of a traveling camp from the United States, who were struck by an avalanche on towering Mount Temple last Monday.

The dead included Luther Ely Seddn, 13 years old, son of Dr. and Mrs. John W. Seddn of St. Louis. The other victims were from the Philadelphia area, where the traveling camp was organized, with one from New Canaan, Conn. Another St. Louisan, Thomas Jones, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKitt-trick Jones, did not climb the mountain.

Coroner John Thompson said the inquest would be continued, following preliminaries tomorrow, to permit witnesses from rescue parties to testify. Canadian authorities said the youths climbed the mountain without park rangers being notified. They were roped together and wore spiked baseball shoes, or ordinary boots. There are no regulations preventing inexperienced climbers from ascending dangerous heights.

COLONEL SUED BY AIRMAN

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 14 (AP)—An airman, second class, has filed suit in district court for $10,000, accusing a lieutenant colonel of slandering him.

John F. Crozman claims Lt. Col. Walter Callahan damaged his reputation by calling him lazy in the presence of another airman, Miles Miller. All are stationed at nearby Tinker Air Force base.

MOVE FOR PRICE PARITIES IS DEFEATED IN CANADA

OTTAWA, July 14 (AP)—A Co-operative Commonwealth Federation (Socialist) demand for parity prices for Canadian farm production was defeated yesterday in the House of Commons 108-10-59.

range guarantees of agricultural prices based on production costs, was supported by all opposition parties.

The dominant Liberals voted solidly against it, following the lead of Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner. He said parity prices would lead to overproduction "that in the end will make the farmer worse off, not better off."

Russian Farmers on Way to U.S. See French Celebrate Freedom

Soviet Tour Group Arrives in Paris Amid Traditionally Uproarious Bastille Day Ceremonies Marking Revolution.

PARIS, July 14 (UP)—Sixteen Russians on their way to view America's farmlands got a first-hand idea today of how much the French value their freedom.

The Soviet agriculturalists arrived amid traditionally uproarious celebrations of Bastille day, the French Fourth of July.

They watched the street dancing and witnessed the customary military parade. They observed the importance the French attach to the French revolution 166 years ago when their ancestors rebelled against the tyrannical rule of the nobles.

The Russians arrived yesterday from Prague, Czechoslovakia, where they spent Tuesday night. They left Moscow earlier Tuesday.

The group, headed by Soviet Vice Minister of Agriculture Vladimir Mazkevitch, will visit America's midwestern farmlands. The delegation is scheduled to depart for New York tomorrow. A group of American farmers is making a similar visit to Russia.

In addition to participating in the usual Bastille day festivities, the Soviet farm experts planned to tour Paris landmarks and visit some of the city's shops before they leave tomorrow.

The highlight of the Russians' French holiday was the colorful parade down the Champs-Élysées. They watched 9000 soldiers march down the gently sloping avenue to the Concorde square where the revolutionaries beheaded King Louis XVI and his wife, Queen Marie-Antoinette, in 1793.

Five wings of jet fighters roared overhead to the delight of the celebrants.

By the Associated Press.

The Soviet delegation traveled from Prague in an American-made four-engine Air France plane.

Delegation members bombarded Americans aboard the DC-4 with questions about it. Was it built in the United States? Was it as big as the Air France Constellation in which they are booked to fly the Atlantic tomorrow?

The group had a great time aboard the plane, studying such things as the miniature silver place settings and the plastic trays on which lunch was served. They were also intrigued by the fresh peaches, which are seldom seen in the Soviet Union outside a few southern areas.

PAINTING HUNG WRONG, WINS HONORABLE MENTION

SALT LAKE CITY (UP)—Douglas Snow, a member of the art faculty at Utah University here, can't help wondering.

Snow, a modernistic painter, entered one of his finer pieces in the Utah State Fair art exhibit. A judge called to tell him the work had won an honorable mention.

Snow proudly went to the fair to claim his ribbon—only to find the picture had been hung sideways and was judged from that position.

The artist wonders what he might have won had the picture been displayed right side up.

NEW WAY TO MAKE COLE SLAW

Try this secret method from Marzetti's famous Columbus, Ohio restaurant. To serve four to six, use a pound of shredded cabbage (about seven cups loosely filled) to a half-pint of Marzetti's Slaw Dressing, available at your grocer's. Shake dressing well to eliminate natural separation in jar.

Pour dressing over cabbage. Stir till completely saturated. Cover, place in refrigerator to chill. Stir again before serving cold.

Try this special Marzetti recipe. You will say this is the best cole slaw you ever tasted.

HOW TO CAN BING CHERRIES
Stem, wash, and drain cherries. Pits may be left in, or removed. Measure cherries. Use 1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar to each 4 cups cherries. Mix sugar with fruit and heat slowly until sugar is dissolved and cherries are hot. Pack into hot, sterilized jars. If there is not enough syrup to cover cherries, add boiling water or light syrup to within 1/2-inch from top of jar. Adjust lids, and process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes.

JEAN ALLEN, Kroger Home Economist
HOW TO FREEZE BING CHERRIES
Stem, wash, and drain cherries. Remove pits. Pack cherries directly into containers. Cover with cold 40% syrup to which has been added 1/2 teaspoon ascorbic acid to each quart of syrup. This retains bright cherry-red color. Leave head space. Seal and freeze. Serve next winter for desserts and in fruit cups. 40% Syrup. Boil together 3 cups sugar and 4 cups water. Chill, and add ascorbic acid.

MAN ARRESTED, ACCUSED OF 3 BOYS' KIDNAPING

Anniston (Ala.) Police Say Suspect Seized in Tennessee Asked for $8000 Ransom.

ANNISTON, Ala., July 14 (UP)—A man accused of kidnaping three small boys here for $8000 ransom was captured by a Tennessee patrolman today in a stolen car, with its nude owner locked in the trunk.

Police said the suspect, Luther James Moss, 20 years old, a Negro, was armed with a pistol he allegedly used in kidnaping the boys. He was arrested at Harriman, Tenn. An Anniston Negro identified as J. D. Ringo was in the trunk of the late-model car.

The three Anniston white boys were found bound and gagged at an abandoned housing project late yesterday hours after Moss allegedly lured them from a golf course.

Police said Moss tried in vain to collect $8000 in ransom by telephone from one of the parents. A posse of 50 officers and armed volunteers searched for Moss near the housing project last night.

The boys had identified him from police photographs, police said.

At Kingston, near Harriman, Deputy W. H. Norman said he became suspicious when Moss stopped at a traffic light, ordered him to halt and when the car sped away he gave chase.

When Norman stopped the car he heard the man in the trunk "hollering for help."

A hitchhiker, a white man, was taken from the car also and jailed as a material witness. Ringo said Moss forced him at Pistol Point to disrobe and get into the trunk of his own car and then locked him in.

Three Boys Rescued After Hours in Hole.
ANNISTON, Ala., July 14 (AP)—Three small boys were recovering today from a six-hour ordeal during which they were held prisoner by a Negro who demanded $8000 for their release.

Although they were not harmed bodily, rescuers said they were so frightened when they were freed they were unable to talk.

A search by neighbors began yesterday when the boys failed to return from a hike. Later, after one of the boy's mother received a telephone call demanding $8000 ransom, city, county and state officers joined in the search.

A posse of about 100, including armed citizens, combed a wooded section east of Anniston last night.

Walter Merrill, an attorney, and W. W. Owens found the boys bound in an excavation beneath the flooring of an abandoned housing project.

"I was searching the abandoned buildings on a hunch when I saw what looked like arms and legs in the semi-darkness of the excavation," Merrill said.

He added that he was about to investigate when he saw a Negro standing close by.

"He was holding a pick and I was alone and unarmed," Merrill related. "I went back to the Scroggin home to get help. Mr. Owens came back with me, and the Negro was gone."

"We found the boys tied with a belt and scraps of clothing. We tried to talk to them, but they were so scared they couldn't talk at first."

Later the boys regained their composure and said they went hiking about 10 a.m. near the Anniston Country Club golf course and met a man who lured them to the abandoned housing project, where he displayed a pistol. The boys said they were forced into a small opening into the excavation where they were found.

3 FREED IN THEFT CASE REARRESTED, FREED AGAIN

Three youths, who were rearrested after a circuit judge dismissed an indictment charging them with larceny from a person last month, were freed again today when Provisional Judge Mark M. Hennelly of the Court of Criminal Correction ruled they could not be prosecuted on the same charge in a lower court.

They were Eugene R. Rodebaugh, 18 years old, and his brother, Charles H. Rodebaugh, 19, of the 1200 block of Wright street, and Walter J. Eley, 18, 1400 block of Monroe street. They were charged with stealing a purse containing $130 from Ruth Marie Burke, 911 Allen avenue, Jan. 8.

Circuit Judge William S. Connor dismissed the original case June 1 after a jury panel selected to try it waited one hour for a state's witness to show up. The defendants were rearrested on a criminal information on the order of Circuit Attorney Edward L. Dowd.

22 MAU MAU AND GUARDS PERISH AS LAUNCH CAPSIZES

NAIROBI, Kenya, July 14 (AP)—A launch carrying 50 persons — Mau Mau convicts and their guards—capsized in Lake Victoria today. Twenty-two persons perished, some in the jaws of crocodiles which infest the lake.

Among the dead was Steve C. Martin, commandant of Mageta island prison, Kenya's "Devil's Island" for fanatical anti-white Mau Mau terrorists.

Helicopter Crashes Taking Off From Port on New York Building

Wreckage of helicopter dangling from fifteenth floor ledge of New York Port Authority building after craft crashed and burned on take-off from heliport (top center) on roof of building yesterday.

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—A helicopter crashed and burst into flames yesterday when taking off from the seventeenth-floor heliport of the Port of New York Authority building in downtown Manhattan.

The pilot and the only passenger were injured as they tumbled out of the burning craft seconds after it crashed on the sixteenth floor. It then dropped to a narrow setback of the fifteenth floor.

Port Authority officials said the pilot apparently forgot to unplug a 30-foot "booster" cable, often used to energize the starter. As the craft rose from the heliport, the cable became taut and jerked the machine down over the side of the building.

Debris from the shattered helicopter and burning gasoline showered the traffic-jammed street below, but there were no injuries there.

Port Authority employees and firemen quickly quenched the smoldering skeleton of the craft as it hung precariously on the narrow ledge above Ninth avenue near Sixteenth street. The helicopter was later hoisted to the sixteenth floor.

The pilot, Marcel O. Chevalier, 30 years old, of Forest Hills, Queens, suffered a concussion and a scalp laceration in the crash. He was reported in fair condition.

The passenger, Arthur Truss, 33, of Staten Island, a Port Authority photographer, suffered a concussion, fractures and multiple abrasions. His condition was listed as serious.

The heliport is a table-like structure 10 feet above the sixteenth floor of the building.

GEN. M'ARTHUR ASKED TO TESTIFY ON AUTOMATION

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was invited yesterday to testify on Capitol Hill next fall—not on military affairs—but on "automation."

Automation is the term used to describe the growing use of mechanical and electronic equipment in offices and factories to perform jobs formerly done by human beings.

A Senate-House subcommittee on the Economic Report, studying the problem, has invited MacArthur and some 20 other top business leaders and government officials to testify at public hearings next October.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Patman (Dem., Tex.), is worried about the long-range effects of automation on employment, business costs and investments.

Subcommittee aids said MacArthur was invited because he is board chairman of Sperry Rand Corp. The firm manufactures Univac, the mechanical computing machine.

Seven bodies had been recovered this morning.

20 ARE REPORTED DEAD IN FLOODS NEAR BOGOTA

BOGOTA, Colombia, July 14 (AP)—At least 20 persons were reported dead today in floods which swept the mountainous Fosca and Quetame regions 30 miles southeast of Bogota.

Incomplete reports said dwellings of 17 peasant families had been carried away by waters of the Saname river. Damage to coffee plantations was heavy.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO MAKE HER FIRST TRIP TO BALI

NEW YORK, July 14 (UP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, who has been almost everywhere in the world, said yesterday she is planning to make her first trip to the island of Bali.

She will be a delegate to the conference of the World Federation of United Nations Associations in Bangkok, Thailand, from Sept. 5 to 11. She plans to visit the Indonesian island of Bali either before or after the conference.

It's a good thing we mothers have CLOROX on our team!

CLOROX® makes linens more than white...

Most mothers know they can easily get rid of dinginess, stains...even scorch and mildew...simply by laundering with Clorox. And Clorox makes white and color-fast cottons and linens extra clean, safer for health, because it makes them sanitary. No other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

In addition, Clorox removes perspiration odors because it deodorizes. Clorox also conserves linens. It is extra gentle, free from caustic...made by an exclusive, patented formula. And Clorox, a liquid, contains no gritty particles to damage wash, washer or dryer.

How CLOROX helps busy mothers give "first aid" to bathrooms and kitchens!

Used in routine cleaning, Clorox removes stains and unpleasant odors...makes surfaces sanitary...all without scrubbing! In fact, hundreds of public health departments recommend the Clorox type of disinfection. Why not save steps by keeping Clorox handy in bathroom and kitchen? See the label for directions and other house-cleaning hints.

You get all these benefits in a Clorox-clean wash!

1. Snowy-white linens... Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2. Bright fast colors... Clorox removes dulling film.
3. Lovely-looking linens... Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew.
4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens... Clorox deodorizes.
5. Sanitary linens... Clorox is the most efficient germ-killer of its kind.

When it's CLOROX-clean...it's SAFER for family health!

Into a New World

One of the first of a group of 66 European refugees to leave the train at Union Station yesterday was Mrs. Theresa Stolar, 74 years old, from Austria. Within a few minutes she was greeted by her granddaughter, Mrs. Gustav Bretschko, with whom she will make her home at 3181 Portis avenue. Mrs. Stolar was among 1200 refugees who reached New York by Navy transport Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pittner and their children, Ronald, 5 years old, and Katherine, 2, came from a camp at Linz, Austria. They will live with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Karl, 3735 Wisconsin avenue, who sponsored the family. Karl is Pittner's uncle. Waiting for transportation to their new home, the Pittner children enjoy their first taste of American ice cream.

The pair, who grew up together in Yugoslavia, were separated when Mrs. Bruder was sent here to live with relatives 34 years ago. In 1950, Schussler wrote Mrs. Bruder from a displaced persons camp, and in following correspondence they worked out plans for reunion and marriage.

HELICOPTER RESCUE

A woman swimmer, identified as Mrs. H. Adrian, clinging to helicopter as it heads for the beach at Scheveningen, Holland, Sunday. Bathers run through the surf to assist the woman, who was seen struggling against the tide 250 yards off shore by the pilot of the aircraft. The pilot, flying advertising banners at the resort, swooped low over Mrs. Adrian and rescued her from the water.

WHEN A CABINET OFFICER RESIGNS

Candid camera studies of varying facial expressions of Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby at special press conference yesterday when President Eisenhower announced her resignation as Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. Mrs. Hobby is the second woman to hold a Cabinet position, and is the first head of the department she is leaving. The President praised Mrs. Hobby as "the best man in the Cabinet." She resigned because of the illness of her husband, former Gov. William Hobby of Texas and president of the Houston Post.

AUTO PLOWS INTO FLOWER SHOP

Automobile which went out of control early today came to rest in Oran O'Bryan's flower shop at 1433 Tower Grove avenue. The car sideswiped another machine and plunged into the shop, injuring the four occupants, who were taken to City Hospital for treatment. The driver was James Tobin, a 20-year-old soldier stationed at Fort Leonard Wood.

Salute to France

American Play Is a Family Affair

By Art Buchwald

PARIS. ONE of America's contributions to "Salute to France" is Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth," with Helen Hayes, Mary Martin, Florence Reed and George Abbott.

We went over to the theater to watch a rehearsal of the play and found the cast one big happy family.

MARY MARTIN AND DAUGHTER, HELLER HALLIDAY.

They should be—everyone's family is in it. Miss Martin's 13-year-old daughter, Heller Halliday, is playing a leading role; her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hagman, are playing walk-on parts, and Miss Hayes's 17-year-old son James is helping to light the whole cast up.

Abbott left his daughter at home. The producer-director, who has two hits on Broadway, "Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees," is acting for the first time in 20 years.

We asked him if it was hard directing for so many years to play a part and take directions from somebody else.

***

"NO," HE SAID, "I JUST HAVE TO ORIENTATE MYSELF. I think in terms of my own problem and not in terms of the show. The only thing that bothers me is method. I'm used to being the boss of the show and when a rehearsal doesn't start on time I get nervous."

Miss Martin came limping over rubbing her back. "My back aches from lifting all the furniture in the show. But this is nothing compared to 'Peter Pan.' In 'Peter Pan' when I was swinging in the air I didn't know what I was going to hit. Once I grabbed a wire and tied up every muscle in my body. I had to have 28 novocain shots. Do you know of a good osteopath in Paris?"

Heller Halliday joined us. She asked us: "What age do you think a girl should be before she wears lipstick?"

We said some girls should never wear it, but that didn't seem to be the answer she wanted.

Miss Halliday told us this was the third show she had appeared in with her mother. The others were "Annie Get Your Gun" and "Peter Pan." We asked her if she liked working with her mother, and she said she did.

***

"I DON'T KNOW WHAT I'D DO if I didn't work with Mummy. She teaches me everything. I cue her and she cues me, and she helps me with my songs. Daddy's my agent and Mummy's, but I've only seen a day check once in my life. He doesn't like me to get interested in the business side of show business."

Miss Halliday told us that after "The Skin of Our Teeth" plays Paris it will go to Washington, Chicago and then be done on television in September.

There was a five-minute break and we went over to speak to Alan Schneider, the 35-year-old director. He directed "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" and "Anastasia," but he said directing this show was his biggest challenge.

***

"IT SCARES ME," HE SAID. "George Abbott has directed about 38,000 plays. I didn't know how I'd get along with Helen Hayes and Mary Martin. But I'm not making it for a newspaper quote when I say they're the greatest people in the world to work with. Abbott understands my problems better than anybody. The women are terrific. My friends told me not to do this play. They said if it was a hit the stars would get the credit, but if it flopped they would say I loused it up. I'm not afraid any more."

Miss Hayes told us: "This is the dream of a lifetime—working with Mary Martin. I've always wanted to do 'The Skin of Our Teeth.' I think it's one of the great American plays. The only trouble is Paris is getting to be too much for me. I'm breaking a lifelong rule of not having fun while I'm rehearsing."

"My son Jim is helping with the lighting and I understand Heller Halliday's been talking to him about it. As a matter of fact George Abbott overheard Heller say to Jim last night: 'How do you plan to light me?' I'm afraid Mary and I may be very much in the dark when the play opens, because Jim seems to be weakening."

ALSO IN THE CAST ARE TWO YOUNG LADIES from New York, the Misses Ann Stanwell and Emily Cobb. They have been following Miss Martin around since she played in "South Pacific" in London and have showered gifts and letters on her wherever she has appeared. Both ladies are rabid Martin fans and when they heard Miss Martin was going to play in Paris they bought their own costumes, gave up summer stock jobs and were hired to play people in the Atlantic City convention scene.

One day Schneider decided there were too many women at a men's convention in Atlantic City, and fired the girls. There were tears and recriminations and finally the director was persuaded to hire them back. It was a great day for everyone and the show again was one big happy family.

Correct Pronunciation

By Christopher Billopp

SO long as everybody pronounces a word the same way there is no trouble. But the trouble comes when two people pronounce the same word a different way.

A person who hears another person pronounce a word a different way will be shocked. He will say to himself he never heard the word pronounced like that. From his childhood he has always heard it pronounced another way. Obviously the other person's pronunciation is wrong.

That will make him suspicious of the other person. He will begin to wonder where he was brought up if he pronounces a word no better than that. The pronunciation raises a question as to the extent of his education.

Maybe he didn't go to the right school or college. Or, if he did, then he did not make good use of his time. The more the matter is considered, the stronger grows the impression that there is no more accurate measure of a person's background and cultivation than the way he pronounces words.

A person may be handsome and wear good clothes and live in an exclusive neighborhood and drive a fine automobile. He may have influential friends and be a delightful companion. His home may be the seat of hospitality. He may be public spirited, charitable and the soul of integrity.

But all of that is nothing once he mispronounces a word. By that simple little act he gives himself away. It is impossible to feel altogether comfortable with him again. However, before dropping him it might be a good idea to check with a dictionary to make sure.

Then what a shock it is to find that the dictionary is on his side. It is he that must have the right pronunciation and his critic who must be wrong.

Hearts and Kidneys on the Table

Two Other Tasty Dishes Most U.S. Wives Fail to Appreciate

By Hoyt Alden

THE DAY is probably not far away when beef heart will reach the same status in the eyes of the American wife as calves' liver, now that it has been revealed that it is rich in protein, iron, phosphorus, thiamin, riboflavin and two vitamin B components, and also when the wife discovers there is only one heart to a cow, which makes them comparatively scarce.

The only drawback to a beef heart is that due to the exercise it gets, it's a comparatively tough piece of meat. But long and careful cooking will take care of this, and when properly braised and stuffed it makes an excellent dish for as many as six people.

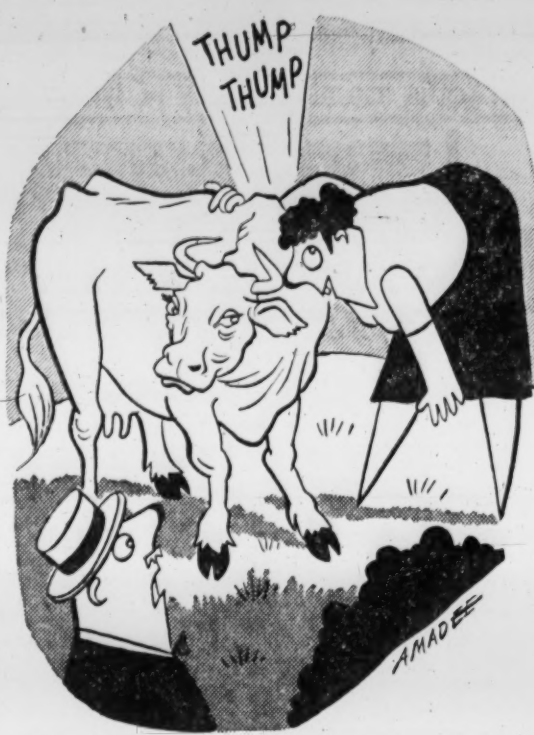

Wash the heart well in warm water, changing it several times. The inside will have some veins and arteries which should be trimmed away. To help tenderize them, it's a good idea to let them soak in sour milk for a couple of hours.

Now dry it well and fill it full with a bread stuffing made like this: Cook three tablespoons of minced onion for five minutes in a third of a cup of melted fat over a gentle fire. Then add three cups of stale bread crumbs, followed by a fourth cup of hot water, a teaspoon of poultry seasoning, an eighth of a teaspoon of powdered thyme and salt and pepper to taste. Mix it well.

When the heart is stuffed, sew or skewer it well. Then rub it generously with seasoned flour, coating it evenly. Then put a couple of tablespoons of fat in a skillet and brown the heart well all over.

Put it in a covered baking dish and then pour half a cup of water and half a cup of red wine into the skillet and bring it to a boil to dissolve all the meat juices. Pour all this into the baking dish with the heart, cover it and bake it in a slow oven. A beef heart will take three and a half hours. Add a little more liquid as it cooks away. Cut the heart in crosswise slices for serving, and a little hot mushroom sauce goes mighty well over each slice.

Kidneys have long been a

popular dish in Great Britain, where they braise them and saute them and serve them in steak and kidney pie. They know a good thing when they eat it. But in this country there has always been a rather widespread prejudice against kidneys, based on what I don't know.

HOWEVER, more and more Americans are apparently beginning to appreciate the dish, since more meat counters stock them, and more people buy them.

Lamb kidneys are the smallest and many consider them the best. Those from mutton, pork, veal and beef are progressively larger. Kidneys are tender, they cook quickly and easily, and they're solid meat. Beef kidneys, if must be admitted, can be a little overpowering, but this can be overcome by soaking them for 12 hours in enough water to cover them, along with a fourth cup of vinegar or red wine. Some people soak lamb and veal kidneys for a half hour or so.

Wash them well and remove the thin outer membrane. Remember that long cooking at high heat makes them tough, so don't overcook or try to cook them too fast.

The basic kidney dish is broiled kidneys and here's how: Use lamb or veal kidneys and allow three or four for a person. Cut them in half length-

Blistering and Peeling Paint.

THIS, we all sincerely hope, will be the last words we have to say on the subject of blistering and peeling exterior house paint. In this series we have tried to explain that this failure of the paint is not the fault of the paint nor in the manner in which it was applied. It is also not the fault of wall insulation, central heating or storm windows. It is simply due to water vapor inside the house seeping through the outside walls and condensing into a liquid under the film of paint.

THIS MOISTURE CONDITION is not easy to remedy. A remedy that might work for you will not work for the house next door. You may have to try several remedies before you find the one that does the trick.

Often it is a combination of these remedies that is the only cure.

Reduce the moisture content of the air inside your house during the cold weather as much as possible by making sure that heating equipment is properly vented, that humidifiers are not turned on unless required, and that steam from the kitchen, laundry and bath does not get into the rest of the house but is forced outdoors.

INSTALL EXHAUST FANS in the kitchen and bath to remove the moist air. Take the necessary steps to make the basement dry. Prevent the moisture in the air from seeping through the walls by giving the walls a vapor barrier of aluminum paint or enamel. Venting the sliding through the use of louvers so that should moist air get into the outside wall it will flow outdoors before it can do any harm.

Every condensation problem is a little different. The people most anxious to correct the condition, besides yourself, are the makers of insulation and paint and these firms and their dealers can offer helpful suggestions in helping you to solve your particular problem.

Secrets of Charm For Curvier Curves

SWIMMING IS GOOD FOR WHOLE FIGURE

FOR CUURVIER curves, the best exercise in the world is swimming. It will build up a small bosom and firm and tighten a large bosom. Swimming is wonderful for the whole figure. Esther Williams is a walking example of this. Her figure is as sleek as a teenager... and she is the mother of three children. If you don't measure up, practice daily the following exercises.

If you're not near the beach, try this at home: lie flat on the bed facing the floor, shoulders and arms over the edge. Now, do a crawl just like you were swimming. Arm over right... arm over left... in rhythm. Work up to 100 strokes.

BUSTLINE CONTOUR depends on strength of the pectoral muscles. Getting these muscles firm, will develop the breasts. It will take at least six weeks of steady effort.

Sit with arms outstretched to sides at shoulder level... with great deliberation, "draw" big circles in the air on increasingly higher planes, counterclockwise. Relax and repeat 12 times. Then in rotating motions, make circles with elbows (arms bent and fist toward face). Keep elbows as close as possible to your sides.

NEXT, SIT WITH arms raised forward at shoulder level—elbows straight, palms down. Pretend that there are two heavy books in front of your hands. Very slowly, keeping elbows at shoulder level, pull "books" toward you. Relax and repeat 20 to 35 times.

Try for a slower and slower pace; aim for more and more muscular tension in the arms and chest. The minute you feel fatigue, stop and rest.

How Much Should You Weigh? A new, lightning calculator that tells you how to compute your own individual ideal weight. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of the Post-Dispatch, enclosing 10 cents (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ask for "How Much Should You Weigh?"

Stucco Siding Cracks in stucco siding can be repaired with ordinary cement mortar, but if the stucco is colored, it's best to use a tinted stucco patching compound that will match the rest of the stucco. This material is sold at hardware stores by the package.

Brain Game

HERE is a "who" quiz. Six correct identifications is excellent.

1. Who led the founders of Connecticut?
2. Who founded New Hampshire?
3. Who signaled to Paul Revere from the church tower?
4. Who was called "The Rock of Chickamauga?"
5. Can you name the Indian who taught the Pilgrims to grow corn?
6. Who was the first governor of Plymouth colony?
7. Who accepted the Statue of Liberty from France?
8. Who was Capt. Charles Sigbee?

ANSWERS

1. Thomas Hoo'er.
2. John Mason.
3. Joseph Warren.
4. Gen. George H. Thomas of the Union Army.
5. Squanto.
6. John Carver.
7. President Grover Cleveland.
8. He commanded the "Maine" when it was blown up at Havana.

Nylon Printed Dresses

A nylon printed dress in an all-over pattern will be useful for many occasions from now until late autumn. Full-skirted models that look pretty with several crisp petticoats are attractive and not identified with any particular season. One style has a wide, draped waistband to give the bodice an Empire effect. Another has an elongated waistline with full, gathered skirt.

Something Special

By Angelo Patri

SOMEHOW there is a notion abroad that candy should be given grudgingly to children. Limit it, it is said, why the grudging, the fearful, protesting attitude that accompanies the "Just one piece now." The one piece is all to the good, very necessary indeed, but let us accept the fact that children need candy in their lives and while holding it down to its proper place, grant it as cheerfully as we do daily bread.

When it is given with a smile and a generous greeting, it nourishes more than his body: It may well be that the child's craving for his bit of candy goes deeper than his stomach.

ROUTINED DAYS ARE GOOD FOR CHILDREN. They give a youngster confidence in his parents and in his way of life. He learns that good comes of doing these daily rounds of sleeping, bathing, eating, playing under beneficent rules. But the best routines become arid if they are not broken occasionally. The best programmed days are dreary unless they are highlighted occasionally by some unexpected unusual bit of pleasure. When mother says, "Let's go to the hill and take our lunch there," that's something to lift any day out of the ordinary. When Daddy says "I've something in my pocket that you'll like," and there's the very ball a fellow saw when he pressed his nose to the glass of the shop window yesterday, that's "candy."

It is the unusual and unexpected pleasure that breaks the routines which thrill a child through and through, and these are as necessary to his healthy growth of mind and body as any other good thing that comes his way. People often forget this and the children, in consequence, hunger for it. They may ask for candy but what they really want and need more, at the time, is an expression of affection for them, an expression as tangible as a piece of candy, or a new toy, or a special hug.

SPECIAL IS THE WORD. The best of food, that good nourishing diet good to the last drop, can become ashes in the mouth of the children who do not get his ration of "Candy," the food of affection that nourishes his soul.

I have a notion that given more of this, the youngster who keeps nagging for a penny for candy, or "just one piece," would settle for a kiss and a hug, some unusual expression of thought for him. "It's special," means such a lot to little children. It is a shame they do not get it as often as they need it.

"Hell," grumbled the Grouch—with which a French radio announcer stepped up and handed him a box of Havanas. "Congratulations," beamed the radioman. "That was the meeziest word for these week."

By Merriman Smith

Fifth installment from the book, "Meet Mister Eisenhower," published by Harper & Bros. The author is the dean of White House correspondents.

NO phase of Mr. Eisenhower's personal life gets more public attention than his golf. He has more volunteer scorekeepers than Ben Hogan. Political opponents count the number of times he goes to the course. Experts write learned pieces about what's right or wrong with his game. Derringer do photographers hide in the rough and attempt to sneak his picture.

Self-appointed political judges at periodic intervals say he is playing "too much" golf for his own political good. Frequently his doctor and his staff say that he is not playing enough for his physical and emotional well-being.

Through the never-ending public scrutiny and criticism of his game, Mr. Eisenhower is like thousands of other American men trying mightily to shave a stroke or two from a score that ranges normally between the middle nineties and the high eighties.

He plays regularly on Wednesdays at Burning Tree, a golf club in suburban Maryland just outside the District of Columbia, and less frequently on Saturdays. As a rough estimate—and I make no pretense at having kept an accurate count—I would say that he played golf about 75 times in 1953. I think the same rough total will hold true for 1954.

The 1953 estimate includes the golf he played in Denver and Augusta, plus his frequent visits to Burning Tree and a few times in the Maryland mountains near Camp David.

Is this "too much" golf? Sensibly, I don't believe too many Eisenhower supporters will be alienated by his golf playing any more than they would refuse to consult their family doctor if the physician plays golf two or three times a week—and mine does. It would be "too much," however, if the President happened to be playing at Burning Tree when another Pearl Harbor took place. More than being too much, this would be rotten luck.

For a man in his sixties, he plays a good game. He fumes about a 95, knows he can do better when he has a 90, is willing to settle for an 88, and is happy with an 86. He hits strong tee shots—200 yards and up.

ACCORDING to the professionals who watch him frequently, his best clubs are the right iron and the wedge. His putting, from limited personal observation and extensive hearsay, is inconsistent.

His conversation on the course normally is limited to the game itself. I've known men who played with him in the hope that some pearls of governmental wisdom would drop, but the only information they acquired was that a par beats a bogie.

Some Persons Say He Spends Too Much Time on the Course And Others Say Not Enough

He plays fast. His speed is increased to a degree by the use of an electric cart on long, hilly holes. He uses the cart frequently for several reasons; one being that it prevents tiring on the late holes. It also lightens the load on a knee he injured playing football at West Point.

THE President doesn't play with the same set of cronies, but moves around through the list of members. His foursomes are frequently worked out in consultation with his appointment secretary.

One week at Burning Tree he played with Representative Jack Westland (Rep.), Washington, the 1952 national amateur champion; Senator J. William Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat, and Senator Stuart Symington (Dem.), Missouri. Another time, he played with Governor Thornton of Colorado (who was one over par with a 73 that day and crowd, "Gosh, I didn't do at all well today"), Bob Hope and Senator Prescott Bush (Rep.), Connecticut.

There are no political lines drawn at Burning Tree. One foursome in which he thoroughly enjoyed himself included former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney, Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews and John L. Sullivan, former Secretary of the Navy during the Truman administration and president of the club. They played on a March Wednesday and it must have taken steady nerves to hit a decent tee shot right at income-tax time in front of the top tax collector.

Burning Tree frequently has been pictured as a lobbyist's paradise, which it certainly is not. Little or no business is discussed on the premises. But there is not a lobbyist or influence man in Washington who would not benefit to some extent by being able to report back to a client that he had played golf with or near the President.

Regardless of where the President plays or who is in his foursome, he is accompanied by the secret service men, who can protect him from everything but par. They'll even help his caddy hunt for the ball in the rough. But they can't help the swing.

The secret service deploys around the President on the course, in front, behind and one or two in the rough. If a public access road parallels any of the holes, a secret service car will patrol this section when the President is in the immediate vicinity.

The secret service men really pay more attention to the woods bordering the course than they do the fairways. To the best of their ability, they stay out of the President's way. Their special quarry is the photographer, amateur or professional. The White House does not like pictures made of the President without his knowledge or permission.

SOME Eisenhower critics believe they can reap political support by storing up statistics to say claims that he spends too much time away from his job.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER PRACTICES WITH AN EIGHT IRON AT CHERRY HILLS COUNTRY CLUB IN DENVER. THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE CALLED THIS A "TYPICAL EISENHOWER SHOT."

For a person who does not play golf, once or twice a week winter holidays on a Georgia course and several times a week for a month or more in Colorado may sound like a lot of golf, particularly for a President. This, however, is like a way of keeping fit. He has been active all of his life. As he gets older, he fears he will go to seed if he has to put aside his physical exercise or restrict it sharply.

His physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder, feels sure golf is just about the best form of relaxation the President can get. Snyder hears the criticism of golf, but he is unimpressed. A leading Democratic Senator privately passed the word among some of his colleagues that he thought it would be a mistake, human and political, to make a point of the Eisenhower golf. This Senator said he thought it was criminal to "fence in" the President and to impose unnecessary psychological burdens. He said he thought the President should get away from the job even more if it kept him healthy during times of perpetual crisis.

Thus the recurrent question: What is "too much" golf for the Chief Executive? The White House does not feel today that the President is anywhere near that point. And so, he will keep right on playing, not when he pleases, but when he can.

IN THE HAND below, South's leap from his partner's one-club opening all the way to six no-trump was an act of unbridled optimism, but such acts occasionally pay off — against certain opponents.

AK106	AK106	AK106	AK106

The bidding:
North East South West
1 Pass 6NT(3) Pass
Pass Pass

Undeniably, South had a good hand opposite an opening bid, but his leap to six no-trump was nevertheless inexcusable. A takeout of the one-club opening to two diamonds or two hearts would have been ample to announce South's strength, and later South should make a gingerly approach (if any) to a slam.

It is true that North's opening bid was on the light side, since the hand counted up to only 12 high-card points, but it was a perfectly sound opening, and indeed anyone who elects to pass such hands originally puts a severe handicap on himself and partner.

West made the safest-appearing lead—his top spade. The Jack won and South tried the diamond finesse. West took his king and led another spade. South took this with the queen, then entered dummy with a spade and led the heart nine through East. (South could not afford to cash the fourth spade because he was not yet prepared to discard from his own hand.)

East could have spiked South's guns by covering the heart nine with the ten but he carelessly played low, and South, in desperate need of four heart tricks, let the nine ride. When it held, he took another heart finesse, cashed the heart ace, dropping East's king—East had unwisely discarded two hearts on the spades—and cashed the last heart. He then led the club nine to the ace and cashed the last spade, and East was squeezed. If he gave up the club king, declarer's queen would be good; and on East's actual discard of a diamond, South threw away his club queen and ran the rest of the diamonds.

1. WHO SHOULD BE MORE POPULAR: THE "GOOD GIRL" OR THE "GLAMOR GIRL"? YOUR OPINION.

Answer to Question 1. HE "good girl" says sociologist Harold Christensen in his book, "Marriage Analysis." He says (paraphrasing): "Men can further higher standards of morality by making the good girl popular. Too often men date the girl who gives them the most thrill, and then look for a more stable home type when they decide to settle down. This encourages loose morals and keeps women confused as to the kind of women men want." The happiest, most popular wife is the old-fashioned good girl. She will always be—and the sooner men find this out, the more popular sheer goodness in men and women will be.

My Day Comment

On Role of TVA

By Eleanor Roosevelt

WITH THE ATTORNEY GENERAL's consent, apparently the city of Memphis will build its own plant and the President has ordered the cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract.

I confess that following the intricacies of the long-suffering Dixon-Yates contract and its ultimate cancellation was difficult for the average person, but one little item of special interest to me. Somewhere I saw that the original plan would practically have wiped out the whole Tennessee Valley Authority idea as far as the creation of power was concerned and would have reduced TVA to flood control and navigation, neither of which produces any revenue to speak of.

THE IDEA behind the development of TVA was to prove that floods could be controlled in a river valley, that a yardstick could be set up, which would lower the price of power, and that a whole area could be improved agriculturally and industrially. Also it was maintained that the initial cost would, in time, be completely repaid. All this TVA has accomplished, together with much more, and it has benefited the area greatly.

There is, of course, much agitation about the return to private production and management of all types of enterprise which have been undertaken by the Government, but I think there is something to be said on two points.

One is that seldom does private enterprise contemplate a comprehensive plan for the development of a whole river valley. It would require great resources and willingness to wait over a long period for adequate returns on investment.

THE OTHER POINT is that if private enterprise alone is in competition there may be a tendency for mutual understandings, which might put the motive for profit ahead of the planning for the development of the area in the interest of the individual consumers.

It may be that in comprehensively developing these resources we might work out different plans whereby the early blueprinting, construction and activation would be turned over for further development to private enterprise. But I think there is a case to be made for our country to take a look at the whole system, which today means that at frequent intervals we lose millions of dollars through uncontrolled floods.

Mary Catherine Wade Bride of J. G. Carson

By Margaret Allen Ruhl

MISS MARY CATHERINE WADE (Toddy to her friends), was married at 11 o'clock this morning at Our Lady of Lourdes Church to James Gilmore Carson Jr. of Berkeley, Calif. It was a pink wedding on the eightieth birthday anniversary of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Joseph E. James of Bolivar, Tenn., who with the Rev. Dr. James, came here for the occasion.

MRS. CARSON... A BRIDE OF TODAY.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Paul Wade, 17 Crestwood drive, Clayton, had the altar decorated with pale pink blossoms and the center aisle lighted with wrought iron hurricane lamps tied to the pews with pink cords. Msgr. Edward A. Rogers performed the ceremony.

The pink tones were repeated in the costumes of the bride's attendants—Mrs. S. Paul Funkhouser (Terry Carson), the bridegroom's sister, matron of honor; the four bridesmaids, Miss Lindsay Falk, Miss Bette Byrne, Miss Mary Rose Driscoll and Miss Carolyn Caulk, and the junior bridesmaid, 11-year-old Ellen Ann Wade, the bride's sister. Mrs. Funkhouser and the bridesmaids wore mauve pink silk organza over matching taffeta, made on princess lines with square necklines finished with embroidered lace inserts. Fine tucking adorned the shoulders and was combined with lace inserts in side panels in the skirts. Their hats were picture models of pink hairbraid and straw finished with pink velvet loops and streamers.

The junior bridesmaid's dress was white dotted Swiss, lace trimmed, over pink, the ballerina skirt held at the waist by a crushed pink satin sash tied in back with a large bow. In her hair she wore a bandeau of crushed pink satin.

The young women all carried pink garnet roses and baby ivy strands in crescent-shaped bouquets, that of the honor attendant mixed with red garnet roses.

Bride's Gown of Peau de Soie

WHITE silk peau de soie was fashioned into a gown for the bride. The low round neck was bordered with lace and the skirt front fell in inverted pleats. Buttoned down the back, the long contour bodice was fastened to a wide sweeping train. The entire gown was dotted with a lace and pearl embroidery motif. The waist-length veil was held by a charmingly lace crown trimmed with sequins and pearls. The bride carried a satin-covered prayer book overlaid with orchids and stephanotis.

Edward Burns was best man for Mr. Carson, who is the son of Mrs. Felicia Carson of Berkeley and Dr. James Gilmore Carson of San Francisco. Ushers were Edward Ring, Richard Eberle, Donald Kueser and James McEnaney.

After the ceremony, at which Dr. Wade gave his daughter in marriage, the reception was held in the Caribbean room of the Congress Hotel. The end wings of the long buffet table held silver wine coolers filled with pink and white flowers while the center section was decorated with masses of asparagus fern.

Mrs. Wade wore a pale sea-blue peau de soie sheath gown; a small white hat and a corsage of white cattaleya orchids. The bridegroom's mother, who came to St. Louis for the wedding, was in champagne-colored peau de soie with a small matching velvet hat and small cymbidium orchids.

Mr. Carson and his bride will go south on their wedding trip. They will have an apartment near St. Louis University Medical School where he is to be a senior in the fall. He is a graduate of the University of California, 1952. His bride, who holds a B.S. degree from Maryville College, heads its physical education department and will continue to teach there.

October Wedding for Carolyn Crego

THE WEDDING of Miss Carolyn Anne Crego, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Crego, 2 Loren Woods, Ladue, to Donald George Brown will take place at 8 o'clock the evening of Oct. 14 at Bethel Lutheran Church in University City. The Rev. George A. Loose is to officiate. A reception will be given later at Le Chateau.

Miss Crego will be attended by her two younger sisters, Miss Marianna, as maid of honor, and Miss Martha Sue Crego, as junior bridesmaid. Miss Valerie Hardcastle, Miss Judith Young and Miss Geraldine Niswonger are to be bridesmaids. Two cousins of the bride-elect, Carolyn and Catherine, both of Detroit, will serve as flower girls.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Brown, 6637 Chamberlain avenue, University City, will announce his attendants later.

Miss Marianna Crego is now in Europe on a trip sponsored by a Wellesley College group. She will sail back the end of next month on the S.S. Homer. In the fall she will enter her junior year at the University of Colorado, Boulder.

Miss Jacqueline Welsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert David Welsh, 15 Pine Valley drive, St. Louis Country Club grounds, Ladue, is spending the summer in Europe. She is touring the continent with three former classmates at Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N.Y., from which she was graduated last month. The young women are expected back in this country in mid-September.

California Visitors Entertained Here

MR. AND MRS. CLIFFORD A. SCHLUETER, 6 Fox Run Lane, Kirkwood, will have as their guests for the next four days their nephew and niece, Dr. and Mrs. Vance Lewis of San Luis Obispo, Calif., and the Lewises' daughters, Miss Linda and Miss Diane. The visitors, arriving here tomorrow, are touring parts of the country. They have just come from Albuquerque, N.M., where Dr. Lewis has taught physics at the University of New Mexico for the last month. He is a permanent member of the faculty at California Polytechnic Institute, San Luis Obispo.

The Schluters are planning a family party Saturday night and an informal breakfast Sunday.

Kennedy-Travis Alton Wedding In Late July

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL FRANKLIN TRAVIS, 2330 Edwards street, have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Kay Travis, to Cpl. Maurice Randall Kennedy, son of Maurice B. Kennedy of Pekin, Ill., and the late Mrs. Gwendolyn Harrelson of Alton.

The wedding will be performed Saturday evening, July 30, at 8 o'clock, in College Avenue Presbyterian Church, by the Rev. Edgar J. Vance, minister. A reception will be held in the Sawyer room of the church.

Attendants of the bride-elect will be Miss Linda Aldridge, maid of honor, and Miss Elizabeth Pearce, Chicago; Miss Debra Gubser, and Miss Barbara Jo Kovikamp, Alton; and Miss Jacqueline Leddy, Oregon, Ill. Bridesmaids, Irene Beach, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Lee Beach Jr., will be flower girl.

Cpl. Kennedy will have Gene Gibson of Vandalia, Mo., as best man, Jerry Young, Oregon, Ill.; Reid Childers, Daniel Franklin Travis Jr., and William Alexander will be groomsmen.

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Jaenicke Jr. of Neenah, Wis., who were married May 21 in Bethany Methodist Church, Chicago, will be given Sunday afternoon by Mrs. Jaenicke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold A. Eleg, 822 McPherson avenue. Guests will be received at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Campbell, 704 Euclid place, from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Jaenicke, the former Miss Gretchen Sieg, arrived in Alton last Sunday from Wisconsin and will be joined by her husband in a few days.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Paul Henry Fluck, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Fluck Sr., 530 Alby street, and Miss Shirley Blankenship, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blankenship of Bristol, Va.

The wedding, June 25, took place in North Bristol Baptist Church, Bristol, with the Rev. B. C. Pearson officiating. Among the guests were the bridegroom's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fluck are living in Bristol where he is attending King College.

Miss Celia Henderson, 514 Summit street, left last Thursday by plane for Munich, Germany, where she will visit friends. She also plans to visit England, Holland, Switzerland, Italy and Spain before returning to the United States in September.

Former St. Louisans Here on Brief Visit

MRS. RALPH E. NOLAN of Washington and her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Roger Wasson (Nancy Nolan) of Kansas City, Mo., both of whom are former St. Louisans, are spending the week here visiting Mrs. Nolan's other daughter, Miss Patricia Nolan, 253 Elm avenue, Glendale. For the last two weeks Mrs. Wasson has been visiting her parents in Washington. She is to be joined here by her husband and together they plan to return this weekend to Kansas City. Mrs. Wasson will be a bridesmaid in the July 30 wedding of Miss Patricia Reedy to Dr. William Flynn in Kansas City.

At present Mr. Nolan is on a business trip to the West Coast, and plans to join his family in St. Louis before returning East. Miss Nolan and her parents will spend two weeks in August on Cape Cod, Mass.

During their visit here Mrs. Nolan and Mrs. Wasson will attend a few pre-wedding parties in honor of Miss Mary Catherine Geissal and John Sykes Martin.

NUSOFT. FABRIC SOFTENER

Keeps Lingerie Static-Free!

NuSoft ends the embarrassment of lingerie that clings or "rides up"—positively removes the static charge from nylons, acetates, silks and other fabrics. After every NuSoft rinse, lingerie feels better, fits better—and you know it won't cling!

Money-Back Guarantee for NuSoft Users

You must be satisfied with NuSoft. The makers will unconditionally refund your money, if you feel it doesn't live up to every word we say about it. Produced by Corn Products Refining, 17 Battery Place, New York 4, N. Y.

Features Handy Measuring Cap

Thrifty NuSoft gives you a full-ounce measuring cap that measures out the exact amount to add to the last rinse of an average wash load. (No waste, no guesswork.) But don't let that stop you from using NuSoft to recapture the beauty of matted-down woolen socks or sweaters—the sort of thing you might wash in a hand basin. Just use less NuSoft.

NuSoft makes a magic difference with no extra work—just add a capful to rinse water and presto! Your wash comes out new-looking, new-feeling!

Towels, blankets, take to NuSoft—come out thicker, softer, richer-feeling!

You'll see it yourself the second you compare the towels you rinse in NuSoft with those on your linen shelf! Inch after fluffy inch, they're deeper, softer... feel more tempting to your hand, and far more comfortable to wrap up in after your bath! Blankets too, have that "just bought" look—and even inexpensive muslin sheets feel softer, smoother, richer! Don't be without NuSoft! When your first bottle is low, get another right away at your grocer's.

Women all over the nation who have tried new blue NuSoft are singing the praises of this exciting product that makes everything you do on washday so much easier, all home-done laundry so much better looking!

NuSoft is an entirely new kind of product. It acts in an entirely new way... to prevent stiffness and matting, to give a new "lease on life" to fibers. You can even "start from scratch"—take all your old things that have gotten matted, boardy, scratchy—and bring them back to thrilling new softness... with NuSoft!

And it's so easy to let NuSoft help you. Just add one ounce to the last rinse water of an average wash load, and rinse as usual. (The bottle cap measures out the right amount.) Then, when your things are dried, feel how much softer and fluffier they are! Blankets become clouds. Sheets are stroke-soft. Towels are deep, fluffy to your fingers. Even denims and blue jeans are soft, easy to the touch. Every fabric you can wash takes to new blue NuSoft—you will feel the difference! From sheepest chiffon to heaviest denims, from baby clothes to deep-pile blankets—everything comes out fresh and lovely!

Ends Diaper Rash Caused by Harshness

Baby feels far more comfortable—even when you wash diapers in the hardest water, even when you dry them indoors! They come out absorbent-soft when you use just a capful of NuSoft in the final rinse water! And naturally you'll use NuSoft on everything that touches baby's tender skin—from sweaters to sleepers, from booties to caps.

Most flatwork needs no ironing!

Things you do iron are smoother, far more professional-looking!

A wash you've rinsed with NuSoft is a joy so many ways! Most things come out of the rinse water so soft, so fluffy, so wrinkle-free—they need little or no ironing! Just shake, smooth and fold, and most of your wash is ready for the linen closet! Sheets are so soft and smooth! Children's playclothes all set to put on again without ironing!

Ironing is easier!

And when you do iron, NuSoft smooths your way—cuts ironing time on tricky ruffles, pleats and tucks, shirt collars and blouse frills—all hard-to-iron pieces. And you will be so proud of what you've ironed!

Pint goes as far as 2 ordinary quarts

Similar products just can't work with the same thrifty effectiveness—because they are not concentrated like NuSoft! Easy-to-use pint bottle holds enough for 16 average wash loads—for just 34¢ a load! Pint bottle, only 49¢.

Martha Carr's OPINION

Dear Martha:
I THINK you'll agree with me that my husband is being very unfair about a matter that we've been quarreling about. A very good friend of mine has moved to St. Louis and she and her husband are looking for a place to live. I suggested they stay here temporarily, even though we don't have too much extra room, and that made my husband mad because he said I should have talked it over with him first. He doesn't mind the man but he can't stand his wife. He won't even come home for dinner most of the time and works in his office instead of spending the evenings here. It's embarrassing to me.

MARIE.

I can understand that you would be embarrassed, but frankly I think your husband had a right to vote on whether another couple would come into his home, even temporarily. That could be a real imposition and especially as you haven't much extra room. My suggestion is to get them out as soon as possible. Offer to help find other quarters for them and if they keep staying on very much longer I think you should tell them that you're sorry but you will be needing the room. They may be offended—even though they have no right to be—but that's better than letting your husband stay away from home because someone else has taken over.

Dear Martha:
I'M WRITING THIS LETTER in the hopes it will wake up some of these women who after their marriage let themselves go and gain a lot of extra weight and let their appearance around home become a sorry sight. Just take a good look at yourself and be honest. Are you still that neat and attractive person you were when your husband fell in love with you or have you let yourself slip to something that only a mother could love? And don't think your husbands haven't noticed it. I know there are children to take care of and you aren't expected to look like a prima donna but you could still be neat. I say this because an apparently happily married man thinks he is in love with me. I know he's not because he really loves his wife but I can't blame him because she is really a sweet person but she looks twice her age and has put on pounds of unnecessary fat.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

What to Wear

By Louise Trescott

HALF the success of vacation trips for women is to feel correctly clothed at all times. Unfamiliar spots are puzzling. Numbers of letters inquiring about climate and clothes for Washington, D.C., and Williamsburg, Va., bear out the statistics which tell of the staggering numbers of summer visitors to these places. Jean's letter is a sample:

"I am planning a week's trip to Washington and Williamsburg. What type, quantity and color clothes would be suitable for such a trip? I fly to and from Washington—the rest by boat and bus. I'm 23, 5 feet 2 inches, 106 pounds. I have light brown hair, blue eyes and a pinky skin."

A VERY LIGHTWEIGHT SUIT or suit dress and matching topcoat (as one of the new resilient cotton and rayon mixtures) make excellent companions for a summer trip to warm temperatures—and your destination is that. Let your classic suit dress or suit be short-sleeved and with permanently pleated skirt. This will do for some sight-seeing in Washington. Supplement with tailored dress and a set of classic separates in cool summer fabrics for more thrilling sights in the nation's capital.

Plan two pairs of comfortable shoes and a hat (your travel hat). You will see many tourists without hats, but it is not correct in a cosmopolitan city. With a little thought a small crushable type can be chosen which will finish every costume.

I SUGGEST YOUR TRAVELING ENSEMBLE in navy with touches of white, your coat lined in white. Use all navy accessories except a spot of a hat in red and red earrings. Select your tailored dress in a navy and white print. The separates might be a fine check or stripe in navy, red and white.

For dinners and evenings in Washington you would enjoy a cool, simple frock, perhaps voile or pure silk, not too dressy, for sight-seeing sometimes continues through the evening. Get this in navy.

THE FEELING OF WILLIAMSBURG IS INFORMAL and resortish. Brighten your city sight-seeing clothes with red and white accessories: straw flats and bag, interesting plastic jewelry, a bunch of red poppies for your navy dinner dress. Forget your hat in Williamsburg.

If you expect to use the pool at the Inn, I suggest a red and white gingham bathing suit and a white box coat, easy to pack. Take two more dresses to Williamsburg—one a pale blue pique, the other a pink and blue sprigged dimity. Not fuzzy, just summer afternoon types. You'll love wearing them evenings with blue or pink ballerina slippers. They will help your imagination run riot as you enjoy the beautiful buildings by candlelight.

Etiquette Questions

By Amy Vanderbilt

HERE is a reader who, while not dieting, is faced with a problem of not eating the food her hostess wishes to offer her. "My husband, my children and myself dislike fish, no matter how it is prepared. Recently a friend of ours said she had red snappers in her food freezer and would be calling us soon to invite us over for a fish supper. When she calls, would it be ill-mannered to tell her that none of us like fish? If so, what shall I say? I've tried to let most of our friends know our food dislikes, but if I told this friend, she seems to have forgotten.—P.E.J., San Antonio, Tex."

Well, it's nice that she has the snappers in the food freezer. She can offer them to somebody else who will appreciate their deliciousness. Of course, it's all right for you to tell her that, much as you'd love to visit her, you'd like to decline her invitation for a fish dinner. This is certainly more polite than accepting and then picking at the food she has prepared with such anticipation.

No Holiday for Ballet Dancer

Elizabeth Mozley Here for Vacation, Keeps Practicing

By Mary Kimbrough

ELIZABETH MOZLEY, who creates dance steps on paper as well as performing them on stage, doesn't take a holiday from practice and ballet lessons even while she's on vacation.

Remembered by her Washington University classmates as Betty Jo Conzelman, Mrs. Mozley came from her home in Philadelphia to visit her mother, Mrs. H. M. Griffin, 986 Poinsettia lane, Kirkwood, and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mozley, 63 Hanley Downs, Richmond Heights. Her husband, Dr. James Mozley Jr., a chemical engineer, came home with her. They were to leave for their home today.

But parties and family reunions didn't crowd ballet off her schedule. Each day she visited the studio of Madame Victoria Cassan, 7742 Forsyth avenue, Clayton, where she began to study ballet seriously when she was 19 and where she served as a teaching assistant for five years before leaving St. Louis.

"A dancer never stops taking lessons," she said. "Even though I'm teaching in Philadelphia, I also study."

In Philadelphia, Mrs. Mozley serves as chairman of the board of Ballet Guild, an incorporated ballet company, and is a member of the faculty in the school conducted in conjunction with the performing group.

"Antony Tudor, who is the Toscanini of the ballet world, came to Philadelphia to conduct special classes and I studied with him there," she said. "His students were asked to appear in three ballets with the Philadelphia Symphony and also in the Cultural Olympics in Philadelphia, so we decided to form a company of dancers."

"We took a three-year lease on a building, scrubbed floors, painted walls and furniture. Believe me, I wouldn't work so hard in my own home. But it has been a wonderful experience and we've enjoyed every minute of it."

The slim, brown-eyed dancer, in addition to teaching and performing, has added a third facet to her dance career, that of choreography, or creating dances to teach to others.

"First of all, I listen to the music we are to use, and see how that music speaks to me, what it means to me," she said. "Then I can start to build a picture of the dance—not with the dancers themselves, but as a composition of lines and movement."

"I don't write it down until after it has been completed. Then I just write it out in long-hand in order to remember it. But that isn't necessary while I'm working out the choreography with the dancers. Memory work is an important part of their training and they can memorize the steps just as a musician memorizes a piece of music."

Ballet, Mrs. Mozley points out, is far more complex than merely learning dance steps and developing grace. A good dancer, she believes, should know painting, sculpture, literature, history and, of course, music.

"The better educated a dancer is, the better he will be in his career," she said. "You never know how some bit of literature or language will be helpful. Once I was trying to develop a thought for a dance and suddenly a little French ditty I had learned back in Webster Groves High School came into my mind. It was just the touch we needed."

MRS. MOZLEY, a Phi Beta Kappa, majored in French at Washington University, but also studied German and Spanish. She was president of Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary society, and was a member of Delta Gamma social sorority as well as Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic honorary, and Phi Sigma Iota, romance language honorary.

Her elementary school work was at Mullaphy School and she began her dance career—even before she had had a lesson—at nearby Tower Grove playground, appearing in several of the southside park's summer pageants.

"But it was after I came to Madame Cassan to study that I really became seriously interested in it," she said. "She is a wonderful teacher and all of us who have studied with her in the past come back whenever we can to take lessons and overcome any dance faults we might have developed without realizing it."

"You can't see yourself dance so sometimes you make mistakes and don't realize it."

"Many people think that ballet is dancing on your toes. That's just part of it. Do you remember the square dance in the movie, 'Seven Brides for Seven Brothers'? That was ballet. A football player, doing a number of knee bends as he plays a game, or a basketball player, gracefully backhanding the ball into the basket are following the same technique required of a ballet dancer."

"I expect to do a television series when I get back to Philadelphia, showing the analogy between the techniques and the muscular activity in athletics and ballet. Both require tremendous stamina and, of course, rigid physical discipline."

Small-Area Exercises

By Josephine Lowman

IT is true that many of the most valuable exercises take quite a bit of space. Even if you have a fairly large living room or bedroom you probably will find that you must push the furniture to the wall in order to execute some exercises you would like to do.

In a small efficiency apartment you haven't a chance so far as some motions for beauty are concerned. But, cheer up! There are others which take less space and turn the trick. Today I will give you a couple of them.

FOR THE WAIST: Kneel on both knees and raise your arms overhead. Keep one arm close to each ear as you bend the trunk to the left. As you bend trunk to the left, push the hips out to the right and sit on your heels. Hold this position for a few moments. Now straighten up, arms still overhead. Bend the trunk to the right as you push the hips out to the left and sit on your heels. Straighten up. Continue bending to left and right.

In this exercise it is important that you keep your arms by your ears, so that you bend your trunk rather than move your arms. This is a splendid exercise for waist reduction.

FOR THE ABDOMEN: Lie on your back, arms resting on the floor overhead. Raise the trunk and try to touch the toes with the fingertips. If you cannot touch your toes, reach as far in that direction as comfortable. Later on, after you limber up you will be able to touch your toes unless you have extremely long legs and only average arm length.

Lower trunk to the floor and return arms to overhead position. Continue. If this exercise is too difficult for you at first, tuck your toes under the end of a dived or under a chair or ask some kind soul to hold your feet down to the floor.

By and about Women

The Dean Speaks Up

Da Vinci's Faces Return

By Adele Starbird

Adele Starbird

IN the Pictures section of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch last Sunday there was a remarkable photograph of Antonio Segni, Premier-designate of Italy. It is exactly the same face that Leonardo da Vinci painted so often—the same beautiful fully modeled eye-sockets, the same delicate plane of the cheek, the same rare sweetness.

Signor Segni is Leonardo's John the Baptist grown older, he is the Bacchus turned ascetic, but most completely of all he is the Saint Anne of the downcast eyes. It is not strange that he can look like a woman, for as Walter Pater pointed out, Leonardo's bright creatures seem not of this world, and are as sexless as the angles.

BUT WHAT IS STRANGE is the persistence of a type, I believe that only in Italy could that face be found. After 400 years an Italian statesman bears a startling likeness to a man or woman of the Renaissance—that, I think, is not mere coincidence. Most of us look as though we were not quite finished, as if the sculptor had left off before the final sitting. But this face has been so carefully and lovingly chiseled that it seems quite finished, flawless and exquisite. Perhaps it has reappeared from time to time through the centuries. However that may be, here it is again, proof of some continuity of beauty in the Italian blood.

In France, on the contrary, a type has disappeared. Judging from the statues of the early Gothic period, there was a characteristic feminine face in France that was pretty and rather childlike, with shallow eye-sockets set wide apart, a little nose, pursed lips and round chin. You see that face today in Ireland or in the United States; you never see it in France. What happened to it, and why? This has always puzzled me, and if anybody has a theory, I should like to hear about it.

RABBI ISSERMAN'S RADIO TALK on Sunday morning, July 3, was so inspiring that I wish every American could have heard it. He suggested that on the evening of the third of July, there be a family ceremony as a preparation for the glorious Fourth, during which the youngest child should ask the meaning of our Independence Day, the oldest member of the family should answer him.

Such a ceremony takes place in Jewish families before the Passover. It is a solemn and dignified occasion, the memory of which could never be effaced from a child's mind.

WE NEED SUCH CEREMONIALS and we need them desperately. Our children need instruction in the meaning of our precious and costly freedom. Indoctrination? Yes, indeed. Indoctrination of the right kind, given in the proper place, I hope very much that Rabbi Isserman's suggestion will be taken seriously.

We have grown lazy. We leave too much to the school and the church. We need to sit down by families, to develop family traditions, to give instruction at home. My quarrel with television is that it prevents table conversation, and that is a privation for the children, even though they don't realize it now. The greatest educative force in the world is table talk. I pity the child who has never listened to adult conversation, and who has never participated in it—within reason.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. The left edge of the page is bound, showing the stitching and the inner cover material. The overall tone is a warm, off-white or light cream.

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

IT MAY seem strange that a statue could serve as a "time clock" of any sort, but it is true. A gigantic statue of an Egyptian king has provided facts about sediment left by the Nile River during its yearly floods.

The statue shows Ramses II, and it was set up at Memphis, Egypt, 32 centuries ago. More than nine feet of sediment collected above the base of the statue. By simple arithmetic, it was found that the Nile River left, on the average, three and a half inches of sediment during each hundred years before the statue was checked by modern scientists.

AFTER LEARNING THOSE facts, scientists used the depth of the sediment to estimate the age of other objects. A stone tool or weapon found at a depth of 27 feet, for example, would have an estimated age of 9257 years.

That time clock is good for objects found in the Memphis area of the Nile valley. It may be in error for other parts of the valley, since the amount of mud and other material dropped by the floods must have differed in various places.

Another time clock exists at Niagara Falls. Through thousands of years, the Niagara River has been producing a gorge. The gorge now is seven miles long, and the question is, "How long has it taken for the gorge to be formed?"

HISTORIC RECORDS have given some facts during the past century. It is figured that the falls have moved back (due to the wearing away, cracking and tumbling of rock) at an average rate of three feet and five inches a year. With that rate, a seven-mile gorge would form in about 10,800 years. The Niagara time clock may tell the facts in a rough way,

Hot, but It's Better Than a Year Ago

Last night's average temperature, 79.7 degrees, served as a reminder that a year ago today the mercury rose to 112.3, highest in the 119 years of recorded weather history here. Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said the present hot weather will continue through Saturday with no real relief in sight.

Temperatures on this date last year were 115 at the Lambert-St. Louis weather station and 117 in Webster Groves, Wahlgren said. Yesterday was the fifteenth day this year with a high in St. Louis of 90 degrees or more. There were 30 such days by this time last year, 39 in 1953 and 36 in 1952.

Minimums in Missouri early today ranged from 67 at Kirksville and Butler to 77 in downtown St. Louis and at the airport. They varied in the nation from 37 at Fraser, Colo., to 84 at Yuma, Ariz. Yesterday's high was 108 at El Centro, Thermal and Fresno, Calif.

Heaviest rainfall in the 24-hour period ending this morning totaled 1.34 inches at Jackson, Miss., and 1.07 at Mobile, Ala., the Weather Bureau reported. In St. Louis precipitation for the year remained at 16.06 inches as compared with normal, 21.1, although traces of rain fell downtown St. Louis and at the airport, and .08 of an inch was recorded at Lambert field.
